

NEWS OF THE WORLD IN PICTURES

Museum Which Will House Mellon Gallery in Capital

Here is an architect's drawing of the impressive marble structure designed to house the collection of masterpieces, valued in excess of $20,000,000, collected by Andrew Mellon, former secretary of the treasury, and donated by him to the United States.

Mussolini's Son on Honeymoon

Vittorio Mussolini and bride

Here are Vittorio Mussolini, eldest son of Italy's dictator, and his bride, the former Orsola Buvoli, as they left St. Peter Joseph's church in Rome following a wedding distinguished by its simplicity. The young couple plan to visit United States in the near future.

Link Skating Star With Actor

Two Hollywood'ers who recently skyrocketed to fame in the movies are believed about to cast themselves in domestic role of man and wife. Frequent appearances together in the film colony of Sonja Henie, famous figure skating champion whose first movie was a phenomenal success, and Tyrone Power, who scored a smashing triumph in his last film, lend credence to romantic rumors about them.

Trolley Hostess!

Kathleen Silva

An innovation in transportation methods is being tried in Seattle, Wash., where attractive Kathleen Silva is serving as hostess aboard one of the new trackless trolleys in line with a plan designed to increase commuters and promote business.

Casey Jones to Steamboat Bill

A freight train in a nautical setting near Memphis

Casey Jones, immortalized in song as railroad engineer, becomes Steamboat Bill here as a freight train slowly makes its way across a flooded stretch near Memphis, Tenn. The flood waters of the Mississippi overflowed but the levee system prevented any disastrous inundation.

Eject Office Worker From Plant

Strikers forcibly eject office worker from Detroit plant

An office worker, attempting to go to work in the Kelvinator corporation factory in Detroit is forcibly ousted by strikers. At the same time, "sit-downers" inside the plant welded a plant door to prevent executives from entering. The latter action followed the entrance of 35 men who called themselves "fire insurance inspectors". Strike leaders charged the "inspectors" were private detectives employed by the company.

No Strait-Jacket for Modern Maid

Virginia Ash

It's a far cry from the days when milady squeezed herself into a veritable strait-jacket to now when the modern maid has her choice of streamlined new corsets which have neither stays nor laces, as effectively illustrated by Virginia Ash who appeared as mannequin at a recent New York style show.

Wagner Now 63

Honus Wagner

This picture of Honus Wagner, hailed as the greatest shortstop of all time, was taken on the eve of his 63d birthday. Wagner is now living in semi-retirement in Pittsburgh but still takes an active interest in semipro baseball.

"Soul Saving" Draws Jail Term

Emma Barcell

The Rev. Finis Jennings Dake

Convicted of violating the Mann act, the Rev. Finis Jennings Dake, Zion, Ill., pastor, drew a six-month jail sentence when tried in Milwaukee. The Rev. Dake, "exonerated" by his wife and flock, was charged and admitted, transporting a 16-year-old girl, Emma Barcell, shown above with Dake, from her home in Kenosha, Wis., to East St. Louis, Ill., during a "soul saving" expedition. The preacher says he just wanted to "pray" with Miss Barcell.

Fed by a Tube

Patricia Ann Sovik

Although she has no esophagus, Patricia Ann Sovik has passed her first birthday and is only slightly underweight. The baby girl, shown in Newburgh, N. Y., hospital, is fed through a tube which enters her stomach through a hole in her throat.

Flood Gone, but Clean-Up Work to Be Done

Workers cleaning up Evansville street after flood

Cleanup begins at Evansville, Ind., where the Ohio river, at record flood, covered 500 blocks. Workers are seen mopping up a street where water stood several feet deep at the height of the flood.

Cousin of Quintuplets Visits Quadruplets

Margaret Legros and Morlok quadruplets

Greetings from another famous group of sisters, the Dionne quintuplets, were brought to the Morlok quadruplets of Lansing, Mich., by Margaret Legros of Callander, Ont., cousin of the quins, when she visited the Michigan capital. Shown, left to right, are Edna, Sarah, Miss Legros, Wilma and Helen Morlok. Miss Legros operates a souvenir stand in Callander.