International Relations on Club Program

Miss Jessie Whalen Speaker and Has Spain and Its Problems as the Subject.

From Tuesday's Daily—
Miss Jessie Whalen talked upon the present situation in Spain at the meeting of the Plattsmouth Woman's club last evening. She said that the whole problem in Spain is that of emerging from feudalism. The speaker explained that Spain attempted to accomplish in five years what other European nations have taken centuries to accomplish.

She explained the isolated position of Spain showing the reason it has held the feudal system. The country is bounded upon the north by the Pyrenees, a very difficult range to cross. She also stated that the country is in dire poverty because of the lack of natural resources. The people are still in the pastoral stage of development and three-fourths of the population depend upon farming for their livelihood. The average wage in Spain has been 28 cents per day.

The two avenues to power are the church and the army. The church is a mediaeval organization. 45 to 50 per cent of the people cannot read and write. Thus, she emphasized, the February election and the swing to the left are only the immediate cause of the war in Spain. "After the battle of Madrid is fought," Miss Whalen predicted, "the problem will become a world problem."

Rev. G. A. Pahl, Jr., led devotions. He used the theme of Thanksgiving and told of things we should not be thankful as well as those for which we should be thankful. Some of the undesirable were maldistribution of wealth and purchasing power, and the set-up in the world by which heavy armaments are believed to be the protection against war.

During the business meeting of the new club programs were distributed. Plans were also made for a card party to be given Wednesday evening, Dec. 2. The ladies also voted to give a book to the city library as an observation of book week. Music was furnished by the girls' sextette from the high school. They sang Liebestraut and Little Pee-Weet. Members were Helen Hiatt, Margaret Ann Vallery, Flora Bell Meade, Wilma Swatek, Mildred Knoficek, and Eleanor Minor. They were accompanied by Edna Mae Petersen. Margaret Ann and Flora Bell were high school guests. Mrs. Ernest Tindall of Lincoln was also a guest at the meeting. Mrs. Glen Vallery was hostess to the meeting. She was assisted by Mrs. Harrison Gayer, Mrs. J. A. Capwell, and Mrs. Don Cramer.

This summer the work on the division has been very heavy both in the passenger and freight handlings through the mountain division.

The mountain division has a large number of the heavy locomotives in use and which have handled the ever mounting volume of business.

Murray Lady a Pioneer of the Territorial Days

Mrs. Sarah Oldham a Resident for More Than Eighty Years of the Vicinity of Murray.

Mrs. Sarah Oldham, for more than eighty years a resident of the vicinity of Murray, passed away at the family home in that place on last Tuesday afternoon and was laid to the last rest at Oak Hill cemetery in this city on Friday, beside the husband and daughter, who had preceded her in death.

Sarah Storey was born April 11, 1848, at Jintown, Pennsylvania, where the first seven years of her life were spent. With her parents she came to Nebraska in 1857 and settled in Cass county, then a wild and unsettled community save for the small settlements along the Missouri river. In the year that the family first located in Nebraska, there were still many Indians roving and several fights with the whites occurred not far from the west boundaries of the county.

On November 8, 1870, Miss Storey and Lee Oldham were united in marriage, they settling on the farm at Murray and where they lived the remaining years of their lifetime. There were three children born to them, George Oldham, who died in 1876, Pauline, who is now Mrs. Albert A. Young, and Fay Oldham, who passed away in 1920. Mrs. Young now being the only surviving member of the family.

Early in life Mrs. Oldham united with the Presbyterian church and was active in the church up to the time that her poor health prevented her usual activities.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Oldham were ardent members of the democratic party and in the historic campaign of 1896, their home was the center of much of the political activity of Cass county. They entertained on this campaign, William Jennings Bryan, the candidate for president and a warm personal friend of the family, a great crowd of the residents of the county gathering to join in the welcome to him.

Mrs. Oldham had retained a splendid recollection of the early days in Nebraska and was one of the last of the residents whose lifetime reached back to the early pioneer days. In her going the community has lost a well known and loved figure who will be greatly missed.

FUNERAL OF MRS. CAMPBELL

The funeral of Mrs. Andrew Campbell was held on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Lewiston church south of the city. A very large number of the old friends and neighbors were present to pay their last tributes to the departed friend.

Rev. W. A. Taylor of Union, a life-long friend of the family, was in charge of the services and the message he brought was most comforting. He paid a fine tribute to the memory of the departed.

During the services a quartet composed of Frank A. Clويد, H. G. McClusky, Raymond Cook and R. W. Knorr gave two of the old and loved hymns, "Sometime We'll Understand" and "Jesus Savior Pilot Me."

The interment was at the Lewiston cemetery, the Sattler funeral home being in charge.

Cruise Bound Over to District Court for Trial

Preliminary Hearing Held in County Court Tuesday Afternoon Before Judge Duxbury.

From Wednesday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon the preliminary hearing of P. B. Cruise, former Eagle lumber dealer, was held in the county court before Judge A. H. Duxbury. There was a large number in attendance at the hearing from Eagle and Lincoln to participate in the hearing.

Mr. Cruise is charged with embezzlement and larceny ad bailee, and it is claimed that he turned two checks issued by the Searl & Chapin Lumber Co., to his own use by endorsing them and having them paid to a Lincoln grain firm.

The check transactions occurred in April 1934 and shortly after that time Mr. Cruise left Eagle and his whereabouts was unknown until a month ago when he was arrested in Los Angeles. He was held for the Nebraska officers and returned here by Sheriff Homer Sylvester to face the charges.

The state offered the evidence of officers of the Searl & Chapin Lumber Co., of which Mr. Cruise was manager of the Eagle branch, as well as the parties in whose favor the checks were drawn but who failed to receive them.

The defense offered no evidence in the case and at the conclusion Judge Duxbury bound the defendant over to the district court for trial at the next term.

Bond was fixed at $1,500 but which has so far not been supplied.
