Elmwood News

The two bridge clubs of Elmwood were very pleasantly entertained by Ronald Schlichtemeier and wife last Tuesday evening.

Dr. R. W. Tyson, wife and young daughter, were guests last Sunday at the home of his parents, where they enjoyed a fine visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parriott were in Murdock last Thursday, where they visited their daughter, who is operating a beauty shop there.

Donald Gonzales, who is attending the University of Nebraska, was a visitor in Elmwood last Sunday and was calling on his mother, Mrs. Emily Gonzales.

The local Farmers Union of Elmwood held a business meeting last Wednesday for the transaction of such business as might come before the gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hodges, of Lincoln were guests last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Charlie Bailey, where they enjoyed a delicious supper and a most pleasant visit.

Miss Mary Tolhurst, who is a student at the University of Nebraska, in Lincoln, visited friends in Elmwood over the week end. The folks now make their home at Raymond.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Menning and daughter Rachel were in Lincoln on last Sunday, where they visited another daughter, Ruth, who is convalescing from a series of treatments there.

George Eldermiller was kept confined to his home with a severe attack of influenza and after he was able to get out and down to his barber shop, Mrs. Eldermiller was taken with the malady.

Loyal Rodgers, of Lincoln, was a visitor in Elmwood last Tuesday, calling on his friend, Henry Mollen. He was enroute home from a visit in Iowa, and after tarrying here for a short time continued on to Lincoln.

Charles E. Wood, who has been laid up for some time with the flu, was able to return to his work at the N. D. Bothwell store, and while he is not feeling the best as yet, it is much better and showing good improvement each day.

There was to have been a meeting of the Kensington at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Williams, but on account of so much flu and other sickness, the meeting was postponed until some time in the future when general health conditions are expected to be better.

Mr. and Mrs. Orest Cook and their son Wesley were at Plattsmouth last Saturday, where they looked after business matters. While there they also called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Turner, finding the genial Cass county treasurer under the weather and confined to his home with an attack of flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Penterman and the mother of Mrs. Penterman, Mrs. H. C. Shadley, were in Lincoln last Sunday, where they were interviewing the doctor who had charge of the case of Mrs. Shadley while she was in the hospital, and after a very critical examination pronounced her as getting along very nicely.

N. D. Bothwell was a visitor in Council Bluffs, looking after some business matters in connection with the store which he conducts in Elmwood. On his return, he stopped in Plattsmouth to call on his brother-in-law, John E. Turner, who is county treasurer and found him under the weather and at home temporarily with a case of flu.

Retired from Service

William Groat, who has been a resident of Elmwood for a score of years, and prior to that was employed at other places, including a longer time at Murray, having reached the age of retirement under railroad regulations, has been placed on the retired list with a substantial pension. He has received a certificate setting forth the fact of his service as well as the faithful service he has rendered the railroad company.

FUNERAL OF EMIL WALTERS

From Friday's Daily—

The funeral service for the late Emil Walters was held this afternoon at the Sattler funeral home at Fourth and Vine streets, a large number of the old friends and associates being in attendance at the service.

Rev. G. A. Pahl, pastor of the St. Paul's Evangelical church, conducted the services and brought words of comfort to the members of the family circle.

Frank A. Clويد gave two of the old hymns which had been sung at the funeral of the wife, "Face to Face" and "Wonderful Peace." Mrs. J. R. Reeder being the accompanist.

The interment was at the family lot in the Oak Hill cemetery beside the wife and son who had preceded him in death.

Received Avacadoes

Mrs. Max Fisher, of Omaha, a cousin of Mrs. William Fleischman, is spending the winter at Santa Monica, California, where she is enjoying the much milder climate than prevails here, although it has not been any too hot there. She has sent Mrs. Fleischman a number of Avacadoes, a fruit closely related to the pear,

Laughing Around the World

With IRVIN S. COBB

When Goldstein Really Cut Loose

By IRVIN S. COBB

ACCORDING to Montague Glass, who specialized in stories of the cloak and suit trade, a jobber in this line suffered a bereavement. His wife up and died on him. Possibly because it was neighborhood gossip that the couple had not lived together very happily the bereft one felt incumbent upon him to manifest an unusual degree of distress, the theory being that this excess of grief on his part would silence the tongues of the slanderers and put to eternal rest the rumors of domestic infelicity.

Two days after the interment the husband, dressed all in black and wearing a broad mourning-band on his left arm, was passing on his way through Mercer Street to his place of business. A fellow-jobber halted him and without preamble spoke as follows:

"Honest, Goldstein, I got to say it—for you I am ashamed that you should carry on the way you did at your wife's funeral. As a mark of respect for you I went by your house day before yesterday and the way you acted—well, I could only say again: As one business man to another I am ashamed for you that you should act so.

"A wife, yes? They come, they go, you get 'em, you loose 'em. That's life, ain't it? So why, then, when you lose one should you carry on so positively, absolutely could not understand."

"Did you maybe also come by the cemetery?" inquired the widower. "Soit'nly not," said his friend. "I'm a business man and it ain't so that I could spare a whole day running way over on Long Island to a cemetery. I came by your house like I said before and when I seen how you carried on that for me was sufficient. Right off I came away disgusted."

"You think I carried on at the house, huh?" stated Mr. Goldstein. "You should a-come by the cemetery. That's where I raised hell!"

but larger in size and of a dark green color and very firm. However, like the pear, they become mellow later on as they fully ripen.

Mrs. Fleischman, who spent last winter on the west coast, tells of this fruit being a favorite there, and one that is highly prized and brings a very fancy price. She was greatly pleased to be thus remembered by her Omaha cousin.

Here for a Visit

Ho Hobbs, of Cody, Kansas, has been visiting here for the past two weeks with his mother, Mrs. Taylor, and meeting with his many friends of other days. Mr. Hobbs says the country has been very dry out where he comes from, and that although they have been experiencing much cold weather, the ground is barren of snow and there has been no rainfall.

The wheat which was sown last fall still remains in the ground dry and in some cases has been blown away along with the richer top coat of soil, thus denuding the land of its growing proclivities even should there be plenty of moisture later on.

Mr. Hobbs may conclude to remain here as he says things look pretty discouraging out his way.

Back to Her Work

Mrs. Carl Schneider, the postmistress, who was confined to her home and bed for some two weeks with an aggravated attack of influenza, was able to return to her work at the postoffice on Monday of last week.

Honor Their Member*

The Daughters of Rebekah of Elmwood, who are a very social organization always seeking to further the interests of their members and to do what good they can, arranged to give a shower to one of their fellow members, Mrs. Edward Nelson, deputy postmistress, formerly Miss Grace McCrory, who was recently married to Edwina Nelson at Detroit. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed, with a fine program, a social hour, during which the guest of honor was showered with useful and valuable gifts for her new home, and the serving of delicious refreshments. The husband, who is in Detroit, is a jeweler and is employed here, where he will remain for the present.

Farmers Enjoyed Social Meet

The West Local Farmers Union organization met last Tuesday at the hall of the Modern Woodmen of America, where they looked after business matters claiming their attention and listened to addresses pertaining to the welfare of the Union and its individual members. Besides this they enjoyed a program and an entertainment and a splendid oyster supper was served by Herman Penterman and son Morris.

Mrs. Joseph Johnson Poorly

Mrs. Joseph Johnson, of the Johnson Cafe, has not been feeling the best for some time and is now visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rasmus Jensen, where she will remain for a time, hoping for the return of her health.

Many Heard Entertainment

A former citizen of Elmwood, Walter Hetrick, had the unusual distinction of appearing on a recent Major Bowes Amateur Hour program that was broadcast from coast to coast and heard by many thousands, including quite a few of the people of this vicinity. Mr. Hetrick with his wife and family have been making their home at Box Elder, Montana, and it was from there he went to New York for the express purpose of trying out for a position with some of the troupes of entertainers sent out by Major Bowes.

When quizzed by Major Bowes before the microphone, Walter said he was going down the street in New York and made a noise imitating a rooster, whereupon he looked around and found two hens following him.

The people of Elmwood recall that when Walter was a lad he was on the street early in the morning whistling and entertaining the citizens. In fact some say it was so early in the morning they were unable to sleep as long as they desired.

Be that as it may, everyone is hoping that he may land a good job on the radio or with one of Major Bowes traveling units as a result of his visit and appearance on the Major Bowes amateur hour. His wife and two children are still in Montana, not having accompanied him to New York.

SALE BARN SELLS, RESELS FOR RED CROSS CONTRIBUTION

TO HOLD COURT HERE

Judge John W. Yeager of Omaha, is expected here to hold a session of the district court starting February 8th, at which time the petit jury will be called for service. Judge Yeager will hold court for Judge W. G. Kieck who is disqualified in the hearing of the criminal cases by reason of his prosecution as county attorney in the lower courts, as well as several civil matters in which he had appeared as attorney.

1. 2. 3.

Famous 1-2-3 Method Now Only 15¢

At the first sign of sore throat due to a cold, dissolve three Bayer Aspirin tablets in 1/2 glass of water. Gargle with this twice. It will act almost instantly to relieve the rawness and soreness of your throat. At the same time, take two Bayer Aspirin tablets with a full glass of water. This acts to combat fever, and cold aches and pains. Repeat the treatment in 2 hours if necessary. This modern, inexpensive way to ease a cold is approved by thousands of doctors. Ask for Bayer Aspirin by its full name—not by the name "aspirin" alone.
