An Echo from 1865

By IRVIN S. COBB

Now this present story may be of any age you please, but to the best of my personal knowledge and belief it belongs to our own Civil War Period.

The narrative runs that in the last days of the war a ragged, wornout, hungry, half-crippled, half-dead Confederate straggler was limping along a Virginia highway striving to catch up with his command. Where there was a puddle in the ruts he stopped to bathe his bruised and bleeding feet. As he sat at the roadside dabbling his swollen toes in the water a Union skirmisher, well fed and lusty, stepped from behind a tree with his musket raised to his shoulder and yelled out exultantly:

"Now I got you!" "Yas," drawled the Southerner, "an' a hell of a git you got!"
