Hallowe'en Party at Chet Wiles Home

Attractive Home in Mynard Scene of Large Party With Settings of the Fall Season.

The village of Mynard was the scene of a Hallowe'en festival on Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wiles entertained a group of their friends at their home.

A ghostly atmosphere prevailed throughout the spacious halls and rooms, while at the front entrance was a green lighted jack-o-lantern placed just outside the door, as if to beckon the guests to enter there.

Upon knocking at the door, the guests, in costume, entered the dimly lighted reception hall, where a ghost was seated at a table, upon which were cards, with directions where they were to go.

As the ghost handed out each card, it flashed the light and they followed instructions. They ascended the stairs, quietly, and on reaching the second floor, gruesome sights continued, as they wandered down the long hallway, stumbling over various "paraphernalia" such as hidden bed-springs, walnuts, etc., with doors suddenly opening in a most mysterious manner, they reached the back stairway and descended to find themselves in the dimly lighted kitchen.

A ghost ushered them into the living rooms where amid the spooky decorations they eagerly tried to learn the identity of the costumed and masked guests. There was great merriment when the hostess ordered "masks off." Prizes were awarded for the best costumed couples, the first prize going to Mr. and Mrs. John Galloway of Omaha, whose Chinese costumes were very unique; second prize went to Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Tritley of Omaha, in their typical Spanish regalia. There were many other make-ups that were also splendid.

Then followed tricks and ghostly games, after which all enjoyed dancing to the radio music.

At a late hour refreshments were served, and were in keeping with the Hallowe'en colors. Mrs. Hiles was assisted in the serving by Miss Ruth Alxen and Mrs. Fred Tritley.

Mrs. A. C. Nelson Speaks Before Garden Club

Members Enjoy Fine Address Covering Cultivation of "Bulbs" at Meeting Wednesday.

From Thursday's Daily
"Bulbs" was the topic upon which Mrs. A. C. Nelson of Lincoln addressed the Garden club last evening at the meeting in the basement of the library. Mrs. Nelson gave several general rules for the planting of bulbs—first, thorough drainage; second, cover three times the widest diameter; third, bulbs should have one good soaking before winter; and fourth, they should have a mulch through the winter.

The president of the Lincoln Garden club urged the gardeners to place the bulb flowers in groups rather than in formal arrangement. She mentioned crocus as an appropriate plant for edging, if not too narrow.

She described the many varieties of tulips and told the characteristics of each. She explained the arrangement of a garden which might last over a period of six weeks. She mentioned, as combinations with tulips for beds, columbine, lilacs, or pansies.

"Use lots of white in your garden. It is a great harmonizer," said Mrs. Nelson.

She also warned against removing leaves from the bulbs before they were entirely ripe as the bulb will not blossom again if this is done. She advocates the resetting of tulip bulbs each two years.

The boy's high school octet, accompanied by Jean Knorr, sang "Alexander" and a piano solo, "Country Garden" was played by Ruth Westover.

NURSE IS AVAILABLE FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

General physical examinations of the eyes, ears, nose, throat and weight of the children in the Plattsmouth schools are taking most of the time of the school nurse this month. Mrs. Justus Lillie, school nurse, spends Monday and Tuesday afternoons in the class rooms. The general examination will probably continue until the holidays. Parents of children having defects will be notified.

Other activities of the school nurse include health talks to the grade school pupils, two lessons in sex hygiene in the junior high, and three talks before the girls of the high school. If any parent desires to talk with the nurse concerning a child, she is available during her working hours. She will also make calls in the homes.

As spring comes, close watch will be kept for signs of contagious diseases. Last year the school had sieges of scarlet fever, chicken pox, measles, mumps and pink eye. The nurse also acts as an advisor for teachers.

Mrs. Lillie is employed by the board of education. She took her nurse's training in the Methodist hospital in Omaha from which she was graduated in 1931.

Plattsmouth Young Man Has War Experience

Arlie Griffin, Home on Furlough, Has Just Returned From European Cruise.

Arlie Griffin, Plattsmouth young man, who is now completing his tenth year in the United States navy, is home on a furlough and visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Griffin.

Arlie is now a member of the crew of the "Quincy," one of the newest types of battle cruisers, which has just returned to the United States from Spain where the vessel was assigned for several months in rescuing the American residents.

He reports that the conditions in that country, torn by civil war are much worse than press dispatches state and terror reigns among the unfortunate non-combatants who are among the greatest sufferers.

The "Quincy" assisted in getting 500 refugees from Barcelona, Valencia and Malaga, largely Americans who had been engaged in various business connections in Spain for years and whose interests were being swept away in the struggle of the Madrid leftist government and the fascist rebels. The most harrowing scenes were witnessed as the Americans proceeded to clear their nationals and had them taken to places of safety. When the work was completed the "Quincy" was ordered back to the home station which is now on the east coast.

Arlie is now a head cook on the "Quincy" and has a large staff of assistants to help in the work of feeding the gobs and keeping them in fighting trim. Breakfast on a warship for a crew of 600 is a real job as the fact that on occasions when pancakes are served, that 1,800 are required, or in eggs ninety dozen go at one meal on the boat.

Dr. Holt Urges People to Become Conscious of God

Pastor of St. John's Methodist Church of St. Louis Tells of Need for An Awakening.

From Saturday's Daily
Rev. Ivan D. Holt, D.D., president of the council of churches of Christ in America opened his address in the Methodist church last evening with a short history of the National Preaching Mission. The idea for such a mission originated with a minister in the Presbyterian church in Pittsburgh. When Dr. Holt became president of the Council, he decided to attempt such a movement. 60 ministers from all denominations are participating in the mission which will visit 25 cities of the United States. Dr. Holt estimated that 10,000 ministers have attended the mission services in the ten cities it has visited.

Tells Need for Mission.
In expressing the need for such a movement, the speaker told of conditions which have existed in Christian nations all over the world in recent years. He was in France just before the close of the World war and saw the people confused and wondering if they were near the end of their nationality. In 1920, when MacDonald resigned the ministry in England and Stanley Baldwin refused to assume the responsibility of forming a new cabinet, he heard the people ask "Is this the end of the British Empire?"

Rev. Holt, as well as other ministers, have watched European countries; fascist and communist movements and finally succumb to one or the other. In United States in 1933 they saw banks closing and the national structure on the verge of collapse. People were wondering if this were the end of United States.

He stated, in regard to the number of communist and fascist workers in the United States that there are "now very few even though, in a political way, we are always seeking for them. However, if European nations, one, by one, do attempt one or the other, United States may someday be faced with a choice. I believe one is just as bad as the other.

Comments on Spanish Situation.
"400 years ago the Christians in Spain drove out the Mohammedans," said Dr. Holt. "They desired to make Spain a Christian land. Now priests are being beheaded and nuns are being shot—that's a Christian land.

"All these things are heaving the world," he concluded. "If we do not exert ourselves we will lose faith." He told that only 50 to 60 percent of the people in the United States are affiliated with any church while in the Fiji Islands, usually considered barbarous, 81 percent of the inhabitants belong to the Christian church.

"Conditions in our own church are not healthy. . . . The minister is not as sure of God as he used to be. The ministers in this country are confused in their thinking. . . . Most of them are discouraged and disillusioned," he said.

Conflicts in Ideas.
At the end of the World war, he explained, the ministers had hope for world peace, but they saw that hope destroyed. The minister has also faced conflict between the forces of religion—one of which told him to talk religion into life in the world, the other urging him to get out of the world and meditate. In the first he found no one listening—in the second, he was not expressing the conviction himself.

Dr. Holt also told of the confusion of thought created by the "new psychology" which claims that mankind contains a sub-conscious self which in a moment can rise and make him do things he would have believed impossible. "So a man is not responsible for his action if he does not know what he does. If he is not conscious—there is no sin, according to this idea," said Dr. Holt.

"If we are not very sure God is alive, there is not much we can do," he declared, "but if we're perfectly sure God is alive, we are in our element and can do wonderful work."

Rev. G. A. Pahl, Jr., read the scripture lesson. Introduction were made by Rev. V. C. Wright. Dr. H. G. McClusky

Clusky told of the progress of the Preaching Mission in Omaha. Rev. J. W. Taenzler pronounced the invocation.

GOING TO THE WEST
Russell Todd and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Todd departed this afternoon for the west coast where they are planning on spending the winter. They will join Mrs. Russell Todd and son, Forest, who have been at Los Angeles for the past several weeks.

Opportunity to Balance the Home Budget
Plattsmouth Ad Club Sponsoring a Page of "Budget Balancers" in This Issue of Journal
We hear a lot these days about the importance of balancing the national or the state budgets. Yet, it is no more important that the receipts of government equal the expenditures than to attain that same condition in the home. Everybody knows that price levels have been climbing on practically every commodity sold, and as a result it is increasingly hard to balance that old home budget. Many pencils are used in the homes of the nation to "figure out" just how to make the income supply the needs—shoes, clothing, foodstuffs and all the other things, including medicines, cosmetics, etc.

The Plattsmouth merchants whose ads appear in this page of "Budget Balancers" contend it is not so much a matter of scrimping as it is a matter of planned economy to make ends meet and they are co-operating wholeheartedly to give the buying public diversified specials that will help to bring this about.

Nor will their efforts be confined to this one special sales day alone, for it is planned to make this the first of a series of monthly bargain trade days, when shoppers can reap the advantage of reduced cash prices. The prices being put down to bedrock it is necessary, as the ad states, that all sales be for cash.

The manner in which the public responds to this united effort to hold prices down will determine the nature of future sale days. The page is purchased outright by the Ad club, and solicitation for advertisements therein is wholly within their hands.

Platters Win a 7 to 6 Game from Auburn

Blue and White Turn Back Bulldogs After Years of Being Booted Around.

From Saturday's Daily:
The long standing jinx of the Plattsmouth high school football team—the Auburn Bulldogs, were folded up last night by the Platters in a 7 to 6 win. The best that the locals have been able to accomplish was a tie which was secured by the team of 1932, one of the best in the school history.

The game last night was enjoyed by a hardy band of the fans who braved the wintry blasts to enjoy a fine game and one that was fought hard to the last whistle.

The visitors had two real football men in Grant and Hutton and who were the sparkplugs of the Bulldogs in their attacks on the Platters while Wooster, Forbes and Carey were in the forefront of the local ball lugging.

The veterans to the Platter line checked the visitors offense until the green shirted gridsters took to the airways, making a strong bid for final victory.

The Plattsmouth score came in the second quarter of the game. The Platters were held for down and then Grant booted the ball out for Auburn. Carey making a nice return of the ball. On the next play Wooster battled through for a gain that lacked inches of a first down. Carey skirted the end on the succeeding play for the down. Carey then tried the visitors left end and advanced the ball to the Auburn nineteen yard stripe. Wooster drove his way to the fifteen yard line and the prospects of a touchdown drew the fans to their feet. Wooster advanced through the Auburn line to the twelve yard stripe as the Platters continued their drive, Miller then came around end for a first down on the Auburn ten yard marker. Wooster, hard battling full-back again responded to the call through the left end carried the ball to the five yard line, taking the ball in an off tackle play in the next few seconds over the goal line for the touchdown, playing the Platters out in front. Carey smashed through for the extra point and the score was 7 to 0 for the locals.

The half opened with Auburn kicking off and a good return by Miller. The Platters drew a fifteen yard penalty which was not so good for the local offensive. Miller gained back six yards but the downs forced a kick which Hutton, clever and elusive back brought back to the mid-field section. It was then that the visitors uncorked their bag of air tricks, that caught the Platters flat footed, when Grant drove a pass to Hutton, that fleet footed back who was over for the touchdown for the Bulldogs. The try for point failed and left the Platters the margin that was later to mean victory.

In the last quarter a well sustained passing attack by Auburn was a real threat and carried the ball to the Platter nine yard marker, the visitors using a triple pass time after time for good gains. Grant, Grist and Smith being the mainsprings of the play.

The passing battle continued for the rest of the game and the visitors held the advantage until one of their heaves landed in the arms of Earl Taylor to check the threat as the game ended in a few moments.

Plattsmouth will play Blair here on next Friday night.

The loud speaker supplied for the game by Charles Tunnel, did a great service and made possible all of the spectators to keep track of the play and players. Carl Schneider did a very neat job of announcing the plays as he has a clear grasp of the game and rules and had the play quickly relayed to the auditors.

This feature will be continued for the season and is one that the public will appreciate very much.

100 ATTEND RALLY IN ROCK BLUFFS

From Saturday's Daily:
100 attended the Democratic rally in the Rock Bluffs school last evening. Mike Kaffenberger, committeeman, presided over the meeting. A campaign song, composed and led by Mrs. Mike Kaffenberger, opened the evening's program. Music was furnished by the Rock Bluffs orchestra. Bobbie Shera gave a reading.

Judge C. S. Wortman of South Bend was the main speaker of the evening. J. A. Capwell, candidate for county attorney; A. L. Tidd; and Julius Pitz, candidate for county commissioner were also on the program for short talks. At the close of the meeting the ladies served coffee and doughnuts.

RESTAURANT CHANGES HANDS

The Plattsmouth cafe was formally taken over Friday by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Mullican, who are now in charge, but will have their formal opening next Saturday. The proprietors, who come here from Lincoln, are experienced restaurant people, and are planning a number of changes which they feel will be more pleasing to the patrons.

The formal announcement of the opening will appear in the Journal on Thursday.
