WEEPING WATER P. O. TO HAVE NEW FIXTURES

Up-to-date post office equipment arrived last week for the Weeping Water office. The lease upon the building occupied at the present time has recently been renewed for a ten year period.

Walter D. Love is installing the new furnishings. With the additions Postmaster Sterling Amick and assistant, Harold Baker, will have a better place to work and the patrons of the office, much better accommodations for receiving their mail. Weeping Water is to be congratulated upon the improvements.

Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday, November 29th By L. Neitzel, Murdock, Neb.

"Christian Brotherhood" Philemon 4:20.

This lesson opens up a great question, namely: "Is the human race a brotherhood?" Not many are agreed to that. Large numbers in America do not regard the Negro as equal of the white man; the caste system in India is moved by the same motive. We have, therefore, race prejudices and hatred. Slavery regards their subjects as chattels to be bought and sold, like animals. Only Christianity recognized the fact that all men belong to one brotherhood; originating from "one blood all nations of men." (Acts 17:26; Gen. 3:20; 9:10; Mal. 2:10). This is reflected in John's vision (Rev. 7:9) as the redeemed come to the celestial city. Peter gave voice to this great truth in Cornelius' house, when he opened the Kingdom to the Gentiles: "Of a truth, I perceive that God is no respecter of persons;" before him all are alike. Paul is teaching in this lesson the real brotherhood which is in Jesus Christ, being baptized with the same spirit. "There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female, for ye are all one in Christ Jesus." (Gal. 3:28). This question being settled, we can now proceed with our lesson.

This short letter of 25 verses shows us the writer in a new role, full of pathos; a different mentality than when he wrote to the Corinthians (4:18-21). A number of emotions are recorded in the first seven verses. Paul is in Rome, a prisoner, receiving reports from different churches, and writing Epistles to them according to the conditions prevailing. Ephesian, Colossian, Philippian and Philemon are the product of this period. At Colossae is a family, well-to-do, for they could afford slaves; Philemon Apphia, his wife and Archippus, the son. Converted by Paul, when in Ephesus, they had gone to Colossae. Their home was a meeting place for what Christians there were at that place. Something happened in that home: One day Onesimus, a slave, is missing, and with him some valuables from the house. A search did not bring him back; but he went a long way to hide, many miles lay between him and Philemon's home. He turns up in Rome, and God leads this runaway slave to where he hears Paul preach. Having heard, in the church in Philemon's house about Jesus, he again hears the same Gospel. Had his heart been stirred at home, it is in a tumult now—but soon the tumult is stilled, and the "sweet peace" of God's love fills his
