

Alvo News

Donald Young of Sidney is visiting Ralph Dramer and John Weichel for several days, having arrived last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook and Joan and Mr. and Mrs. George Bornemeier and daughter were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oris Cook.

Alva Bradley was taken very ill at school Wednesday afternoon. A physician was summoned at once. Alva will probably have to miss a few days at school.

Frank Cook is having to cut the grove down for wood which is known to most folks as the Dramer place, where people have been wont to gather from far and near for picnics in years past. Due to the continued drought, this beauty spot has been destroyed, which is indeed a pity.

Messrs. and Mesdames Frank and Dan Osterstag of Wichita, Kas., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Osterstag were guests at the H. L. Bornemeier home Friday. The family had driven to Elmwood, where they had spent Thanksgiving with the gentlemen's mother, Mrs. Osterstag. They are also brothers of Mrs. H. L. Bornemeier. All enjoyed a most pleasant visit.

Arrival of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Muenchauer are the proud parents of a fine son that arrived Thanksgiving day, November 26th. The parents have the congratulations of their many friends.

Reading Club Meeting

The Woman's Reading club met with Mrs. Roy Coatman Thursday afternoon and enjoyed a very interesting meeting as well as the delicious refreshments served at an appropriate hour.

Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Peterson had charge of the program and made many interesting suggestions for Christmas gifts. The ladies had many appropriate gifts that they had obtained or made to show, which made the meeting very interesting.

Entertain at P. T. A. Program

Prof. and Mrs. Steckelberg of the University of Nebraska rendered a most exquisite musical program at a largely attended P. T. A. meeting last Tuesday evening. Prof. Steckelberg has traveled and studied abroad, giving many fine concerts, and receiving instruction under many famous violin artists of the old world.

The music of this internationally known gentleman and his wife was delightfully entertaining and instructive and won them a most appreciative applause.

The second part of the program was a Boy Scout investiture, put on by twelve members and the Scoutmaster of Troop No. 14 of Lincoln. Eight local boys were taken into the Tenderfoot rank at this most impressive ceremonial service.

Aid Society Meets

Mrs. A. B. Stroemer was hostess to the Ladies Aid society Wednesday afternoon. Assistant hostesses were Mesdames H. L. Bornemeier, Frank Cook and Don McKinnon.

After a short devotional and business meeting an interesting program was given, which had been planned by Mesdames Frank Taylor, Nickel and Rouse.

About thirty were present. This fine attendance was appreciated and it is hoped that now, during the cooler weather, the attendance can be increased, as there are plenty of members on the roll to make it possible for a large attendance each month. Visitors are always welcome.

Monday evening, December 14th, was the date set for the program that is now being prepared by the committee.

Church Notes

Sunday school at 10 o'clock. Mrs. A. B. Stroemer, superintendent.

Church services at 11 o'clock. Rev. Ben Wallace, pastor. Everyone is welcome to attend these and all other services of the church.

Rev. Wallace has scheduled the following Sunday sermon subjects and announced a series of services: December 6, "Our Lord's Mother;" December 13, "The Christmas Spirit;" and December 20, "In the City of David."

Thursday evening, December 10th is "All-Church" night. Bring your supper and enjoy a most pleasant evening of feasting, worshipping and playing. 7:00 o'clock is the supper hour, after which the other features of the evening will immediately follow.

See the goods you buy. Catalog descriptions are alluring enough, but how about the goods when you get them?

COUNTY CLUB NEWS

EXTENSION CLUBS

"Decorative Objects One Can Make" is proving a popular topic with extension club this month. Many of the women are finding new ideas for Christmas gifts. Tin cans and crepe paper are being used in a great number of ways. Tin cans are cut to form corners for blotters, pen trays, and letter holders. Designs are punched with nails. Candy dishes and trays are also made of the tin cans. Another idea is the twisted crepe paper covering for flower pots, vases, and nut bowls. Gallon cans are being cut and woven with crepe paper to form attractive baskets.

Members of the Homemakers club of Plattsmouth met with Mrs. Otto Keek Friday evening to turn their hands to the fashioning of Christmas gifts. Mrs. Hazel Jameson and Mrs. Edgar Newton assisted the hostess, Mrs. Tim Kahontek. Mrs. Fern McMaken, and Mrs. Sanford Short won prizes in the games of the evening. 17 were present.

Student Homemakers met with Mrs. Joe Abrams November 30. Eleven members and the group chairman, Mrs. Ralph Kerkler were present. Project leaders, Mrs. Forest Stock and Miss Esther Tefft led the lesson. Mrs. Joe Abrams and Mrs. Francis Baldwin were assistant hostesses.

Mrs. B. M. Hubbell and Mrs. Wm. Knudson presented the lesson for the month before the Happy Home project club at the meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry Albert, December 1. Mrs. Henry Albert and Mrs. Harry Meisinger were assistant hostesses.

Pleasant Ridge project club also held their third meeting December 1 at the home of Mrs. J. H. Meisinger. Mrs. Jimmerman, president, called the meeting to order. The Christmas lesson was presented by the leaders, Mrs. Hugo Meisinger and Catherine Meisinger.

"Adding Beauty to the Home Through Decorative Objects" has proved a very interesting topic for study in the extension clubs during November. Many clubs are planning their December meetings early in the month with Christmas parties as added attractions.

Eight Mile Willing Workers met November 19 at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Icke. Mrs. J. B. Kaffenberger and Mrs. Paul Heil assisted. The women enjoyed a club wicker roast on the first of November.

Two new members were admitted to the Four Mile club at the meeting last month. Mrs. L. Stoehr and Mrs. Joe Bierl presented the lesson. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. John Wehrbein with Mrs. Claude Mayabb and Mrs. Earl Becker, hostesses.

Riverview club met November 17 at the home of Mrs. Joe Campbell with her daughter, Miss Josephine, assisting. Mrs. Patterson, president, opened the meeting with the song of the month. Mrs. Frank Hull and Mrs. Georgia Greamer, leaders, presented the lesson. 4 visitors were present.

Weeping Water Woman's Club—

Mrs. Joe Bender gave a paper at the meeting of the Weeping Water Woman's club upon "The Friendliest Metal." She told the history of copper and its many uses in the home. Mrs. W. D. Lenker spoke on "Life Blood of the World," a discourse on water and its importance to us. "The Romance of Paper" was related by Mrs. H. T. Heigle.

Mrs. Harmon presented two of her music pupils. Marjorie Moore played a piano number "Wisteria" by Engelmann and Margaret Baldwin sang "Smilin' Thru" by Arthur Penn.

The Christmas carol, "It Came upon the Midnight Clear" by the club followed the business meeting which was conducted by the president, Mrs. Arthur Jones. Mrs. William Spangler was hostess to the meeting December 1.

Avoca Woman's Club—

Mrs. J. M. Kokjer gave an interesting paper on the Holy Land of Today at the Christmas party of the Avoca Woman's club December 2. A gift exchange was held at the Ernest Salling home. Miss Dorothy Snyder was hostess to the club.

Howard Poole was assisting Fred Towle with his wood sawing on last Friday, and between them they were able to pile up a bountiful supply of fuel for the coming wintry days.

L. R. Stanley, postmaster, merchant and farmer, last week sold a pair of very fine colts to Jeremiah Smith, a neighbor, who expects to train them to become a nice, gentle farm team.

Floyd Barden has purchased the car formerly owned by Sherman Hardaway, to which the latter was much attached and only consented to let it go after many importunities on the part of his young friend.

The Missouri Pacific, which has maintained a force of men on track work in this vicinity for a considerable length of time, laid off a number of the men December 1st, this being the time of year when work of this type is difficult to do.

His Honor Bert Austin has not been in the best of health during the past week, suffering from a severe cold, but like the rugged individual he is, Bert has been able to shake off the mild disturbance easily and is feeling much better at this time.

P. H. Clarke and Clifton Browne were busy during the past week putting a new shingle roof on the home of Carl Jensen. The young men are doing an excellent piece of work that will add materially to the looks of the structure and also keep out the rain which does not seem to come.

L. R. Stanley has been hauling wood at the rate of six loads a day for the store, his own home and that of Sherman Hardaway. The amount required to provide fuel for all three places during the winter is estimated at some sixty loads, requiring ten days time to get it in and piled up for use.

Grove is Mostly Gone

For years the maple grove just north of the home of Ralph Dorr has been a place of beauty and the pride of the neighborhood, furnishing shade for many a pleasant picnic gathering. The drought of the past summer has played havoc with many of the trees however and most of them are now dead. This is true not only here, but in the case of many fine and stately old trees all over the country.

Many of these trees have taken a lifetime to grow, and their loss will be keenly felt as the years come and go before their places will be filled by the younger trees that will be set out next spring.

Selling Many Stamps

The scholars of the Wabash school have been greatly enthused with the selling of Christmas stamps and have been very successful. This is a most worthy cause, with the money going to help fight the dread disease tuberculosis that annually takes a heavy toll of life. Some of the scholars have sold more than a dollar's worth and are continuing the sale, which will not end until Christmas time. The results here are better in comparison than in much larger towns.
