1,377 Visit Floral Exhibits During First Two Days of Carnival in Hotel Building.

1,377 visitors have attended the flower show during the first two days of the King Korn Carnival. Probably the most attractive of the displays is that of the shadow boxes. Miss Sophia Kraeger and Freeman McFarland prepared this new feature of the show. Also ranking high are the booths displaying flower arrangement for the old fashioned, modern, breakfast, dining, and living rooms. It was prepared by Mrs. Joe Wiles and Mrs. John Crabill. The outdoor garden affords a restful spot for those seeking quiet beauty. It was prepared by Mrs. John Crabill and Mrs. Luke Wiles. The feeding box in the room came from the home of Mrs. P. T. Heineman and Carl Dooley donated the stuffed birds.

Another of the new features attracting a great deal of attention is the terrariums, under the direction of Mrs. L. B. Egenberger, and bubble bowls. Most of the miniature gardens were prepared by children. The detail arrangement is very clever.

In general, the flower exhibit is very large for this year. Prizes were awarded yesterday. Placings are as follows:

Chester L. Paul, who came here a few weeks ago from Kansas and opened a harness making and repair shop is well pleased with the business that has come to his door. He is occupying the room where W. D. Skeen was formerly located.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hoover and Mrs. Hoover's father Albert Theil, Sr., were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gustin, who reside on the farm of Mrs. G. W. Blessing west of Murdock. Mesdames Hoover and Gustin are sisters, and Mr. Theil father of the two ladies.

A large delegation from the Elmwood fire department was in attendance at the county convention held in Nelawka last Thursday. The Elmwood fire department is made up of an active set of young men, who are interested in and attend most of the quarterly meetings of the Cass County association held at different points over the county.

Married More Than 50 Years
Elmwood has a number of couples who have been married more than fifty years and are still living happily together, among them being Messrs and Mesdames Frank Gillette, J. P. Cobb, Paul Marshall, E. Preston, L. A. Tyson, H. P. Dehning and A. W. Neihart.

All of the above listed couples received invitation to be special guests at the King Korn Carnival in Plattsmouth last Friday, when a special program and complimentary banquet was arranged in their honor, but unfortunately not all were in sufficiently good health to accept, or were deterred due to other reasons. Those who did go were Frank Gillette and wife, L. A. Tyson and wife, A. W. Neihart and wife and E. Preston and wife. Plattsmouth acted the part of the magnificent host, providing royal entertainment for the 34 of a possible 59 couples qualified to accept such an invitation. A group picture was taken of the large gathering of Golden Wedding celebrators and a copy of this picture will be furnished to each couple that attended.

Improvements at Station
With the passage of time, even concrete wears out or breaks up so it needs replacing and this was the case with the driveway at the Trunkbolz oil station in Elmwood that has been in for a good number of years. It was decided to have it fixed up before the coming of winter and G. L. Brinton was secured to do the work. He also placed a new concrete floor in a portion of the station which has heretofore had only a dirt floor and a drain vat where the cars are greased and oiled was also repaired, putting the concrete work about the station in the best of condition.

The Knitting Club

Three of the ladies of Elmwood, Mesdames Lucy Lyle, Harry Linder and Emil Rosenow have interested themselves in knitting and each is at this time knitting a dress for herself. They were all over to Lincoln last Saturday, taking their work with them to see how they are progressing and to receive instructions from their teacher.

Removing a Chimney

One generation builds and another removes or changes. The home which is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles West, has had a chimney which was never used and which has jutted out into one of the rooms. So Mr. and Mrs. West concluded they would rather have the chimney out, and accordingly have had the same removed and the hole in the roof closed.

Gave Farewell Reception

The members of the Methodist church at Elmwood and other friends of the Rev. W. B. Bliss and family, turned out to the number of 150 for a farewell reception which was held in the basement of the church for the retiring pastor, who has been assigned to a charge at Adams. The well wishes of the entire community will accompany Rev. Bliss and family to their new home.

Visited Brother Here

Paul Schlichtemeier and family of Scottbluff were guests for a day in Elmwood, visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Schlichtemeier. From here they went to Murray, where they visited with the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schlichtemeier.

While here, Paul Schlichtemeier purchased a new Chevrolet, which he will drive to his home in the west and use in the pursuit of his business there.

Home from the East

Charles Gerbeling, who has been visiting at Burlington, Iowa, and other nearby towns, returned home a week ago, being well pleased to get back home, although he had a most enjoyable visit with relatives while away, for here he meets friends at every turn, instead of seeing only one person in half a day whom he knew, as was the case there. Mr. Gerbeling lived in that vicinity fifty years ago but found many changes that have come with the intervening year, the same as are occurring in every community, but which go practically unnoticed by those who make their home in the community.

After a brief stay here, Mr. Gerbeling went over to Plattsmouth on Tuesday to visit with his son Floyd and take in the Korn Carnival.

Locates in Elmwood

Mr. and Mrs. William Plybon, who have been making their home at Salem, where Mr. Plybon was postmaster, with the change of postmaster there have moved to Elmwood to make their home. Mrs. Plybon owns a residence property here, which was the determining factor in their decision to locate here. Elmwood welcomes this family and hopes they will enjoy living here.

Gave Excellent Entertainment

The progressive spirit of the editor of the Leader-Echo and his son, George W. Blessing, prompted them to install a public address system for the presenting of programs every Saturday night and on other special occasions, which have been much enjoyed by the people of Elmwood and vicinity. The officers of the Cass county fair came and solicited a program over this system for the last day of the fair and the publisher made necessary arrangements for the same, using local talent from their regular programs. This program was greatly enjoyed by the large crowd present on the closing day of the fair, earning the unstinted praise of the fair board.

Those who appeared on the program included Miss Helen Kunz, who sang two selections, "Trees" and "I Love Life," accompanied by Mrs. Totman; Jean Adair Bothwell, who tap danced to "Sweet Sue" and "Chinatown," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Opal Clements; Dr. C. M. Totman, who sang a solo, "Old Man River," accompanied by Mrs.

Totman; Elizabeth Ann Smaha, of Murdock, who sang "Shoe-Shing Boy" and "A Rendezvous with a Dream" and did an original acrobatic dance, accompanied by Miss Jean Bornemeier, also of Murdock; Marion Williams and Edgar Luke, who gave guitar selections, "1-2-3-4," a special Hawaiian number and "Coming Through the Rye," with Marion singing "Everybody Does It in Hawaii" and closing their number with the song "Good Night, Ladies"; Richard Blessing, who sang "Bells of the Sea," with Mrs. Totman accompanying, and Fred Shellhorn with the harp and John Cardwell with the guitar rendering a number of old-time selections in their popular way.

Mother Still Poorly

Mrs. Herman Penterman, who was caring for her mother at Oxford for some time, with the seeming improvement of her mother, returned home, but has been pained to learn of a relapse in the mother's condition, requiring that she be taken to a hospital for treatment.

Effect Exchange of Pulpits

Rev. Homer Fintall, who was minister at Adams was transferred to Elmwood by the recent conference of the Methodist church, while Rev. Bliss, the minister here for the past several years is assigned to the charge at Adams, thus effecting an even exchange of pulpits. Rev. Fintall and family have moved to Elmwood to take up their work here and Rev. Bliss is now located at Adams.

Christian Church Prospering

The Christian church of Elmwood is in a healthy condition and just now the members have gotten together with the minister and placed a new shingle roof on the church building and otherwise placed it in good shape. Interest in the church work is apparent on every hand. The minister, Rev. Ernest Baker and wife have been very successful in their labor here and there is a good attendance at all services of the church, Bible school and allied organizations. The people of Elmwood are to be congratulated on the flourishing condition of their churches and the interest being shown in church work here.

Joe Corley, prominent resident of Weeping Water, was injured late Friday afternoon while here to attend the King Korn Carnival program. Mr. Corley had been sitting on the seats along the curb, watching the parade and other acts of the show. As he arose to start walking he stumbled and fell, alighting in such a manner that the little finger of the left hand was broken. He was taken to the office of Dr. O. C. Hudson where the member was dressed.

H. R. Neitzel of Boise Stops for a Short Time with Old Friends in West Cass County.

Last Wednesday Herman Neitzel, formerly a banker at Murdock, but for many years making his home at Boise, Idaho, arrived in Murdock and was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Toof for dinner.

He came to visit his brother, L. Neitzel who was very sick and as well to visit with his many friends of former years and to look after some business matters.

Speaking with the writer Mr. Neitzel had to say that the Henry A. Guthman family who make their home in Idaho, have been enjoying good health, the best Mr. Guthman has ever enjoyed. He is employed with the state. The boys are at Tucson, Ariz., where Joe is taking his second year in flying and P. R. is also there, while Joannette is taking a business course. He also reports Mrs. Guthman in excellent health. Charles Guthman is engaged in business in Boise and Charles, his son, is at Moscow in the state university. John, son of Charles is with the father in business and attending high school, and Margaret Elfen is attending the grade schools.

Speaking of M. D. Poik, former Plattsmouth citizen, who is located in Nampa, Idaho, he is now well along in years and not too robust in health, but still with the newspaper at Nampa. Mr. Neitzel says that crops were never better, for the past season has been ideal and that the farmers are all enjoying a high degree of prosperity.
