DRUG MADE SYNTHETICALLY

Pittsburgh.—Synthetic manufacturers of a rare drug expected to find wide application in the treatment of high blood pressure, impaired circulation and excessive heart action, was announced before the American Chemical society.

Dr. Randolph T. Major and Howard T. Bonnett described to the society's medical chemistry section how they had prepared the drug, which is closely related to muscarine, a chemical used to stimulate the parasympathetic nervous system.

Both muscarine and a related compound, acetyl choline, stimulate the parasympathetic nerves in such a way as to slow the heart beat, increase intestinal contractions, enlarge the small blood vessels of the body and decrease blood pressure.

Larson and Will Eliminated in the Quarter Finals

Unusually High Class of Entrants at North Western Missouri Open Tennis Tournament.

From Saturday's Daily:

Ray Larson reached the quarter-finals in the North Western Missouri open tennis tournament held in Tarkio this week. He was defeated by Coggeshall of Des Moines, Iowa, who will undoubtedly take the championship. Coggeshall holds thirteenth place in national ranking. Although Larson was defeated six-love in both games, he was able to deuce many of the games and even if out-played, he was not out-classed.

James Will and Ray Larson also reached the quarter-finals in the doubles tournament. They were eliminated by Stevenson and Sandler of Des Moines 7-5 and 6-2. Sandler is a one-arm player. Since the loss of his right arm he has been forced to play left-handed.

Bailey Bottoneer of Tarkio drove James out in the first round of the singles. James took the first set 6-3 but was defeated 3-6 and 4-6 in the next two sets.

While in Tarkio, the Plattsmouth team members were guests at the home of R. Foster Patterson, former principal of the Plattsmouth high school.

An exceptionally high class group of tennis players entered the Tarkio tournament this year. Many of the men were champions from large cities or sections of the middle west. The local team had the opportunity of seeing some of the best players exhibit their swings.

Larson and Will returned from the tournament last evening. They go to Omaha this afternoon to participate in the invitation tournament at the Omaha tennis club unless rain prevents.

Secret Session of Progressives Backs Roosevelt

Senator Norris of Nebraska Wins Post of Honorary President in New Organization.

Chicago.—A national conference of "progressives," including many self termed liberals in both politics and labor, united in active support of President Roosevelt in his campaign for re-election.

After a four hour secret session in a downtown hotel, the group adopted a resolution endorsing Roosevelt's candidacy, promised to campaign actively in his behalf and agreed to raise a campaign fund.

A declaration of principles was also adopted, with 11 points and a declaration that the members reserved fully their right to political freedom of action otherwise than tendering support to the president in this contest.

The session which adopted temporarily the name "national progressive conference" adjourned after notifying President Roosevelt of its action. Representative Maverick, Texas democrat, headed a committee charged with drafting a telegram to him.

The conference organized by voting to set up an executive committee of 15 with Senator LaFollette, as permanent chairman. LaFollette presided at Friday's session and was one of eight who signed the conference call.

Norris Honorary President. Senator Norris, who had urged the conference by telegram to take a "firm stand" in favor of President Roosevelt, was named honorary president of the executive committee, and Senator Costigan, Colorado democrat, honorary vice president. Grace Abbott, of Chicago, national woman's leader, was named honorary vice chairman, and Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the New York Power authority, acting treasurer.

The official roster listed 116 registrants, representing four political parties — republican, democratic, progressive and farmer-labor. Nebraskans attending the meeting included N. S. Andrews; Fred Kingsley, Archer; Representative Luckey; Adam McMullen, Beatrice; Col. John Maher, Lincoln; F. L. Robinson, Kearney; C. A. Sorensen, Lincoln; and Arthur J. Weaver, Falls City.

There were four United States senators—LaFollette, Black of Alabama, Schwelienach of Washington and Benson of Minnesota—two governors: Philip LaFollette of Wisconsin, and Petersen of Minnesota; 12 members of the house of representatives, and 27 labor leaders.
