Proposed Lake Near Burr Offered State

Game and Park Commission Has No Funds to Buy—Towns Are Asked to Help.

One hundred and sixty acres of land, with a prospective eighty-acre lake to be filled from flowing wells, some timber and a background of bluff land, all for public recreation grounds, the lake to be stocked with fish by the state, at a price not to exceed $85 an acre, WPA labor in sight to give work for farmers, was the alluring offer made to the state game and park commission Friday.

The offer was made by a committee of 25 or more members of a committee formed by farmers and other citizens of Otoe and Johnson counties. J. V. Kahl, banker, of Burr, was spokesman. The commission's immediate answer was that it had no money available to make the purchase. The suggestion was made that the committee canvass towns in Otoe and Johnson counties and see what can be done toward raising funds to acquire the land.

Kahl said the land belonged to the estate of William Behrends, that the committee had obtained an option on the land without consideration, from Mrs. Behrends, who lives north of Cook. The land is two and one-half miles southeast of Burr. Kahl said he did not think the chances are good for raising subscriptions enough to buy the land and present it to the state. He said the commission would build the dam for a lake and stock it with fish. He said the WPA would make it a work project if someone would sponsor it. Members of the two county boards were in the delegation. F. C. Wallen of Unadilla said there are six flowing wells on the land, one being a natural well which during the past drouth year has had a constant flow of six inches of water. The proposed 80-acre lake is bottom land. A dam of earth to hold the water has been planned. Kahl said Gov. Cochran favored the place as a public recreation ground. He also said the game commission has a survey of the tract and has had it under consideration. The same tract was before the game commission when C. W. Bryan was governor and ex-officio chairman of the commission.

The commission made no statement concerning the offer. Members continued in session during the afternoon and planned to announce that the public should contribute no funds except to authorized bodies to buy grain to feed game birds during the coming winter.

REUNION AT BEATRICE

A reunion picnic of the descendants of the Pohlman and Crawford families was held in Chautauqua park in Beatrice, Sept. 13. The pioneer parents of those assembled were early settlers in Nemaha and Cass counties. They were natives of Knox county, Illinois, and veterans of the Civil war. In 1866 they filed government claims in Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. John H. Pohlman entered what was then Nebraska territory, at Brownville. Mrs. Pohlman was formerly Miss Elizabeth Crawford. They were later joined by Mrs. Pohlman's father, Thomas Crawford, and sons, Vachel, William D., and Walter, who filed claims near Tecumseh. James and John Crawford settled near South Bend. Among the 82 present at the reunion, four generations were represented. C. Alva Crawford of Randall, Kas., was elected president of the organization, and it was decided to make the affair an annual event. Representatives were present from the following towns: Osage City and Hartford, Kas., Omaha, Lincoln, Beatrice, Grand Island, Auburn, Alvo, Ashland, Lewiston, Pilger, Murdock, South Bend, Tecumseh and Johnson.

Nebraska City Asked to Refund Bread Truck Tax

Peterson Co., of Omaha Protest Occupation Tax on Truck Operating in That City.

The P. F. Peterson Baking Co., of Omaha, which several years ago was engaged in a contest of the rights of a municipality to tax the trucks of their company, in which ordinance of this city was questioned, is now attacking the ordinance of Nebraska City.

In this city the Omaha companies pay the same occupation tax as that of local bakers, $7.50 per year.

In the statement of the position of Nebraska City officials the News-Press has the following:

"Notice that unless the city refunds the occupation tax collected from the driver of its bread wagon the Peterson company would bring suit was received Friday by City Attorney Varro E. Tyler. Tyler told The News-Press he had advised the company no refund would be made.

"Local bakers pay the same tax yearly," Tyler pointed out. "Besides that they pay a large amount of personal and real estate taxes. I don't see why we should permit outside concerns to hold an advantage over our local merchants. Of course we will contest the suit."

"Tyler pointed out that the state supreme court has upheld collection of occupation taxes from such concerns, and that Judge Raper of the Richardson county district court held that such taxes were unconstitutional only when they didn't include equal taxes against local and outside vendors.

"The Peterson company alleged the city is not authorized in the enumerated powers of cities of the first class to collect these taxes and that the ordinance is contrary to the constitutions of Nebraska and United States.

"The ordinance was drafted many years ago by W. F. Moran, then city attorney, and has never before been questioned.

"In fact," Tyler pointed out, "local agitation is to increase the amount of the taxes. Local merchants pay their assessments gladly. It is only the outsiders with whom we have trouble."

Cass County Fair Parade Draws Crowd

School Floats and Sing Among Big Attractions of Afternoon at Weeping Water.

Avoca public schools took first place in the school floats at the County Fair yesterday afternoon with the Old Mill Wheel. Many attractive and original floats were in the parade. The live stock display was also very good.

Rural schools presented the afternoon platform program. A large group of children took part in the Rural School Sing led by Mrs. E. H. Westcott. Rhythm movements and songs taught during the past year were given. District 3, taught by Mrs. Lucille Wiles, gave a dramatization of "A Frog He Would A-Wooing Go." Elizabeth Perry, Eloise Cole, and Alice Woster sang the song while other children, in costume, acted the frog's wedding. A group of boys in sailor suits from Miss Muller Shackley's school sang "Away For Rio." "The Postillion" was presented by pupils from Mrs. Lorena Cummins' school. The children were dressed in cowboy costume. Mrs. Lucille Wiles accompanied the singing and Miss Alpha C. Peterson introduced the participants.
