Home From Iowa Visit.

Alex Mitchell who has been at Greene, Iowa, in Butler county, the place where he spent his boyhood and where he resided for many years, being a guest of a niece, Mrs. Laura McVey and visiting with many old timers there, returned home last Sunday. He lived there some fifty years ago and finds many changes since he left, but also found many people he knew when there. He went swimming in the old swimming hole, but it was only a little place compared with the former size, for the weather has been dry there as well as here.

The Maxwell House Plane.

Good to the last drop. The boys, or perhaps we had better call them young men, have been devoting some time of late to the reconditioning of the Maxwell House, the airplane, and getting it back to gether in shape to run again. We are a great admirer of the boys for their pluck and stick-to-it-ness and are sure they will win in the end. The plane is now about ready for another trial, but just how soon they will make the attempt is not yet known. When they do we are hoping they will succeed and believe they will, notwithstanding "the last drop."

Visited Here Last Week.

Emil Meyers and wife, the latter a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gillett and the children were spending last week in Elmwood visiting at the Frank Gillett home, and enjoyed the visit very much. The Meyers family visited the week before at Sioux City, Iowa and a number of towns east of there.

Seventy Years Young.

Albert Theil, sr., father of Mrs. Emil Rosenow, was passing his 71st birthday on July 22, but in order to properly celebrate the occasion the children and other relatives gathered at the home south of Elmwood last Sunday and with an abundance of good things to eat, brought with them sure had a good time.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Rosenow, Wm. Gaubitz and family, the latter of Avoca; V. Hill and family, Elmwood; J. F. Gustin and family and Albert Theil, jr., and family of Murdock; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd H. Hoover and wife, Otto Shuts and family and Miss Vera Baker, housekeeper for Mr. Theil.

Attended Silver Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wocholtz living in Pierce county, were married twenty-five years ago last Friday and as a proper way of celebrating the occasion they had a gathering at their home and thus entertained their relatives and friends. Those from this vicinity to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Rosenow and Albert Theil, sr., of Elmwood; Wm. Gaubitz and family of Avoca; Albert Theil, jr., and family of Murdock. They report a large crowd and a good time with much to eat.

Men are working on the beautifying of the grounds at the intersection of Highways 1 and 34 two miles south of Elmwood and while it takes a good deal of work, the place is going to reflect the work given it and will assist in advertising eastern Nebraska.

Mr. I. T. Callister, of the A. W. Farney Co., returned Friday evening from a combined business and vacation trip in the east and which was largely spent in Wilmington, Delaware and in New York state. He has had a very pleasant trip and is now back on the job greatly refreshed from the outing.

Mrs. Don C. Rhoden left Sunday via auto for a trip to Illinois, where they will visit at the home of her parents who reside there. They are expecting to be away for about ten days.

A goodly portion of the roof of the Lundberg garage was dislodged and blown off by the hard winds of last Sunday night. There was no fear of getting the place wet as all were satisfied it would not rain.

W. O. Troop has prepared the ground and is seeding one-half acre of turnips and all who want a turnip can call on him for one free. However, he is expecting to find a good deal of feed for the stock out of the crop.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Troop and son Tommy were at Nebraska City last Saturday, where they looked after business matters and also found time to attend the show which was one of the main events in the Otoe county seat town that day.

Victor Wehrlein, who has just concluded the harvesting, threshing and delivery of his wheat to the elevator has found that the grain averaged just 40 bushels to the acre and like others graded very high, testing 65 pounds to the bushel.

Miss Ruth Palmer, who is attending the summer school at the University of Nebraska, where she is now in her second year, taking a teachers' training course, visited at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Palmer, over the weekend.

Charles D. St. John departed last week for Otis, Colorado, where he will spend some time at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William August and family. The August family, who having been living at Lamar, Nebraska, have just recently moved to Otis, Colorado, to reside.

Mrs. Honor Allen, of Los Angeles, a sister of Mrs. Mark Burton, has been visiting in Nehawka for some time past as a guest at the Burton home and last Sunday night the Burton family and their guests and Mr. and Mrs. Grover Hoback and their son were over to Nebraska City, at which place they attended a show.

Threshing, which has been in progress for the past two or three weeks, is about concluded and all are well pleased that it has gotten along so well and also with the excellent quality of the wheat and the good yields which have marked the harvest and the very fair price which the farmer is receiving for his grain.

R. M. Chriswiser, who has been staying with his mother, Martha Chriswiser at Plattsmouth for the past several months, has been in Nehawka the past three weeks assisting his brother, Ray Chriswiser in completing his harvest work, and after finishing the task, has returned to Plattsmouth, where he is again staying with the mother.

Are Drilling Oil Well

Will August, who moved to Otis,

Colorado, last year, making the purchase of land there, writes that just adjacent to his holdings there is an oil well being sunk at this time, and the drillers are now down some 3,700 feet with good prospects of striking oil very soon. Should oil be struck there, the farm which Mr. August has just recently acquired would become very valuable.

Played Him a Prank

At the home of Raymond C. Polard, where there are a large number of giant trees, the wind made havoc of them last Sunday evening and almost shut him in from the outside world. Now he is wanting to give the wood in the broken limbs and tree trunks away to some one who will come and get it.

Turned Light into Darkness

While the sudden wind stirred up much dust, so much in fact that it became dark, not only this but the lights were put out and did not come on again for some time leaving Nehawka in darkness, reminding the older residents of the times when there were no street lights and the residences and places of business were lighted by candles and coal oil lamps.

Taking Outing in Mountains

Walter J. Wunderlich and wife and their son, Jack, departed last Wednesday evening at five o'clock in their auto for Masonic Lodge, which is seven hundred miles from Nehawka and were expecting to reach the end of their journey by seven o'clock the following morning. By going in the night they felt sure they would find driving much better, the atmosphere being cooler and much less traffic on the road. If they made the trip in the planned time, it would be an average of 50 miles an hour, including stops, which is pretty fair speed to keep up through long hours of driving. It is quite certain they did, as Jack drove 1,500 miles last year at record breaking speed.

They expect to remain there for some ten days or so and enjoy the mountain scenery, the fishing and the cool climate.

Expect to Attend School

Garner Waldo, George Paulis, Jr., and B. Suthin are arranging to go to Clinton, Mo., where they will attend school for the coming school year, each taking a special course. They have not as yet gotten their arrangements completed, but feel sure they will accomplish their desire.

Visited in the Country

W. H. Kruger and family were guests for the day last Sunday and for a very fine dinner at the home of their friends, the family of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. (Mike) Cisney, where all enjoyed a fine visit and dinner. When evening came and the skies began to look wild, Mr. Kruger and family started for home, but had only gone a very short distance when the sky was thick with dust and everything became black, so he returned and waited for the sky to clear before starting for home, and when he did start out again found a tree had been blown across the road and so had to go part way back again, and then by going west instead of east, they finally found their way home safe and sound but after much traveling.

Pioneer Citizen Buried

James Miller, who has made his home in Nehawka for many years and who has been a very active business man, having worked up until last week, when he was not feeling the best, and then went home and after a short time expired, was sick but little more than an hour or so. An account of his life appeared in Monday's paper. The funeral was held last Sunday, being conducted by Rev. W. A. Taylor, with interment Sunday afternoon in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

A Night in a Cemetery

A couple of Sundays ago, Jackie and Andy Yeiser and their friend, Mead Arbogast of Omaha quite bravely essayed to sleep for a night in a cemetery, for Jackie and Mead are Scouts and they had heard of Scouts getting decorated for like adventures. Although warned that no one yet had ever slept there and lived, they packed their blankets behind them on their bicycles and with a dog following to keep them company pedaled out to St. John cemetery.

Stretched out in their blankets, they could not sleep because of the moonlight shining weirdly on a tall, ghost-like monument. The owls hooted mournfully and even the chigres haunted them. About midnight, cars came slowly along the road and soon eerie lights appeared among the gravestones. The dog trembled and howled.

Unfortunately, Andy had conscientiously fastened the gate as they came in, and you cannot imagine what a breathless job it is for three boys all at the same moment to try to unfasten a strange gate in the dark in a hurry. They had no stopwatch with them with which to measure the speed they made back to town on their bicycles, but they are believed to have beaten the Boy Scout record for that distance.

In the morning, when the sun was high and all self-respecting ghosts could be counted upon to be back in their proper tombs, the boys ventured to return for their blankets. They think now that they must have talked too much beforehand of their plans and that there might have been some base connivance between ghosts and living persons.
