DEBATE CLASS STUDYING BACKGROUND FOR QUESTION

Students of the debate class in the Plattsmouth high school have been searching the city library for various books on socialism. The topic is being studied as a background for the question "Resolved: The government should own and control all electrical utilities." Debate material arrived yesterday from the state office. Among the pamphlets are some from the Edison Institute of New York City.

LEAVING FOR CALIFORNIA

From Tuesday's Daily
This morning a group of Plattsmouth residents departed by auto for California where they are expecting to make their home. The party comprised Mr. and Mrs. Claude Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Kennedy and family and Mr. and Mrs. Joe McKain and family. They are going to Williams, in the vicinity of Sacramento, where the men are expecting to be engaged in river improvement work.

STOP HERE ON TRIP

From Wednesday's Daily
This morning the members of the Omaha symphony orchestra, sponsored by the WPA, made a short stop here for breakfast while en route south. They enjoyed their meal at the Shea cafe and then continued on to Pawnee City. They are to appear there in a public entertainment. This is the orchestra that played during the coronation ceremonies at the King Korn Carnival.

Small factories will find splendid opportunities to expand here. Among them, forthcoming river navigation with its resultant low shipping costs.

Women's Project Clubs Begin Year's Work.

The 1936-37 Women's project club year officially opened, Wednesday, September 30th, when the first training meeting of the year was held at the Congregational church in Weeping Water. Similar training meetings followed on October 1 and 2 at Nehawka and Louisville. The remainder of this series of training meetings will follow.

In preparation for the first series of training meetings the county and group chairmen, and group song leaders, accompanied the Home Agent to Lincoln Tuesday of this week where they attended a meeting conducted by Miss Mary-Ellen Brown, state extension agent in women's work, and Mrs. N. W. Gaines. Aside from presenting the first project club lesson on "The Important Job of Homemaking," which the group chairmen will bring back to the county, Miss Brown and Mrs. Gaines gave special assistance on the work of the club officers, namely the president, social leader and secretaries.

At the series of training meetings being held in the county this week the presidents, social leaders and secretaries of each of the clubs represented at the training centers, have been in attendance. Project club leaders will be scheduled to take up their work until the second project club lesson is presented. The reason for this is so that the club officers may receive the benefits of a special training meeting given over to their particular duties. At the same time they receive instructions for carrying the demonstration on "The Important Job of Homemaking," back to their club members.

The five other lessons included in this year's series are: "Adding Beauty to Our Homes," "Attractive Articles One Can Make," "Satisfying Meals," and "One Dish Meals." These lessons will be presented to the clubs by their regularly elected project club leaders.

Hold Demonstration at Sorghum Variety Plot.

Farmers attending the sorghum demonstration at Oscar Domingo's farm, agreed that Atlas Sorgho and Waconia Orange proved to be the best forage varieties for Cass county. Their yields in the test plot were about nine tons per acre. Waconia Orange is a little earlier maturing than is the Atlas Sorgho. Both the Atlas and the Waconia Orange have a much smaller and less woody stem and more leaf growth. They also have a much sweeter stem than does the Hegari which yielded almost as much per acre.

The yield of corn is about 1 1/2 tons per acre and would make very poor fodder.

Kato is probably the best of the grain sorghums but it is not recommended that much grain sorghums be planted because in a favorable season the yield is not high enough to compare with corn and in an unfavorable season the yield is low.

With so many silos being used, it would probably be good insurance and a good practice to plant a few acres of sorghums every year. Even in a drought year sorghums produce a feed supply.

Build Community Spirit Through Use of Plays.

The liveliest, happiest and most harmonious communities that we know of are those which provide a regular get-together at stated intervals for community activities. These meetings are often strictly educational or strictly recreational but most often they are a happy combination of both. Community spirit—that's what makes life in rural communities worth living. Any means of improving it and building neighbors together is a step in the right direction.

One of the best means of improving community living is the community play. In the home community activities are needed that attract and enthrall onlookers as well as those taking part. The play does that very thing. There is a play loan service available through the Extension Service, conducted by N. W. Gaines, extension specialist in community organization. Rural Program Service I. is an extension circular entitled "Suggested Plays, Stunts and Dialogs," which lists one, two and three act royalty and non-royalty plays. Copies of from one to five of these plays listed in the circular may be obtained for reading purposes providing the borrower agrees to return the plays at own expense within one week from the date they are received. Mr. Gaines has a library of 1200 plays at disposal. You may obtain copies of the above circular at the Farm Bureau office, and requests for the plays should also be made through this office. Why not make plans now for the presentation of a play once each month as part of your community recreation during the late fall and winter months?

Corn Seed Loan.

An emergency federal seed corn loan program to assure Nebraska and Cass county farmers of adequate supplies of seed corn for spring planting will soon be in operation, according to word received here. The Commodity Credit Corporation will handle the loans.

Two types of loans on farm-stored seed corn will be available, according to tentative plans. The first is a loan of $1.75 per bushel on field-selected corn which meets proper germination and storage requirements. The second will be a loan of 55 cents per bushel on good quality and properly stored cribbed corn which can be sorted for seed at a later date. Each loan agreement carries with it an option right or purchase by the government at a rate considerably above the loan-value rate.

The $1.75 loan will be made per bushel of 70 pounds ear corn that has been selected from the field before frost, tested for germination, stored in suitable farm structures and sealed in accordance with the farm warehouse legislation of Nebraska. The quantity of corn upon which this loan will be made will be limited to one million bushels adaptable for seed in drought areas. To be sure that loans under this phase of the program are made only on seed corn adaptable for use in the seed-deficient areas, P. H. Stewart, extension agronomist at the college of agriculture and his associates have been asked to determine the counties where loans are to be made, as well as the type and amounts of corn to be sealed in the various counties.

As a means of knowing the accurate seed corn situation, a survey of supplies and needs has been completed at extension program planning meetings which have been held in all parts of the state.

The loan note agreement carries an option which provides that the government may purchase the corn at the rate of $3.50 per bushel of 56 pounds of sacked shelled corn. In the event the borrower desires to repay his loan, a procedure provides for the release of the option right of the government.

Reduced Freight Rates.

Reduced railroad freight rates on practically all classes of livestock feed as an emergency drought measure are now in force, according to information on file in the agent's office. The rates vary from 50 per cent up to 66 2/3 per cent of the usual rate.

Information issued by the Western Trunk Lines indicates that any rates are made for charitable purposes and apply only on shipments consigned to designated state or federal government representatives. Here in Cass county such shipments, in order to qualify for the reduced rates must be consigned to the agricultural agent, and drought rate certificates issued by the agent.

On hay, alfalfa hay (not chopped or ground), millet hay and the like, the rate has been reduced to 66 2/3 per cent. A 50 per cent rate has been granted on shipments of ensilage, fodder, stover, straw, beet tops and cornstalks. The rate on alfalfa chopped or ground, barley, bran, cottonseed cake, grains, oats, linseed meal or cake, grain sorghums and soybean meal or cake has been reduced to 66 2/3 per cent of the usual rate.

Emergency Live Stock Day.

Devoting attention to all branches of the live stock industry, the annual "Rooter's Day" program at the Nebraska College of Agriculture this year will be replaced by a discussion of emergency live stock problems. The event is scheduled for Friday, October 9.

The change in the program was made to answer serious problems facing not only the hog producer but also dairymen, poultrymen, beef cattle producers and all classes of live stock. There will be discussions on feeding dairy cattle, beef cattle and all live stock. Methods of utilizing drought silage, corn fodder, feeding molasses and other similar problems will be discussed, according to Prof. Wm. J. Loeffel, who is in charge of the program. Cass county farmers have been invited to attend.

A Distinction Without a Difference.

Many people think that "economy in the food budget" must mean either a decrease in the total food value, or foregoing many items that make appetizing meals. A food specialist has compiled two lists of foods commonly found on many family grocery orders each week. The difference in food value in the two lists is negligible. The second list however runs very much lower in cost. A resourceful cook can prepare the second list into such tempting meals that the family will not realize "economy measures" are being practiced on them. And no doubt many uses can be found for the several dollars weekly that can be saved. If interested in these lists, write or ask for Extension Circular 9912.

Cass county has no bonded indebtedness, as, like the state, it has paid cash for its gravel roads and other improvements. That's
