Nebraska is Freed of Bovine Tuberculosis

Department of Agriculture and Inspection Announces All Counties Now Cleared Up.

The Department of Agriculture and Inspection is now pleased that Nebraska is completely accredited as free of Bovine Tuberculosis. This achievement will remove all handicap from the Nebraska products especially the butter market in Chicago, action of which was taken by the Department of Agriculture and Inspection with the board of health of Chicago to have this restriction raised.

Furthermore, restrictions on shipping feeder cattle into Iowa, Illinois and other states will soon be removed and a certificate to that effect has been certified to secretaries of agriculture of these different states.

The state has gone through the most intensive testing program in its history. For the last twelve years this work has been carried on in Nebraska by appropriation made by the Nebraska legislature and aided by the government by them providing additional funds to bring every county in the state under inspection.

This accomplishment is not to be accredited to any one individual but is accredited to the good judgment of the different legislature since 1923, who have supported the program of appropriations for the eradication of tuberculosis in cattle. Valuable support has been given in the past by ex-governors McMullen and Weaver, and by Governor Cochran, the present executive, who has been a very willing supporter of this activity.

The last legislature appropriated $100,000 for finishing this work and the governor, in addition thereto, gave his consent to set up a larger amount of this money for immediate action so that Nebraska cattle and Nebraska dairy products could take their place in the markets of the world in competition with the activities of other states.

SEEKING NEW TALENT FOR SCREEN

By D. W. BAIRD

Every year thousands of people go to Hollywood in hopes of getting into the movies or other professional work. Many of these thousands save their dollars for years to make this trip and, after a few weeks or months, find themselves penniless and heartily discouraged. Many young and beautiful girls and splendid examples of young manhood who go to Hollywood, not only never succeed in getting professional work, but never return to their homes. They become "drifters" drifting from adventure to adventure, and unite themselves for success in any endeavor.

Many persons who find only failure might be successful if proper presentation of that person had been made at just the right time and had been preceded by the right kind of high class publicity program built for and around his or her particular type. The professionals of radio, stage and screen are constantly searching for new stars. There is always an urgent demand for new faces and characters of all types, but the most talented individual, without a publicity background and management, has no chance of presenting himself or of gaining recognition.

Success and stardom are not acquired by chance or ability alone, but are the direct result of a carefully planned and executed campaign designed to prepare a subject for presentation when an opening occurs for his or her particular type. Without this planned program the great majority of those who go to Hollywood for the purpose of entering the movies are destined to the route of almost unendurable hardships, heartaches and temptations, which often ends in wrecked lives.

Voice and Film Tests Made Free.

In order that many talented, young and beautiful people may avoid these pitfalls many of the big producers are sponsoring small production units throughout the country, whose duty it is to produce short length motion picture plays in the smaller communities; these units are equipped with the latest, most compact camera and sound equipment, which enables them to not only film, but record the voices of talented people in the community. At the same time affording the local people an opportunity of seeing how sound pictures are actually produced, of course, using the local cast.

There is no charge for this service for those who participate in the filming, and should some unusual type or personality be discovered, their voice and film test is immediately forwarded to Hollywood for possible consideration of the major producers, who have provided a Library of Talent, where invited persons can be represented in Hollywood while they enjoy the security of their own residence.

The desire of the Screen Library for Talent is not alone beauty, but type. The unusually fat man or woman, the lean or lank, the mid-gut, the singer, the dancer, the oviator, the funny or the serious—all have an equal chance of capitalizing on their qualifications.

In participating in the local movies, which will be filmed in this city, and providing you have the ability required, your indulgence in this local attraction will make it possible for you to be made available when the call is issued for your particular type. For the movies can only be interested in you when they need someone like you.

Unusual Talent Discovered.

May we at this time call your attention to the Major Bowes, Kate Smith and other amateur hours that are being featured from week to week over national radio hook-ups. These contests are held in New York, Philadelphia and other metropolitan cities throughout the nation, and you must admit, if you have listened to these programs, that many talented individuals have been found. The motion picture industry is going a step farther, in seeking new talent. Instead of confining our activities to the larger cities, there are now approximately fifteen traveling units giving the people of the smaller communities a chance to display their ability.

You are sincerely requested to consider this carefully and remember that Buddy Rogers, Clair Windsor, the Gish Sisters, Will Rogers, Virginia Bruce, Ann Harding, Kate Smith, Jack Oakie and many others were found in smaller towns.

Mark O. Kimberling

Col. Norman Schwarzkopf

Reverberations of the Hauptmann case were felt in the newest political development in New Jersey when Gov. Harold Hoffman recommended Mark O. Kimberling, top warden of the state prison at Trenton, to succeed Col. Norman Schwarzkopf as head of the state police. Schwarzkopf and Hoffman were believed to have "fallen out" over differences of opinion stirred up during the Hauptmann reprieve incident in which Kimberling stood by Hoffman.

MOths WORK THRU WINTER

Ithaca, N. Y.—Studies indicating that common clothes moths will work all winter in air conditioned buildings were announced at Cornell university. Ordinarily they work only in spring and summer. The reason is the pleasing humidity which air conditioning can substitute for the somewhat dry air of ordinary winter heating.

Drs. Grace H. Griswold and Mary F. Crowell, who are nationally known for their studies of the clothes moths, have proved that this insect is able to breed during every month of the year. They found moths in well heated houses at all seasons. Their latest investigation was to find out why moths appear in the greatest numbers in spring and summer. They discovered that humidity plays an important role.

Predict Public Debt will Run Near 34 Billion

Treasury Experts Estimate Amount on Basis of Bonus Payments This Month.

Washington.—Carefully gauging the amount to be paid on the bonus this month, treasury experts estimated the fiscal year would close June 30 with the public debt a few millions short of 34 billions.

They figured that of 3,500,000 veterans eligible for the bonus, some 2,500,000 would receive their checks and bonds during the last two weeks of June, involving an outlay of 1.7 billions. This would be reflected also in the deficit.

They declined to hazard an opinion as to what the latter figure might be. However, at the close of business June 1, it stood at $2,969,000,000. Adding 1.7 billions to that figure produced a sum of 3.6 billions. This would be increased by the amount that June expenditures exceed June revenues.

The public debt on June 1, stood at $31,635,000,000 and in reaching the 34 billion figure for the end of the fiscal year the treasury official added to it, in addition to the bonus cost, a billion to be borrowed in new cash June 15, and 250 millions to be borrowed by the weekly sale of treasury bills. The whole would add up to $34,586,000,000. From this must be deducted an expected 600 millions in bonus bonds cashed, leaving a net figure of $33,986,000,000.

As the bonds go out to the veterans, accompanied by checks for odd amounts, the transaction is to be charged upon the treasury books in two ways, as a cash expenditure and as an increase in the public debt.

The latest conversion of the bonds into cash will be treated as an operation for the retirement of that much of the public debt, thus cancelling one of the two entries made when the bonds are sent out to the veterans. It is expected that some 500 to 600 millions will be so treated this month.

If the debt reaches the nearly 34 billions figure predicted for June 30, it will stand at a peak of 5.3 billions above the 28.7 billion point at which the fiscal year began. For the year thus far, it has increased $2,934,000,000.

COTTON IS HIT BY DROUGHT

Atlanta.—Drought threatened to help settle the cotton surplus problem the hard way.

Commission house buyers said a record 50 day dry spell in the southeast might accomplish what formal crop curtailment programs had failed to do—create normal trade channels for approximately 3½ million bales held by the government. That is the average annual production of the four states hardest hit by the drought—Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas.

Weather beaten farmers hoped, however, that rains would come soon to restore life to their dusty fields. Meteorologists agreed that abundant moisture within the next few days would save much of the cotton and other crops of tobacco, corn, hay, fruits and truck. While the drought went into its eighth week, southern congressmen launched a movement in Washington to obtain quick federal aid for stricken farmers.

SAYS IT'S WOMEN WHO PAY

Chicago.—Women investors of the nation were urged by Miss Catherine Curtis of New York to "mobilize until they are a million strong" in a movement to protect their investments.

Miss Curtis, organizer and national director of Women Investors in America, told the first finance congress of women that women spend 85 per cent of the consumer's dollar and pay huge sums in federal taxes but have little realization of their financial strength.

She described her organization as nonpartisan, nonsubsidized and non-political. It's aim, she told the several hundred present, was to make women "money conscious and tax conscious."

Twenty-five became second lieutenants in the marine corps. Admiral William H. Standley, chief of naval operations, and acting secretary of the navy, presented the diplomas to the graduates.
