CHARGED WITH FORGERY

From Thursday's Daily
This morning in the county court Joe Roach was arraigned on a two count charge, one of forgery of a check as well as the possession of a forged check. The defendant on his arraignment before Judge A. H. Duxbury entered a plea of not guilty to the forgery charge and guilty on the possession of the forged check. On the plea of guilty to the one charge he waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the district court.

John E. Stradley Dies

John E. Stradley died Saturday, September 19, in a hospital at Rushville, Nebr., from injuries received in an accident on Thursday night, September 17, ten miles east of Gordon. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Christian church, with Rev. C. A. Park of Lincoln officiating. Burial was in the Greenwood cemetery.

John was born and reared in this community and had many relatives and friends who were shocked to learn of the tragedy. For several years he was employed as maintainer of the roads in this township. The past three months he had been working near Gordon, Nebraska.

Mr. Stradley was born May 14, 1898, at Greenwood, where he spent practically his entire life. At the age of 21, he was united in marriage to Miss Edith Dasher of Greenwood. She preceded him in death about two years ago. To this union, six children were born, Virgil, the eldest, being deceased. Merna, Lorene, Eugene, Dorothy and Donald are the surviving children. His mother, Mrs. Gertrude Stradley, five brothers, Marion, Leonard, Frank, Clarence and Alonzo, all of Waverly, and two sisters, Mrs. Fred Newsham of Greenwood and Florence of Waverly also mourn his death.

William C. Blattler

William C. Blattler, son of Mary and Jacob Blattler, was born near Clarington, Ohio, October 23, 1866, and passed away at his home near Greenwood, Nebr., Sept. 13, 1936, at the age of 69 years, 10 months and 20 days. Leaving his home in Ohio at the age of 17, he came to Nebraska, where he taught school for several years and was married in this state on November 18, 1888, to Miss Maude Disher, of Burbon, Indiana. To this union one son was born, who died in infancy.

Mr. Blattler began farming near Adam, Nebraska, where they resided twelve years. From there they moved to Edwards county, Kansas, where they lived twenty years, then returned to Nebraska and settled in Lincoln. After ten years there, they moved to Greenwood where they have since resided.

He leaves to mourn his death his wife and foster son, Charles Lau, of Firth, Nebraska, also two brothers and two sisters, George W., of Ottawa, Kansas, and Harry E. of Clarington, Ohio; Mrs. Durst of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. Wuerfel of Ann Arbor, Michigan, besides a host of staunch friends and acquaintances here and at other points where they have resided.

39 Contributors Offer Works for Fine Art Exhibit

First Show of Cass County Artists Offers a Wide Variety of Types in Unusual Exhibits.

Another of the new features of the King Korn Karnival that is attracting a great deal of attention this year is the exhibition of art. Misses Anna Peoples and Marie E. Kaufmann have charge of the show. Thirty-nine contributors have brought in fine works in oil, pastel, crayola, water color, pen and ink, pencil, silhouette, photography, weaving, woodwork, and soap carving.

Among the outstanding pieces on display are the oils by Frederick Schultz. A small sunset scene in oil by Miss Marie Kaufmann is probably among the most lovely pieces in the exhibit. Other of the attractive exhibits are those of King Clark. They have an especial appeal for children. Miss Anna Peoples has an outstanding scene along the Missouri. A dog picture is on exhibit by Val Burkel which was painted 45 years ago.

A crayola piece by Mata Schackneis is bringing a great deal of comment, also water colors by Mrs. F. M. McFarland. From Villa Asch comes a bright collection of paintings by Mr. Asch. Mrs. Virginia Marshall, who is now studying designing, has some of her pencil work on display. Frank Gobelman has a fine picture of a deer in oils.

Unusual Exhibits

Some of the unusual exhibits are weaving by Miss Matilda Soennichsen; cutout work by Mrs. Catherine Herbster, boats by Herman Reichstadt, sailor knots by Boyd Roberts, soap carvings by Mrs. Earl Carr, hand painted china, and dolls in costume.

Thelma Kruger, 11, is among the youngest exhibitors. Henry Kaffenberger, 16, has some fine woodwork on exhibit. George Ebersole has modeled a steamer. Probably the most unusual exhibit is a Dutch windmill made by Freeman McFarland of matches.

Many Contributors.

Contributors to the art exhibit are: Frank Gobelman, Mata Schackneis, Anna Peoples, King Clark, Mike Tritsch, Friederich Schultz, Val Burkel, Ferrie Sisters, Jack Hatt, James Webb, Mrs. Dovie Asch, Mrs. F. McFarland, McFarland Studio, Mrs. Catherine Herbster, B. Roberts, Herman Reichstadt, Mrs. Erma Shearer, Mrs. Earl Carr, Barbara Rhoden, George Ebersole, Mrs. Chriswiser, James Yelick, Mrs. Emmons Ptak, B. Rishel, Norris Hennings, Inga Reichstadt, Mrs. Howland King, Mrs. W. Baird, Matilda Soennichsen, Virgil Kline, Henry Kaffenberger, Dale Bowman, Margaret Yelick, Thelma Kruger, City High School, Marie E. Kaufmann.

Rock surfacing of farm-to-market roads this winter will be of benefit to every resident and land owner in Cass county.

AN UNUSUAL TREAT

One of the outstanding features of the King Korn Karnival of this year has been the visit here of the symphony orchestra, composed of the leading musical talent of Omaha, a part of the recreational program of the WPA.

The orchestra of some thirty pieces, was directed by Ernest Nordine, Sr., one of the best directors in the west and who was for many years leader of the Orpheum, World and Rialto orchestras in Omaha and is known to hundreds over the state for his splendid work. Joseph Ryan, concert master is also one of the leading musicians of Omaha.

Each member of the orchestra represented the best in his line and certainly their visit to Plattsburgh was an occasion deeply appreciated by the lovers of music.

Ordinarily an orchestra of the size and character of this group would have cost a great deal of money to have presented in a community like this, but under the advantages of the musical project of the WPA, they were secured for the actual cost of transportation.

That this aggregation may be heard here again is the wish of all who heard the concert.

OLD RESIDENTS HERE

Friday of the King Korn Karnival brought back here many of the old time residents who many years ago made this city their home, who have still a very warm spot for the old town by the river.

Among those who were on the streets meeting the old acquaintances were Attorney John C. Hartigan of Hastings, who was accompanied by his wife and his son and wife. Tom Clifford, a resident of Los Angeles for many years, was back for the homecoming and to visit his sister, Miss Josephine. Others from nearby points included Mrs. Nellie Agnew and daughter, Mrs. Kate Morgan, Mrs. J. D. McBride, Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Sherman of Lincoln; Mrs. Edna Evans of Lincoln and Mrs. Maude Breeze of Red Oak, Iowa.

farm land. They report having had an excellent time.

John Hallstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hallstrom has been having a siege with boils during the past week, having four on his arms, which were very painful. They are getting better now, however, and he is not sorry.

Roy Lum and sister, Gertrude, of Portland, Oregon, who have been visiting here, at Nebraska City and Verdon, departed last Tuesday morning via the Union Pacific for their home in the west. They enjoyed a very pleasant visit here.

Extending Stay in West

Fred Marquardt and wife, who have been in the west during the past two week, write that they were going on out to Salt Lake City for a visit before returning home. They are enjoying their trip very much and are rather uncertain of the exact time they will return home, for there is much of interest to see in the west.

Placing Roof on Lumber Shed

The lumber sheds of H. M. Lum, which have served their purpose, have been in such shape that the roof leaks badly, especially since the hail of last spring, and so it was decided to reshingle the roof. The old shingles are not being removed, but new ones laid over them. Ed Shackley is doing the work.

Avoca Home Sells

The home of Mrs. Lucy Johnson, which was advertised to sell a week ago, was purchased by C. O. Zaiser. The price is reported as being $1,830, which is but a fraction of the original cost. This is one of the very best homes in Avoca and has been kept in good condition. It will make Mr. and Mrs. Zaiser an excellent home.
