They were taken by an eastern dealer who sent the shipment to Boston for the trade of that city which is considered the most exacting of any of the eastern markets. These cattle, while not selling for the highest price for the day, were the most outstanding as they commanded the best price in their class. deker said it rained a good deal of the way and he was very pleasantly surprised for in Illinois he found for miles along the road corn with a promise of 60 bushels the acre and was informed that on the north it continued as good, with plenty of good corn in northern Illinois, southern Wisconsin and Michigan and northeastern Iowa.

Present Library with Books.
The Anderson family, making their home on the Wm. Sporer farms who have been great readers, have a number of books of recent date which they have all read and so presented some eighteen books to the Murray public library. This was greatly appreciated by the library board and patrons.

Active with Field Seeds.
Ray Frederick, formerly a resident of Murray, now making his home in Nebraska City, has been in Murray for the past few days looking after the cleaning and preparing of a truck load of alfalfa seed which was grown in the vicinity of Murray this summer.

He has a force of men at work on the preparing of seed and getting it in the very best condition. Mr. Frederick also says he has some 2,000 bushels of very fine seed corn for the coming season. He expects to have seed corn in abundance for all who desire and with conditions that prevailed this summer here this item will be a very interesting one.

Disbarment of State Lawyer is Requested

Charge Attorney Dutton of Lincoln Hired Sam Bailey to Solicit Crash Injury Cases.

Lincoln, Sept. 15.—The attorney general's office Tuesday asked the Nebraska supreme court for permission to file complaints of "unethical conduct" against Frank Dutton, Lincoln attorney, and Sam Bailey of Lincoln, an alleged solicitor of business for lawyers.

Disbarment of Dutton and citation for contempt against Bailey were asked in the complaints drawn by Milton C. Murphy, assistant attorney general. When the court will act upon the request is uncertain, because not all of its members have returned from summer vacations and the court is not in session.

Dutton is charged with employing Bailey to solicit lawsuits from persons injured in accidents, and Bailey is accused of doing such work for various attorneys, including Lawrence A. Goldman of Omaha, in whose case on June 8, 1934, the supreme court for the first time disbarred an attorney for "ambulance chasing."

Murphy said the other lawyers for whom Bailey is alleged to have worked are being investigated. Simultaneously with Murphy's petition, Dutton filed an answer denying all of the charges against him. He was asked by the attorney general to explain the charges before action was taken and deposited his answer with Murphy to be filed with the complaint.

Dutton formerly was deputy state labor commissioner, serving under Cecil Matthews during Governor C. W. Bryan's administration, and was a lobbyist in the 1935 legislature.

RAIN BRINGS DEBRIS

The streets in the business section of the city have been well decorated with mud and debris as the result of the washing of dirt down from the hills in the heavy rain of Tuesday as well as the overflow of the southside sewers that caused a deposit of mud along Sixth street Autos have also accumulated mud that has dropped off and added to the tasks of keeping the street clean. The mud however is welcome after the several months of dryness and quite an unusual treat.
