FINDING JOBS HARD FOR WPA

Stating the job of finding work for relief people suited to their skills was one of tremendous magnitude, State WPA Administrator Felton said the workers nationally are classified according to 160 occupational differences. Trouble with providing the work said Felton is that it must not only be a job, but work which will preserve and increase their work ability in their chosen field and allow them to step in when private industry employment rolls expand.

In Nebraska there are 49,107 jobless eligible to work under the WPA. Nationally the load is 6,402,000.

The 49,107 figure doesn't mean that WPA contemplates employment of that many, or would employ them were the money available, said Felton. It means only the number of persons eligible to work on WPA, which is sometimes as many as eight to a family. Rules of WPA provide that only one member of a given family may work on WPA, however.

More than a third of these workers on jobs are women, 13,500 of them and 35,792 were heads of families. Pointing out the high ratio of the relief type which was unfitted for any type of work when WPA started, Felton said 7,500 of this group were found eligible. About half of these were between ages of 18 and 24.

Cass county has no bonded indebtedness, as, like the state, we have paid cash for our hard surfaced roads and other improvements as we went.

THE WEATHER MEN

The United States Weather Bureau consistently achieves over 85 per cent accuracy in its twenty-four to forty-eight hour forecasts, according to The Literary Digest, despite the scoffers who disbelieve this high batting average.

The government experts, it also reports, have pretty well demolished "systems" which pretend to tell whether it will rain or blow a gale on a given date six months away.

The Weather Bureau headquarters has 1,200 employees, 200 of which are skilled specialists. There are 1,027 other observers of the bureau in the field besides 5,000 "cooperative observers" constantly acquiring climatological data.

Besides the thousands of land meteorological instruments, the bureau employs meteorographs which are balloons carrying a robot weather man to ascend ten miles and radio down data on pressure, temperature and humidity in the stratosphere.

Although weather forecasting constantly saves millions of dollars in property damage as well as human lives the cost of the bureau is only $3,861,000 a year.

From Saturday's Daily—

Miss Etta Nickles gave a demonstration permanent wave with the New-Ray yesterday afternoon. This machineless wave is becoming quite popular.

Young Couple of Greenwood Weds Thursday

Miss Thelma Mae Leesley Married to Irvin Boesel at Beautiful Home Wedding.

Miss Thelma Mae Leesley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Leesley, became the wife of Irvin Boesel of Wahoo at the home of the bride near Greenwood Thursdays evening, February 18, at eight p. m.

Tail baskets of snapdragons and roses and candelabra decorated the altar. The candles were lighted by Miss Dorothy Leesley, sister of the bride, and Miss Lorraine Trader.

Lee Knolle of Plattsmouth sang "Into the Dawn with You" and "I Love You Truly" preceding the ceremony. He was accompanied by his wife who also played Wedding Music by Pearl G. Curran.

The bride wore a dress of garnet velvet. It was cut on the princess line and had a slight train. Tiny buttons reached to the waist in the back. The sleeves were full with a tight cuff. The only ornaments worn by the bride were a tiny gold pin worn by her mother at her wedding and a gold bracelet, a gift of the groom. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses and white sweet peas.

Miss Lucille Leesley, sister to the bride, was maid of honor. She wore turquoise blue taffeta of floor length trimmed in bands of velvet in shades of blue. Her arm bouquet was of pink roses and sweet peas.

Melvin Boesel, brother of the groom, attended as best man. The double ring ceremony was used.

Misses Elsie Basel and Isabel Ross had charge of the gift room. Twin sisters of the bride, Beula and Beuna, took care of the guest book. Mrs. Joe Vickers, Mrs. John Vickers, Mrs. Roy Vickers, Mrs. Effen Cope, Mrs. Laura Lanning, Mrs. Jacob Meier and Misses Merce Vickers and Thelma Waldradt served.

The couple left for their honeymoon immediately after the ceremony. They will make their home at San Francisco, Calif., where Mr. Boesel is employed. Mrs. Boesel attended the Wesleyan University and has been a teacher in the Greenwood schools.

DELIQUENT TAXES COMING IN

Cass county citizens have paid $10,545.53 since the first of the year on the 1935 and prior delinquent taxes. John E. Turner, county treasurer, believes the people of this county are showing a greater trend toward tax-consciousness at the opening of 1937 than for some time. They are facing the tax situation as a due obligation.

Dear Sir—Just a few lines to tell you how much pleased we are with our 400 baby chicks we got from you a week ago. We have not lost a single one yet.

Now I wish to ask you if there would be any chance of getting 200 or 250 more baby chicks any time between now and the 23rd of May?

ERNEST L. GANZEL.

Hemingford, Nebr., March 29, 1935.

Dear Sir—I would like to place an order for 200 White Leghorn Baby Chicks on the 10th of April.

I was a 4-H Club member last year and got 100 chicks from you and took prizes at the fair last fall. I would like to get the same strain I did last year.

MISS LELA BOWSER.

We believe the above records speak for themselves. Space will not permit printing more of a similar nature. The proof of our service is in the chicks we furnish.
