Wabash News

Warren T. Richards had the misfortune to have one of his fingers pushed recently, but was able to continue his work in spite of the inconvenience.

Daniel Rueter, of Alvo, who has interests in the vicinity of Wabash, was in town last Wednesday looking after business and visiting at the home of his brother, Will Rueter.

Louis Schmidt, who recently moved to this vicinity from Murdock, where he formerly lived, has added to his farming equipment a tractor, which he expects to find plenty of use for in the near future.

Herman P. Dehning, formerly residing north of Wabash, but for a number of years making his home at Elmwood was looking after business matters in Wabash last Wednesday and was meeting many of his old friends at the store.

John Wood, the trucker, was called to Lincoln early last week, where he was looking after business matters, more particularly learning of road work contemplated for the coming summer, as he specializes in the hauling of road building material, and is anxious to get to work as early as possible.

Henry H. Gerbeling who prides himself on being an early bird when it comes to getting his corn planted, has been looking over the fields in anticipation of getting into them at an early date to prepare the ground for planting. However, he has not been as early as Lester Bosworth, in the planting of potatoes, as that gentleman has had his in the ground nearly a month—yet not a one has showed itself above the ground.

Ladies Aid Holds Meeting

Despite the rain and snow of last Wednesday evening, a large number of the members of the Ladies Aid society gathered at the home of Mrs. Ralph Dorr for their regular business and social meeting. This group of ladies continues active notwithstanding the discontinuance of regular church services and Sunday school—doing what they can to advance religious interest in the community. It is a pleasure to note the interest and indomitable spirit of this loyal group of women.

Met Last Wednesday

Stockholders of the Wabash Grain company met last Wednesday at the elevator, where they received reports of the business of the past year, went over the books and records and made plans for the conduct of the business during the coming year. The past few drouth years have been hard on elevator operators as there has been little or no grain to market in this part of the country, but all are looking forward in high hopes of a successful crop this year and a general upswing in business in Nebraska.

DIES AT WABASH

The death of William Langhorst, 75, occurred Sunday night at his home at Wabash, where for a great many years he has been a well known resident. Mr. Langhorst was the agent for the Missouri Pacific at Wabash for over a quarter of a century, retiring last year from active duty. He has been making his home at the Keith Mumford home for a great many years.

He is survived by a daughter and two sons, who make their home in Ohio as well as one brother, L. F. Langhorst, of Elmwood, one of the leading democratic leaders of the state.

CAST REMOVED

Faye McClintock who was injured six weeks ago in an auto accident was well enough to have the cast removed from his body. He will probably be able to be about on crutches next week.

HOME FOR VACATION

From Thursday's Daily—Misses Rosemary Clويد, Louise Rishel, and Virginia Trively, students at Peru State Normal, will arrive this afternoon to spend Easter vacation at their homes in Plattsmouth.

City Council Has Busy Time at Session

Hear Beer Applications, Have Visit from Cemetery Board and Select the Election Officials.

The city council meeting on Monday, March 22 was a very busy one and with only eight of the members present, the seat in the third ward being vacant and Councilman Vroman of the fifth ward absent.

A communication was received from Edgar Newton asking permission to connect with the sanitary sewer on 10th street. This permission was granted, the work to be done under the supervision of the streets, alleys and bridges committee and bond posted.

The state liquor commission informed the council that Henry J. Donat had filed application with them for permit to operate a package liquor store. This was referred to the license committee to report at the next meeting.

Receive Reports

City Clerk Olson in response to the request of the council submitted a list of the firms and professional people that are delinquent in occupation tax, there being fifty-two in the list. The clerk was instructed to try and collect the tax and in failure to pay to have the matter turned over to City Attorney Davis to prepare distress warrants to recover the tax.

Dr. O. Sandin, chief of the fire department, reported two fires, that at the J. V. Stoboda home on west Vine street and that of the Eaton residence property on Locust street near the Christian church.

Councilman Webb of the tax and property committee, reported that the lessee of the former ball park, owned by the city, had tendered a check for the amount of the 1937 lease. The park ground has been suggested as a place to be used by the junior baseball teams this summer and whether to lease it again was a question. On motion of Councilman Schutz, the matter was held over until the next meeting to check on the baseball situation.

Councilman Tippens of the streets, alleys and bridges committee, reported that his department had the road maintainer out and cleared up ditches where dry enough and had smoothed up a great deal of the roads over the city. On the repair of a tilling job in the first ward, the committee recommended that a ten inch tile be used and which was ordered by the council.

Nine Ask Beer License

City Clerk Olson reported that he had received one "on" sale application for beer, that of Henry Timm. There were eight applications made for both "on and off" sales, permitting the beer to be removed from the premises, the applicants were Phillip Hoffman, William Sweeney, R. W. Wesley, Carl G. Chriswiser, B. C. Cohn, George Conis, Edward Donat, Sr., Emil Ptak. All of these applications were referred to the license committee to check and to report at the next meeting of the council on April 12th.

The fire and water committee through Chairman Schutz, reported that they had purchased nozzle and four hose holders as had been requested by the fire department.

To Repair Cable

Chairman Johnson of the lighting committee reported that they would not recommend a new light at the Missouri Pacific station as there are three lights in three quarters of a block of the station. This report was adopted by the council. Mr. Johnson also reported that cable on the south Fifth street electroliner district was in bad shape, being exposed in several places and the wires worn so that it was impossible to give the proper service. He was to take up the matter of an overhead light at the alley while the necessary replacements were made on the electroliner cable. Mr. Johnson also stated that he had investigated the cost of 200 watt lamps and found that the price was the same with all dealers and recommended that the city clerk order a case of these lights from some local dealer.

Wintersteen Hill Work

There was some discussion of the Wintersteen hill work by Chairman Bestor. Mayor Lushinsky and Councilman Johnson, all reporting work as showing nice progress and the men on the work doing a good job and one that would give the city a real surfaced highway when completed. Mayor Lushinsky stated that many of the residents had promised to add to the appearance of that section of the city by landscaping. City Attorney Davis and Chief of police Joe Libershal, gave their impression of the meeting of law enforcing agencies at the capitol at Lincoln on traffic safety. The plan of the Fremont schools of teaching safe and correct driving was mentioned and also the examination of owners of drivers' license every two or three years.

Chairman Bestor of the finance committee reported a resolution asking the transfer of $200 from the general fund to the gasoline tax fund, the amount to be repaid the general fund when paid into the gas tax fund by the county treasurer.

Cemetery Board Meets Council

The members of the cemetery board were present and Mr. Evers, the chairman, was called upon by Mayor Lushinsky. Mr. Evers stated that the board had just met and during the starting period had been having meetings once or twice a week. The board was getting along very well in the preliminary work and were striving to reach a point of better upkeep for the cemetery. The road to the cemetery had been a problem and while the city street department had done a fine piece of work in filling in many of the holes, there was a great need for the use of more gravel on the road. He also urged that a rock project be made of roads in the cemetery. Mr. Evers stated that when the city was preparing to make their levy that they wished to meet with the committee and present their cause.

Secretary L. W. Niel of the board reported that the record work was in excellent progress and the locating of the graves on lots was much better than had been anticipated. The workers on the records had received a fine support from the morticians of the city in locating lots and graves and also much help had been given by residents of the city as to the owners of the lots now living at other points. Mr. Niel stated that the old section of the cemetery would make a much more difficult problem.

Name Election Officers

This being the last meeting before the city election it was necessary to select the judges and clerks of election and the following were selected:

First ward—Judges, Val Burkel, Wm. Rice, Mrs. Robert Reed; Clerks, Mrs. Lucille Gaines, Mrs. Frank Bestor.

Second ward—Judges, Mrs. A. F. Seybert, Miss Anna Helsel, Joseph C. Warg; Clerks, Mrs. Paul Vandervoort, Mrs. Joe Keapl.

Third ward—Judges, Jesse Perry, Miss Allen, John Gradoville; Clerks, Mrs. Cyril Kalina, Mrs. John Kubicka.

Fourth ward—Judges, John Ledgway, Clyde Brittain, Broder Ketelsen; Clerks, Mrs. Frank Gobelman and Mrs. Kenneth McCarthy.

Fifth ward—Judges, William Kief, L. E. Vroman, James McKinney; Clerks, Albert Toman, Mary Hobscheidt.

The judges and clerks of election as named will be appointed by the mayor to serve at the forthcoming election. Mayor Lushinsky stated that he would get in touch with the commissioners to see if possible to get some assistance on the cemetery road.

Judge A. H. Duxbury of the cemetery board urged that the road be improved as many visitors passed over it each week in visiting the cemetery.

The matter of the taxing of a part of the property of the Farmers Co-operative creamery was brought up and the matter discussed by G. K. Eetrick and E. H. Spangler of the company. The company had been ready to pay their taxes and found that in some manner they were charged with a delinquent improvement tax also they had been under the impression that these were all paid each year. The matter was discussed with the finance committee after the close of the council session.

Many Students will Aim at Uni Scholarships

Record Number of High School Students in Nebraska, 1,776, Will Try This Year.

An all time high of 1,776 high school students from over the state will compete for University of Nebraska regents scholarships which again will be made available for all colleges in 1937. This represents an increase of 483 students as compared with figures a year ago. According to statistics from the university extension division, 420 Nebraska high schools will be represented as against 410 in 1936.

To date approximately 800 students have availed themselves of the regents awards, this being the sixth year that scholarships have been made to high ranking graduates of secondary schools. Each school is allowed at least two contestants who must rank in the upper quarter of their graduating class. Winners of the awards will be chosen on the basis of grades received on five different examinations, which include a classification test in English and a psychological test required of all students entering the university. Part of this test will also be scored separately as a reading test. In addition, regents contestants will be given a second psychological test and an English composition examination. These are scheduled for April 12 and 13.

An algebra classification test will be taken by those who plan to enter the college of engineering, altho this quiz will not be considered as one of the basic tests when awarding scholarships. A group of 6,341 students in the high schools will take the psychological tests this spring, 6,739 the English exams, and 2,194 the algebra tests.

Of the 250 regents scholarship winners awarded in 1935, 235 of them are in school at the present time. These freshmen scholarships amount to about $25 for the first semester. If the student's work is satisfactory, the award is granted him for the second semester.

Will Plant Corn for Production of Hybrid Types

Estimated That More Than 2,000 Acres to Be Seeded in Nebraska This Season.

In spite of the drouth of 1936, more than 2,000 acres of corn planted for the production of hybrid seed will be grown in Nebraska this season, says the department of agronomy at the University of Nebraska. The department was able to supply a considerable amount of inbred and foundation hybrids for the production of the commercial double cross hybrid corn. For three or four years about 30 farmers and seedsmen in Nebraska have been developing plans for production of hybrid seed corn. These growers will plant approximately 2,000 acres of single cross hybrids in 1937. These hybrids are Nebraska 252, Nebraska 238, Nebraska 362, Nebraska 110 and Iowa 939, which are the five hybrids eligible for certification in Nebraska. Hybrids are not certified in Nebraska until they have demonstrated in field tests that they yield from 15 to 20 per cent more than ordinary farm varieties of corn, and that they have desirable characteristics as to stiffness of stalks and quality of grain.

In addition to supplying the larger growers the department has set aside single cross seed which can be purchased by farmers who wish to grow an acre or two of hybrid corn to supply their own seed. It is expected there will be approximately 200 farmers growing small acreages of from one to two acres, so that in 1938 they will have their own hybrid seed for field planting. The department still has on hand a limited amount of the single crosses for production of Nebraska 110 and Nebraska 362.

A number of 4-H corn club boys and Smith-Hughes students in agriculture are growing acre plots for the production of hybrid seed this coming season as part of their project. Hybrid corn meetings held during the past two weeks have been well attended by farmers interested in learning the details of hybrid corn production.

MANDAMUS WRIT ISSUED

An alternative writ of mandamus was issued by District Judge Eroady Thursday ordering Walter J. Jensen, state treasurer, and William H. Price, state auditor, to set up on their books the reappropriation of $7,000 for use for prevention of scabies and swine disease, or show cause on March 30, at 9 a. m., why they should not do so. The application for the writ was filed some days ago by Patrick H. Gibbons, a taxpayer, who claims that a bill passed by the house and the senate reappropriated the amount that was unexpended in 1935 but that the enrolling clerk by error failed to include the amendment to the bill, and the money has never been set up for use.

Urge Cleanup of Farmyards to Stop Disease

American Foundation for Animal Health to Make General Cleanup of Possible Disease Spots.

Lincoln, Nebr., March 25—(Special)—Plans for a nation-wide "farm cleanup week," to begin April 1 in all the nation's principal farming states, were announced here today by the American Foundation for Animal Health, cooperating veterinary groups, and allied agencies.

Unlike city "cleanup" campaigns, the farm drive will center in the barnyards, not the houses. First objective, leaders said, will be to wipe out sources of infection which harbor millions of dollars in livestock losses. Here are some of the main objectives of attack:

Fill up or fence off mudholes, which form an ideal breeding place for disease germs and parasites; burn old straw stacks, board up holes beneath buildings, where animals might burrow and pick up lice, mange, worms, and tuberculosis; fence off manure piles, which are major sources of parasite infestation;

Eradicate rats, mice, pigeons and sparrows which are great germ carriers; spread crushed rock or shale around water tanks; clean and disinfect all buildings used by animals; scrub all feed boxes and roosts with hot lye water.

Clean-up of yards, lots and buildings is an effective weapon against cholera, horse distemper, contagious abortion and lockjaw. Preparations should also be made to have livestock immunized against hog cholera, blackleg, and kindred diseases.

Farmers desiring information and assistance may obtain suggestions by calling their local veterinarian, the foundation states.
