Wabash News

Mrs. Henrietta Lawton is in receipt of a letter from her son, Fred, who has been making his home in Oklahoma City, stating that he will move soon to Tallahassee, Florida, to make his home in the future.

Carl Reichart of near Murdock was a visitor in Wabash last Wednesday morning, having some business matters to look after and also enjoying a visit with friends here. There is something about Wabash which always attracts Carl and he feels at home here more than anywhere else.

Mrs. Helen Patzel, wife of Fred Patzel, of Oklahoma City, where the husband is engaged in shoe fitting business, has been visiting the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Standley, of Manley. Mr. Patzel has just recently graduated from a theological course and been ordained a minister, following this vocation at the same time he continues at his trade of selling shoes.

Building the Nest First

Both the groom elect and other members of the family, together with numerous neighbors and friends have been working industriously to complete and get in readiness a home for the couple which is to be wedded this week. This is nice, as it is well to have a home to go to before one has a wife to care for.

Resumes His Pastorate

Rev. P. C. Weber, pastor of the Callahan and Wabash churches, who took a vacation recently and on his return was confined to his bed on account of illness, has so far recovered as to be able to resume his ministerial duties last Sunday, conducting the morning services and meeting the members of his congregation who were pleased to have him back again.

Attended Sale at Syracuse

A number of the citizens of Wabash and vicinity were at Syracuse last Wednesday for the regular weekly sale which is held there. Among those attending were P. H. Clarke, Ralph Dorr and son Neal, Robert Hansen and Ralph Richards.

Taking His Vacation

Peter C. Hansen, of Plattsmouth, who employs himself with truck gardening, has not gotten rich from his enterprise this year, on account of the drouth, and could not go to see the Black Hills or Yellowstone park (although he has plenty of time for that without neglecting his crop), but felt that he would like to get away from the fields he has so diligently cultivated, and asked to ride over the county with the Journal field man on his regular trip to Manley, Wabash and Murdock, returning by way of Louisville. Mr. Hansen was well pleased with the country and remarked a number of times during the trip, "This is sure a fine country," expressing his regrets that the drouth has so completely ruined crops for the farmers.

Entertained Ladies Aid

Mrs. Carl Jensen entertained the Ladies Aid society of the Wabash church on Wednesday of last week, providing the ladies with a very merry time. They first looked after the business which called them together and following this enjoyed a social hour and were entertained by the genial hostess with a very delightful luncheon.

For Full Details — Ask Him

John C. Browne, the grain man, is somewhat of a philosopher as well. Being formerly a farmer, he listens a great deal to the Henry Field radio station, and the other day went to the store and asked to purchase some crepe. Asked what he wanted for, he stated he thought it would be well to get used to wearing it now, as he felt he would have to wear it after election. For further particulars as to just what he meant, you will have to ask him.

DRUM CORPS TO MILLIGAN

From Saturday's Daily:

The American Legion sponsored junior drum and bugle corps left at 7:30 this morning for Milligan, Nebraska, where they are spending the day at a three day picnic and celebration being staged by the citizens of that community.

The group were in charge of Commander Harrison L. Gayer of the Legion, assisted by John Pearsley, James Persinger and Leo Boynton as drivers of the truck and two cars required to transport the boys and their equipment.

Their first appearance was scheduled for 11 o'clock this forenoon, at which time they led a parade through the business section of the town.

Milligan is the home of Roy Ottrodosky, former clerk at the Fricke & Co. drug store here, and who is engaged in the drug business there for himself.

The Milligan celebration committee supplied $30 expense money and will provide dinner and supper for the corps.

Due to inability of Director C. A. Marshall to accompany the corps, his son, Carey, will act as director and drum major in the various parades and formations today. Carey has had the boys out for drill every night this week, putting them through the different formations and beats and is well able to handle the job of directing.

King-Reynolds Wedding Occurs on West Coast

Former Plattsmouth Young Man, Married to Charming California Bride July 4th.

A beautiful wedding was solemnized Saturday evening, July 4, at 8 o'clock when Mrs. Lula King gave her daughter, Amy Ruth, in marriage to Gerald F. Reynolds. The impressive Episcopal service, including the ring ceremony, was performed by the Rev. William A. Thomas, rector of the St. John's Episcopal.

The marriage ceremony took place at the home of the bride's mother at 579 South I street, and the wedding party stood before an improvised altar banked with a profusion of greenery starred with Shasta daisies. Tall white candles in silver candelabra were used to light the rooms during the ceremony.

The bride, a lovely brunette, was exquisite in a white satin gown fashioned with leg o' mutton sleeves and a pleated neck ruffle. The long skirt ended in a slight train. Her long veil, cap effect and decorated with rows of orange blossoms, was one that has been used by five other brides, and first by its possessor, Mrs. Joseph B. Babcock of San Bernardino. White slippers completed the costume and the bride's only ornament was a cameo brooch, a gift from her mother. She carried a bride's bouquet of white sweetpeas and carnations.

Miss Dorothy Waycott of Redlands attended her close friend as bridesmaid, and was gowned in green organza made floor length. She wore a corsage of pink sweetpeas and roses.

Mrs. John Garver (Lella Barkus), as matron of honor, wore blue organza, also floor length and a corsage of pink sweetpeas and roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Emory Kelly, and both wore light summer suits.

During the reception which followed the ceremony the bride cut her beautifully tiered wedding cake, which was served with ice cream and punch.

Later in the evening the couple departed amid a shower of rice and best wishes on a honeymoon trip to an unannounced destination. On their return they will be located in Santa Monica.

Among the out-of-town guests who joined with the immediate families in witnessing the wedding were: Mrs. Jack B. Magel and Miss Grace L. Charles of Pittsburgh, Pa., cousins of the bride; Mrs. C. B. Mapes and sons, Sterling and Charles, of Lincoln, Neb., sister and nephews of the bridegroom; Dr. Wilbur F. Thomas, and Thomas Fredericks of Oakland; Mrs. H. W. Larmore and Miss Belle Larmore of Redlands.

Though a native of Colorado, the lovely young bride has spent all but two years of her life in California. She was educated in the San Bernardino schools and is a member of the 1927 class of the high school.

Mr. Reynolds is a native of Nebraska, and until recently spent several years in the service of Uncle Sam, being a member of the famous Eleventh Bombardment Squadron stationed both at March field and at Hamilton field. He has an enviable record with several thousand hours in the air, serving as radio operator and machine gunner. He has a very responsible position with the Douglas Aircraft Corporation at Santa Monica.

He is a brother of Mrs. L. L. Barkus of this city and has many friends here. — San Bernardino (Calif.) Times.

FUNERAL OF CLAUD BOETEL

The funeral services of the late Claud Boetel, Sr., were held on Friday afternoon at the Sattler funeral home where a large group of the old friends and neighbors had gathered to pay their last tributes of respect to his memory.

The Rev. G. A. Pahl, pastor of the St. Paul's Evangelical church, conducted the services and brought words of comfort to the members of the bereaved family circle, while the choir of the church gave several of the old and loved hymns.

The interment was at Oak Hill cemetery beside that of the wife who had preceded him in death in 1919. The pall bearers were members of the Sons of Herman and old friends, W. H. Puls, P. F. Goos, Peter Evers, Henry Timm, Fred Herbster, B. G. Wurl.

The funeral was under the direction of the Streight funeral home of this city.

Recalls Day of Locating Route of Burlington

Dr. G. H. Gilmore of Murray Produces Interesting Story of the Early Days in County.

From the Nebraska Herald, Plattsmouth, Nebraska, Thursday, March 4, 1869:

"We are reliably informed that the city of Rock Bluffs offers 1200 lots in corporate limits of said city and 80 acres of land to the Burlington and Missouri railroad to make that their initial point on the Missouri river of their projected road through the county. Kenosha we are told offers 500 acres of land for the same purpose. Truly these are liberal offers. Such inducements will undoubtedly receive the notice of the company. We of Plattsmouth are struggling to hold our own, and if the points named above try to outbid us people here must make up their minds to come down liberally or blame ourselves if the road starts from smoother point on the river. Time is precious now and we hope our business men and property holders will see to it that we are not left out in the cold."

The Burlington and Missouri railroad entered Cass county at Plattsmouth, in September, 1869. H. D. Hathaway was editor of the Nebraska Herald at the time he sounded the alarm as to the railroad location.

As president of the Rock Bluffs Pioneer association, I wish to ask the citizens of Plattsmouth not to be alarmed. After studying the subject over for 67 years the citizens of Rock Bluffs prefer to accept river transportation and instead of giving 1200 lots and 80 acres we acquired about this amount of land by accretion. We also understand that the mayor of Kenosha also withdraws their offer and are accepting water transportation and soil accretion.

SEE CHECK TO HAY FEVER

Dr. John E. Weaver, University of Nebraska plant ecologist, sees a bright spot in the drouth, a possible measure of relief for hay fever sufferers.

The hot, dry weather, he said, dried up and killed weeds bearing pollen which afflict the sensitive noses of the hay fever victims, and thus eliminated at least a part of the source of the affliction.

"Mind you, I don't say all of them," Weaver said. "I'd say about two-thirds of the pollen bearing weeds are hit by the drouth."

Most doctors agreed if there were no pollen there would be little hay fever. Time, however, will tell. The hay fever season in Nebraska opens "officially" about Aug. 15 and the cool, moist weather of the past few days may serve to resuscitate the pollen, it is feared.

VISIT AT OLD HOME

Mrs. Samuel Waugh of Lincoln was in the city Wednesday afternoon to spend a few hours visiting with the old time friends of many years ago, this being the first visit in some years. Mrs. Waugh was accompanied here by her daughter, Mrs. Frost Buchtel, of Denver, formerly Miss Gretal Waugh, who will be remembered by the old time friends.

Achievement Day Program

The 4-H club Achievement day was held at the M. E. church Thursday afternoon. Many lovely articles that the girls made were on display. A program consisting of two piano solos by Misses Evelyn Trunkenbolz and Winifred Lambert, a violin solo by Maxine Hurlbut and a short play by a group of the girls, was given.

Refreshments were served. These girls and their leaders, Mrs. E. Mathis and Miss Greta Woltzel, deserve much credit for the work accomplished.

Elevated to Superintendent

Word has been received here that Ray Meyers has been honored by being given the superintendency of the Alvo schools, in which he has been a teacher, the coming year. This promotion speaks well for his past work. The regular superintendency will attend college this coming year and his wife will assume the work Ray has had on the staff during the past year.

Ray is another one of the Greenwood young people we are proud of.

Love Better Than Monkey Glands

Nature is the superior of science in the opinion of Dr. Serge Voronoff, world-famous 68-year-old gland rejuvenation specialist, when he was interviewed in London on his honeymoon with his 28-year-old Austrian bride. He admitted that he had found love a far more effective rejuvenating force than monkey glands, because it is impossible "to graft feeling into a human being".
