Fairmont Farmer and Son Burn to Death; Rescue 5

Harvey Perkins and Son Die—Hand Five Children Through Window of the House.

Fairmont, Neb.—Rescuing five of his children from their blazing farm home near here early Tuesday, Harvey Perkins, 32, was burned to death as he attempted to rescue another son, Max, 11, who died in flames with his father.

Mrs. Perkins, a 20-months old daughter, Donna, and the other five children, escaped uninjured. The home, four miles northwest of Fairmont, was destroyed. The bodies of Perkins and his son were recovered during the morning.

Perkins, his wife and Donna were sleeping downstairs when they were awakened at about 2 a. m. by the flames, which apparently started in the kitchen. Mrs. Perkins rushed outside with the baby and Perkins started up the stairs, partially blocked by flames, to the second floor.

Fighting his way thru the fire, Perkins roused five of the children and handed them out the window to his wife, waiting below. He passed Marjorie, 13, Dean, 6, Charlotte 10, Betty 5, and Norman 3, to safety and then turned for Max.

Mrs. Perkins waited, but her husband did not reappear and the floors of the house collapsed, hurling Max and his father to the basement. Neighbors did not learn of the fire until Mrs. Perkins and her children appeared at a nearby farm, and by the time helpers reached the Perkins home, they were too late to help.

Mrs. Perkins was unable to advance any reason for the blaze and was unable to estimate the loss. The home was owned by Alex Perkins, father of Harvey.

CARD OF THANKS

To the many kind friends and neighbors we desire to express our deep gratitude for their acts of kindness and words of sympathy. Also to the friends taking part in the services and for the beautiful flowers we wish to return our thanks.—Mrs. Fred Baumgart, Children and Grandchildren.

She Drew A 100-1 Shot in the Irish Sweepstakes

The shock of hearing she had drawn a 100 to 1 shot, Papyrette, entered in the Cambridgeshire, on which the Irish Sweepstakes is figured, proved too much for Mrs. Mary Blair of East Orange, N. J. She is shown being revived by her brother, John.

CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN

Children of the rural schools of Nebraska will have an important part in conducting the thirtieth annual Christmas Seal sale in their respective communities, this year, by acting as "messengers" for 75 county school superintendents who are serving as rural Seal Sale chairman.

According to plans announced by Miss Alice Marshall, executive secretary of the Nebraska Tuberculosis association, the system to be used is called "The Messenger Plan."

By this plan, seals are folded and placed in an unsealed envelope, accompanied by an explanatory letter. When the sale opens on Thanksgiving Day, these envelopes are distributed among the school children, who act as messengers in delivering them to homes in assigned districts. A week later the messenger returns to the home, picks up the envelope, which should be sealed by the householder, and returns it to school.

By this means each family is given an opportunity to buy Christmas Seals, the children have a part in their distribution, and the sale of these penny stamps which mean health and happiness to every community is facilitated.

"NO MAN'S COLLAR"

From Nebraska City News-Press
October 11, 1936

NEW Deal congressional aspirants who seek re-election are said to object to the inference that they were rubber-stamps doing the bidding of the New Deal oligarchy. More specifically, a New Deal aspirant for Congress in Nebraska is said to have suggested to a friend that such a line of argument as that connoted by "rubber stamp" should be eliminated from the campaign because it is not "fair."

If there are any unfair implications, the obligation lies on the New Deal congressmen who forgot in their enthusiasm and worship of the Oligarchy that they were elected to serve the people of their districts on the platform of 1932 which pledged economy in national affairs, a reduction in the number of employes on the federal payroll and the ending of commissions, committees and agencies of government.

No such pledges were kept; no 1932 platform promise has been treated with any greater consideration than that "love and affection" which is lavished on an unwanted stepchild.

Specifically, for example, the First District of Nebraska is entitled to representation by a man who will not only look upon his job as a delegation of authority from the people, but who will keep his party's pledge to end the wasting program in Washington.

It is for this reason, and many others, that The News-Press believes the First District of Nebraska will be best served by the election of the independent, clear-thinking, courageous Judge Ernest B. Perry.
