Alvo News

Gene Barkhurst was in Alvo Wednesday calling on some old friends.

Earl Bennett was in Elmwood and Weeping Water Thursday looking after some business.

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. Hermanse, Jr., has been quite ill with double pneumonia for several days.

J. B. Elliott, Jr., hardware and implement dealer, has been delivering several new tractor lately to farmers. Farmers are preparing for the approaching springtime.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Nickel were called to the Albert Bornaemeier home Wednesday night because of the illness of their grandson. They returned home Thursday afternoon.

The regular club meetings of various clubs were not held this week because of sickness in many families.

Marion Garcia has been assisting with the store work at the Nelson store.

Morrill Skinner who left for Omaha last Wednesday, expecting to go at once into navy training was not permitted to go. This was a disappointment to Morrill, as he had a real desire to go into this training.

The school children have been taking their semester exams this week. Friday marks the close of the first semester, which is one half of the school term. Many students in the high school were excused from exams because of a high average in their school work.

Severe colds and flu have almost been an epidemic in this community. A great many have been ill the past two weeks, in a few cases the entire family being ill at once. No serious cases with the exceptions of one or two have been reported in this immediate vicinity.

All Church Night

In spite of much sickness and severe cold weather Thursday evening, quite a large crowd was able to attend the "All Church" night meeting Thursday evening at the local church.

At 7:00 o'clock a covered dish luncheon was served after which a very fine talk was given by A. V. Hunter, field man, from the Wesleyan University. This fine talk was very inspirational and interesting.

A social hour was enjoyed later in the evening.

Roads Blocked

Most roads were blocked over the week end after the storm Thursday evening and Friday morning. By Tuesday evening most of the roads had been cleared without much difficulty.

Most of the school children were able to get to school again Monday. Some of the truck drivers found it necessary to drive out of their way to get some of the school children, but in most cases were successful in making their complete route by detouring.

Died Saturday

David Sheesley, age 85, died at his farm home south of Alvo Saturday afternoon.

He is survived by three daughter, Mrs. C. A. Gullion, Sacramento, California; Mrs. Lydia Howe, Omaha; Mrs. G. P. Cook, Lincoln; two sons, Lloyd, Lincoln; George A. Alvo; two sisters, Mrs. Mattie Ryan, Newton, Iowa; Mrs. Phoebe Jackson, Montezuma, Iowa; three brothers, J. L. of Anamosa, Iowa; George, of Colorado Springs; Edward A. of Albia, Iowa, fifteen grandchildren and thirteen great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in the Alvo Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Rev. H. Wallace officiated. Burial was in the Brethren cemetery south of town.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

From Thursday's Daily—
This morning at the St. Mary's hospital at Nebraska City, Mrs. Herman L. Thomas underwent a very serious operation. Messages received here this afternoon by friends state that she withstood the operation in fine shape and the reaction is very encouraging.

Death of Mrs. Hill, nee Towle

Former Cass County Teacher, Daughter of Late Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Towle, Dies at Denver.

Anna M. Towle was born near Wabash, Nebraska, November 26, 1880. She was the youngest of three daughters born to the late Mr. and Mrs. George A. Towle. After a serious illness of two weeks' duration, she passed away at St. Luke's hospital in Denver, Colorado, January 8, 1937, being 56 years, 1 month and 12 days of age at the time of her death.

Everything that a loving husband and medical skill could do was done to relieve her during her last days of great suffering. Her sister, Mrs. Euna McHugh, of Murdock, was with her during this last illness.

She was reared and educated in the school near the old home, finishing her college education at St. Francis academy, at Council Bluffs, Iowa, and the Nebraska State Normal. Later she served as one of the successful teachers in the rural and grade schools of Cass county.

In 1906 she was married to Jess J. Hill and has since that time resided in various places, the last 15 years in Denver, Colorado.

Word of the passing of this noble woman came as a great shock to her many relatives and friends. Her loss will be keenly felt. She is survived by her husband, Mr. Hill, of Denver, Colorado; two sisters, Miss Rhena Towle, of Omaha and Mrs. Euna McHugh, of Murdock; and six brothers, Archie, of Glade, Kansas; George, of Lincoln; Edward, of Tucson, Arizona; Walter, of South Bend; Fred, of Wabash, and Henry, of Eagle.

The body was brought from Denver to Murdock, arriving here Saturday and from here was taken to the Hobson Funeral Home at Weeping Water where brief services were held Monday afternoon, January 11th. Interment was in the family lot in the Wabash cemetery. Pall bearers were Henry Tool, A. J. Tool, Lacy McDonald, A. D. Zaar, Ralph Dorr and Warren Richard.

The following relatives and friends were here for the services and burial: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kline, of Fairbury, Nebraska; F. D. Hill and son Alvin, of Omaha; C. F. Hill, of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hudson, of Lincoln; Mrs. Blanche Hill, of Lincoln, and Mrs. O. R. Platt, of North Platte.

Mr. J. J. Hill, the husband, left on Wednesday for his home in Denver after a several days visit at the McHugh home.

The following tribute was tendered by a life long friend of the deceased lady:

Always a kind thought was spoken
Always an interest was shown
Always the handclasp of friendship
By the one whose life is now done.
God in his wondrous creation
Gave us all the wish to live;
He also gave the Beauty
Unselfish service that others may give.

The memory of this unselfish woman;
The memory of the places she filled
Will abide with us spiritually, forever.

Even tho' her voice is stilled,
The influence of her unselfish service
Will go on, ever on as the tide;
Doing more than we know
Silently—by our side.
In our sorrow and loss of this loved one,
May we thank our Great Rewarder
For her beautiful unselfish service
She has gone to be with her God.

OMAHA DRIVER BOOND OVER

Omaha.—County Judge Bryce Crawford bound Mrs. Kathryn Kirkpatrick, Omaha, over to the district court late Thursday on charges of manslaughter, causing death while unlawfully operating an automobile, and leaving the scene of an accident in connection with the death of Lois Anderson, 8, Omaha, by a hit-run driver here Dec. 27.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick waived preliminary examination. Her bond of $2,500 was continued. Three other small girls were injured in the accident.

AIR TRAVEL STILL POPULAR

Omaha.—C. M. Sharrar, district traffic manager here for the United Air Lines, said Wednesday air travel remained popular, despite the series of crashes of transports in the west.

About the usual number of passengers sought reservations here Wednesday, he said. Nobody got one, however, as the planes were grounded by bad weather. Planes have been running full or almost full for months, altho a slight drop is noted after each crash, he added.

Wabash News

Floyd Barden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Barden, transacted business in Murdock last Wednesday afternoon.

Thomas Casey, of Plattsmouth, was Mrs. Bert Barden was over assisting with the work at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hinds during their illness and later was also taken with the flu herself and had to take to her bed.

a guest for a short time of his friend, Sherman Hardaway, the two gentlemen having been born near Fairplay, Mo., and after years met here. They had much in common to talk about during the time Mr. Casey was in Wabash.

Some Better Now

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hinds, who were ill last week with serious attacks of the flu, are still far from completely recovered. Mr. Hinds has shown the greatest improvement but Mrs. Hinds has failed to rally from the malady. During the time they were both down, W. L. Cople was over looking after the chores, making it much easier on the daughter and family.

Buried at Wabash Cemetery

Mrs. Jesse Hill, formerly Miss Towle, who has made her home in Denver, where she died late last week, was buried in the Wabash cemetery, following the funeral service held at Weeping Water. A more detailed account of her life and death will be found elsewhere in this paper.

John C. Browne Very Sick

John C. Browne, the manager of the Wabash elevator, has been seriously ill from pneumonia at his home in Wabash, being cared for by his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Browne and as well by his daughter, Mrs. A. B. Stromer, of Alvo, who came over to visit with and assist in the care of her father.

While everything possible has been done for his recovery, he still remains in a serious condition.

OBITUARY

David E. Sheesley, son of George and Eliza Sheesley was born near Columbus, Ohio, July 6, 1851 and died January 9, 1937.

At the age of three years he moved with his parents to a farm near Pella, Ia., in Mahaska county where he grew to manhood.

In the spring of 1873 he was united in marriage to Margaret Jane Mick of Jasper county, Iowa. After six years they with their two small daughters moved to their farm on which he has lived for the remainder of his life. He leaves to mourn his death two sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Phoebe Jackson, Montezuma, Ia.; Mrs. Mattie Ryan, New Sharon, Ia.; George P. Sheesley, Colorado Springs, Colorado; E. A. Sheesley, Albia, Ia.; Joseph L. Sheesley, Anamosa, Ia., and three daughters and two sons, Mrs. C. A. Gullion, Sacramento, California; Mrs. Lydia Howe, Omaha, Neb.; Mrs. G. P. Cook, Lincoln, Neb.; Loyd Sheesley, Lincoln, Neb.; Geo. A. Sheesley, Alvo, Neb.; also fifteen grandchildren.

His chosen work during this time was in growing crops and trees in this industry he found much pleasure in assisting nature to provide and distribute the good things that are meant for us all. When he was no longer able to work he received much comfort and satisfaction in the memory of his accomplishments in the past.

His faith in the future is most fittingly expressed in the beautiful poem by Tennyson:

Crossing the Bar.
Sunset and Evening Star
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar
When I put out to sea.

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.
Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell when I embark,
For tho' from out our bourne of time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

Card of Thanks

The children and grandchildren of the late D. E. Sheesley wish to express their sincere thanks to all those who so kindly assisted in the funeral services and for the floral tributes and other acts of thoughtfulness.

YORK FLU WANES

York.—Supt. E. W. Wiltsie said influenza apparently is on the wane in York's public schools. More than 200 students were absent Wednesday, however.
