FUNERAL OF HOWARD ENGEL- KEMEIER IS HELD TUESDAY

The funeral of Howard Engelkemeier, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Engelkemeier, was held on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Eight Mile Grove Lutheran church, west of this city on the Louisville road.

The church was filled to its capacity by the relatives and friends of the departed young man and his family to pay their last tributes of respect and esteem to his memory.

The services were conducted by the Rev. A. Rhode, of Hooper, Nebraska, a former pastor of the church and an old friend of the family and the departed. Rev. Rhode brought the message of comfort to the members of the church gave several of the old and loved hymns at the service.

The body was brought to this city and laid in Oak Hill cemetery in the family plot in that city of the silent. The body bearers were Roy, Clarence, Forest and Elmer Engelkemeier, brothers, and Albert and Glen Kreager, cousins of the departed.

MODIFIES DECREE

Mandate from the circuit court of appeals, to which both parties appealed, in the case of Erma V. McCrary, of this city, against the New York Life Insurance company, modifies the decree of the U. S. district court by taxing costs to plaintiff. The parties stipulated that judgment be signed. Suit was to recover under the double liability clause of an insurance policy. The court found that plaintiff was entitled only to single liability and under the amended verdict is to receive $1,769.47.

CARS HAVE SMASHUP

Late Tuesday evening a car driven by P. E. Garrison, Louisville, crashed into the rear of the car of N. T. Pollard on Chicago avenue near the intersection of Tenth street. The left rear part of the car of Mr. Pollard was damaged more or less and the left front of the Louisville car, owned by Garrison, was also more or less damaged in the impact.

Sheriff Homer Sylvester and Officer Roy Stewart were called to the scene, arrested D. B. Forbes and Garrison on a charge of intoxication and reckless driving and they were brought on back to the city.

None of the parties was injured beyond a shaking up and later J. B. Worthmann and Mary Meir, the other occupants of the Louisville car, were taken to their home. The parties claimed to be from Kansas, but have been making their home at Louisville for some time.

This morning in the county court before Judge A. H. Duxbury, a complaint was filed by County Attorney W. G. Kleck against Garrison, charging him with driving a car while intoxicated and to which he entered a plea of not guilty. The case was set for hearing this afternoon.

Forbes was charged with intoxication in a complaint filed by City Attorney J. H. Davis, to which he made a guilty plea, he having been out on a back seat of the car when the accident occurred. He was held pending the arrival of friends to secure his release.

HOLD FAMILY PARTY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hallstrom at Avoca was the scene of a very pleasant family party on Sunday when a group of the family of Mrs. Hallstrom were there for the day and to enjoy a reunion.

The members of the party included Robert L. Propst, Lake Worth, Florida, father of Mrs. Hallstrom, Mrs. Mayola Propst Boughn, of Havana, Cuba, another sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilcox and Marilyn of Beatrice and a nephew of Mrs. Hallstrom, Neal Propst, of Lake Worth were in attendance.

Mr. Propst, Mrs. Boughn and Neal Propst are visiting their relatives in Nebraska for several weeks, they having been long time residents of this community.

VISITS OLD SCENES

From Wednesday's Daily
This morning A. J. O'Brien, who is traveling over the country engaged in selling small articles as razor blades and other lines dropped into this city, where he states he resided many years ago. He states that he was the first cook in the Perkins House when it was built by the Guthmann Brothers back in 1881. At that time Mr. O'Brien was living in Omaha and seeing the advertisement for a cook came here and was put to work. This is the first time since in his journeys over the country that he has visited this city.

ATTEND ROTARY CONFERENCE

From Monday's Daily
Sunday and today at Council Bluffs was held the district assembly of the 19th district of the Rotary International, attended by groups from all sections of the district to participate in the interesting conference. The meetings are being held at the Hotel Chieftain. Sunday evening there were in attendance from this city Frank A. Cloidt, Judge A. H. Duxbury, Elmer Sundstrom and Ray Misner, who enjoyed very much the fine discussions that were brought out.

Rainfall Brings Relief from the Long Drouth

From Wednesday's Daily
First Real Rainfall Since June Showers in This City—Fall Shows .56 of an Inch.

A refreshing rain that registered .56 of an inch fell in this city last evening and continued in showers throughout the greater part of the night. While the rain was not as heavy as had been hoped for, it did a wonderful good in the freshening up of vegetation long baked by the hot and blistering sun.

The rain came as the result of a day heavy with clouds and which repeatedly broke until late in the afternoon when the first sprinkles of the rain came to cheer the residents of the community.

North of this city from the Platte river to near Omaha the rain was very heavy in the early evening and the water was running over the pavement but this rain stopped at the south near the Platte river bridge and only the lighter showers were found south of the river.

This is the first rainfall since July 19th when .14 of an inch was registered and which was the first after a few showers in June that made two very dry months.

PIGEONS STOP CLOCK

The many pigeons that make their dwelling place on the roof and tower of the Cass county court house are responsible for the frequent stoppage of the clock, those who look after the adjusting and repair of the clock state.

The pigeons have had the habit of roosting on the hands of the clock and when several of these take the notion of sunning or preening themselves on the hands, the weight causes the hands to stop and result in the machinery of the clock refusing to function.

Another of the difficulties met in the proper handling of the clock is the custom of the pigeons getting in through the wooded slats of the tower and making their roosting place on the machinery of the clock. As the clock goes on its daily grind the wings of a pigeon are frequently caught and the result is that the clock is stopped.

The only solution appears to be a general warfare on the pigeons if the clock is to continue to be the guiding sentinel of time for the residents in the business section of the city.

UNION ITEMS.

Fred Baker and family were in Plattsmouth last Saturday night, where they attended the carnival. Sterling Harris was called to Nehawka last Saturday to look after some business matters and secured some barley seed while there.

Miss Hattie Griffin was a visitor in Omaha last Saturday, where she was a guest of young lady friends, returning home on the evening.

Mrs. W. H. Porter was passing her birthday anniversary last Sunday and was receiving the congratulations of her many friends upon this occasion.

Rev. E. P. Booher pastor of the Methodist church here was called to Kennard, where he was located prior to being sent here, to conduct the funeral of one of the members of the church there.

W. H. Frost, Lincoln lumberman, who has been making this territory for the past fifteen years, called on his friend, D. Ray Frans Monday, as well as making a number of other towns in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. John Banning, of Alvo, were guests for the day last Sunday at the home of Miss Pearl Banning, of Union, enjoying a most pleasant visit and as well meeting many of their friends here.

D. R. Frans, with a force of workmen, was busy laying the concrete foundation for the fifth section of his new coal sheds, which he expects to have ready to care for the winter's supply of coal that will arrive in the near future.

Rev. E. P. Booher, pastor of the Methodist church here, has been granted a week's vacation by the members of the church. As he will be away over one Sunday, there will be only Bible school and the Young People's meeting during that time.

Jimmie Frans, who broke his arm last week in the same place where he suffered a fracture some time ago, was celebrating the passing of his birthday Tuesday. It takes more than a broken arm to keep Jimmie from enjoying the passing of a birthday.

There will be a demonstration of the Massie-Harris tractor at the A. L. Becker farm where Otto Ehlers lives on Friday, August 7. The demonstration is being put on by Ray Becker, local Massie-Harris dealer, who has an ad in this issue. Look it up.

W. B. Banning and wife, who reside in Lincoln, were here Sunday to spend the day at their home here. They were accompanied by their son, Hallas Banning, who is also residing in the capital city, where he has a position as bookkeeper in the office of an insurance company.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Griffin, who recently came here from Tulsa, Oklahoma, where they resided for several years, and have been staying at the home of their son, H. W. Griffin and family, expect to move to Plattsmouth soon, where they will again make their home, they having resided there prior to their removal to Oklahoma some four or five years ago.

Grinding Sweet Clover

George Stites, in order to assure a more plentiful supply of feed, is having sweet clover ground into meal at the elevator and storing it for use for feed. W. O. Burbee is doing the work with his grinder.

Played Eleven Innings

At the Union ball park last Sunday there was a lively game played between the Union boys and a team from the CCC camp at Weeping Water. The game ran into extra innings, with the home team winning in the eleventh, score, 6 to 5. Bellevue will be here for a game this coming Sunday.

Robert Opp on Scout Tour

Robert Opp, Union Boy Scout, left Monday of this week with a group of some 25 Scouts of Nebraska City, on a gypsy tour of the northland that will take them into northern Minnesota where ample opportunity exists to live the simple "back-to-nature" life. The group will be gone several weeks, being accompanied by a number of adult supervisors from Nebraska City.

Among the requirements for being able to make the trip are that each boy pass a certain physical examination showing him to be in good health and capable of roughing it for a few weeks, and that he has earned sufficient money to pay his own way. Boys who went were found doing all sorts of odd jobs throughout the summer in order to get together a sufficient amount to pay their way.

Union had one other applicant to go, Don McCarthy, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McCarthy. His physical examination showed him to be afflicted with sinus trouble and he was not able to go, to his disappointment.

FEET hurt?

Here is your chance to obtain relief with the proper Dr. Scholl FOOT COMFORT Appliance or Remedy . . . there is one for every common foot ailment, perfected by Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, internationally famous Foot Authority.

The fact that boys must make their own expense money has made the privilege of going on this trip quite an honor and one worth striving for. The group is in charge of Rev. Walter Jackson, of Nebraska City, a veteran Scouter who a few years ago took a group of Blair boys into the wilds of Canada, many miles from the trek of civilization.

Lost His Glasses

Joe Banning had the misfortune to lose his glasses last Sunday and after searching diligently for them throughout the day, went to Nebraska City Monday morning to get another pair. The writer can sympathize with him, as we were in the same boat when our "specs" turned up missing Monday morning. Getting around without them all day Monday we were hoping the good wife might find them before our return home, but on our arrival found no glasses and so have had to write our copy without them until we are able to get another pair or find ours.

Returned to the East

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Borne and the family, who have been visiting here for the past week or more with relatives and friends, especially with Mrs. Vesta Clark, mother of Mrs. Borne, departed on Wednesday last week for their home at Lorain, Ohio, making the trip in their car, and were accompanied by Miss Alice May Finney, age 19, who will visit with her aunt in the east for some time.

Convalescing at Hospital

Little May Lou Garrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Garrison, was suddenly taken with an acute attack of appendicitis and as her case was serious, she was rushed to the hospital in Omaha, where an operation was performed. Since the removal of the highly inflamed appendix, the little patient has been doing very nicely and is making satisfactory progress towards recovery.

Married by the Parson.

A neat roadster drew up to the residence of Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor in Union last Tuesday morning about 10 o'clock and there alighted a couple which was found to be Mr. Orin K. Burrill and Miss Winona E. Downs. They had been to Plattsmouth, securing the necessary papers and requested to be united in marriage. The kind hearted minister soon had the knot tied which was to bind their lives forever. The ceremony was witnessed by Mrs. Taylor and the parents of both bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Downs and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burrill, all parties from Weeping Water. The newlyweds departed immediately via their auto for the west and are spending the first portion of their married life traveling in Colorado, Wyoming and other points in the west.

Visited in the West

Mrs. E. J. Mougay departed some three weeks ago for Arriba, Colorado, where she spent a couple of weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Ray Cross, and after her visit there was driven to Whitney, Nebraska, where another daughter, Naomi Reinke, resides. After concluding a two weeks' visit there, Mrs. Mougay is expected to return home within a few days. She has had a most pleasant trip and enjoyed her visit with the daughters immensely.

Enjoyed Excellent Meeting

The people of Union, endeavoring to live up to the name of the town, through providing union services in the park, held a splendid service there last Sunday night, with the young people of the two local churches, Baptist and Methodist, furnishing the music, while Rev. E. P. Booher, pastor of the Methodist church, delivered the discourse.

This coming Sunday, Rev. George Downing, pastor of the Baptist church, will conduct the services.

HERE FROM SOUTH BEND

From Tuesday's Daily
J. L. Carnicle, of near South Bend, was in the city today for a few hours looking after some matters of business and while here was a pleasant caller at the Journal to renew his subscription. Mr. Carnicle like all of the residents feels the effect of the drouth on the crops, but states that a rain now might help make enough to aid the farmers in their feeding problem.

PLACED UNDER ARREST

From Monday's Daily:
Last night Officers Pickre and Stewart discovered Ed Genato, a transient, in the hallway leading to the second floor of the Soennichsen building and he was escorted to the city jail for the night. The man was decidedly under the influence of liquor and will face Judge C. L. Graves today for his offense.

Used cars, livestock, household goods—all can be sold through inexpensive Journal Want Ads.

"Saul Converted and Commissioned"
Acts 9:1-9; 17-19; 1 Tim. 1:12-14
It has been said the two greatest witnesses to the divine origin of the Christian faith are the resurrection of Jesus Christ and the conversion of St. Paul.

The greatest Christian: God has chosen to give to the church in nineteen hundred years is unquestionably the Apostle Paul. The doctrinal foundations, the ethical heights, the missionary passion, that have marked the Christian church down through the ages, all spring from the Apostle Paul. The greatest event in the life of this greatest of all Christians was certainly his conversion. From the worst persecutor to the strongest exponent, is a change only God can bring about, and is as great a miracle as any that God has performed.

Saul of Tarsus, was by birth, training, zeal and ambition to excel, the very man, God could use; but he had to be made over. All his powers, talents, and what personal endowments he possessed, had to be brought into subjection to Christ's will; hence the question: "Lord what wilt thou have me do?" and he received the answer. Now let us look at time and place of the great change.

Stephen the first martyr is laid to rest. Saul was well pleased, taking some part in the execution, voting for his death and taking care of the clothes of the executioners (About 26 A. D.). Emboldened by his success Saul seeks other fields for his exploits. Many Jews live in Damascus, some 160 miles from Jerusalem, the leaders of the synagog there would gladly help. But he entered Damascus different from what he expected. What about Damascus? It is the oldest known city in the world. Josephus says: It was founded by Uz, son of Aram, grandson of Shem. First mentioned by Abraham. (Gen. 14:15); and Abraham's oldest steward hailed from Damascus. (Gen. 15:3); and that is the place where Paul began his ministry.

Saul of Tarsus was a determined character, to see a matter through; when consecrated to furthering Christianity, nothing could swerve him from the path, he knew was right. His miraculous conversion is graphically pictured in the first part of our lesson. There should not be too much time spent on details, by the teacher. His ministry is of far greater importance. His beginning at Damascus shows the genuineness of his conversion.

Beginning at Jerusalem was the order for the apostles. This writer began where he was converted.

His three years in Arabia were very profitable to him. There he could think through the whole plan of redemption. Some scholars believe that the reference by Paul (Gal. 4:24, 25) to Sinai, would indicate that he sojournd in the Mount of God like Moses and Elias, who received their messages there; we also think with them, that that is where, alone with God, he became so fully identified with Christ, that he could say: "For me to live in Christ." (Phil. 1:21). That made him invincible. "I can do all things, through Christ who strengthened me." (Phil. 4:13).

We notice in his early ministry he would escape danger; (See Acts 9:25); but later he would go to prison, submit to be scourged, well, see the catalog of his suffering (2 Cor. 11:21-33). That is Paul the courageous. The episode of Paul's going to Jerusalem, his cold reception and the warm friendship of a countryman, Barnabas, is a refreshing story, and could be studied with profit. (See Acts 9:26-30). What a marvelous way God had with this man. It took extraordinary means to subdue that rebellious nature, but God was equal to it: "I will show him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake." (Acts 9:16).

Did God speak here in a beautiful manner, in a spirit of revenge, for all the evil done by Paul? No, "he was sitting as a refiner and purifier of silver." (Mal. 3:3); to bring out the best that was in Paul.

That is God's way with his children today. It is not pleasant nor easy to endure affliction; but James 1:2 would have us "count it all joy, when we fall into divers temptations—in order to be—perfect and entire, wanting nothing." So God gets his children ready, for the greater joy, that awaits those that are found faithful (See Matt. 25:21).

Twenty years later Paul recounts his great experience in Jerusalem, with almost disastrous result, but it paved the way to Rome. In his letter to the Galatians he recounts that marvelous change in his life; against the Judaizers; who would confuse believers. He defends his apostleship, having received his commission direct from Christ (Read and study Gal. 1:11-24). Finally we hear Paul speak to his son, Timothy: That he was put into the ministry by the Lord Jesus Christ. What business has any man in the ministry who cannot say with Paul: "Jesus Christ counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry." (Gal. 1:12). How dare anyone assume that holy office without the divine call and the endowment of power?
