

MURDOCK ITEMS

The Hitchcock family of Havelock, together with L. Neitzel and Mrs. J. J. Arnold, of Murdock, spent Easter Sunday with Mrs. Meta MacDiarmid in Omaha.

Ivan McCrorey and a number of the farmers living near Murdock, were in Wabash last Wednesday afternoon, where they attended the annual meeting of the Wabash Grain company.

Ivan Buskirk, of near South Bend, was a visitor in Murdock on last Thursday and was looking after business matters for a short time as well as visiting with his many friends here.

Ray Gamlin was in Omaha last Wednesday with a truck load of fat cattle for Robert Long, and on his return brought with him a truck load of feeders for the lots of Mr. Long, which had just been vacated by release of the other shipment.

J. H. Buck, local blacksmith, completed a trailer last week, which he disposed of to one of the farmers of this vicinity. This line of work, coupled with his regular blacksmith work at this season of the year, has kept Mr. Buck pretty busy most of the time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Work and children of Omaha spent Sunday in Murdock as guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tool, parents of Mrs. Work. A splendid dinner was served and everyone, especially the kiddies, enjoyed their visit at the home of Grandpa and Grandma Tool.

The Farmers Union Grain company are disposing of many farm implements and tractors now, as the farmers are getting ready for spring work. Peter Jardine of near Greenwood has purchased a tractor and tractor plow, and Dan Panska has bought a new 10-20 tractor during the past week.

C. C. Cain, president of the Lumbersmen's Lumber and Supply company, of Omaha, was a visitor in Murdock last Wednesday, calling on W. T. Weddell, manager of the T. W. Engles Lumber company here. A number of large shipments of lumber had just been received by the local yard, and their sheds are practically filled.

Operetta Postponed

The operetta which was to have been given by pupils of the Murdock high school last week, has been postponed until a later date, due to the stormy weather that prevailed and the bad condition of the farm roads.

Disposed of Their Wheat

Two of the well known and successful farmers of this vicinity decided to store their wheat crop after the harvest last year, anticipating a good price for "old wheat in the bin." They hung onto it thru various price fluctuations, seeing the price gradually climb a little higher each time, and even when the foreign demand caused a further stepping up of the price they still held on. Now, with a generous supply of moisture from the melting snow and subsequent rains giving promise of a wheat yield this year, they concluded it was high time to let the

A FEW months before his death Gen. Basil of Kentucky, who commanded Morgan's Cavalry after the killing of his brother-in-law, Gen. John Morgan, told this tale at a Confederate reunion in his home city of Louisville:

He said that during one of the Tennessee campaigns Morgan's men surprised and routed a regiment of Federal troopers. In the midst of the retreat one of the enemy, who was mounted upon a big bay horse, suddenly turned and charged the victorious Confederates full-till, waving his arm and shrieking like mad as he bore down upon them alone. Respecting such marvelous courage, the Confederates forebore shooting at the approaching foe, but when he was right upon them they saw

He was a green recruit. His horse had run away with him—the bit had broken and white as a sheet and scared stiff, the luckless youth was being propelled straight at the whooping Kentuckians, begging for mercy as he came.

Jeff Sterritt, a noted wit of the command, stopped the horse and made a willing prisoner of the rider. Sterritt, who had not washed or shaved for days and was a ferocious looking person, pulled out a big pistol and waved its muzzle in the terrified Federal's face.

"I don't know whether to kill you right now," he said, "or wait until the fight is over!"

"Mister," begged the quivering captive, "as a favor to me, please don't do it at all! I'm a dispirited character—and I ain't prepared to die!"

rain go and so last week disposed of their two cars of very fine wheat to the Murdock Grain company, of which Henry ("Statts") Carson is the manager.

His Tenth Birthday A happy birthday party was held at the home of A. J. Neitzel last Saturday when Grant Louis was celebrating the tenth anniversary of his birth. A large number of his classmates from the Sunday school enjoyed the occasion; a fine lunch was served by his mother and some nice presents were given to the celebrant as mementoes.

Asked to Remain Next Year. Douglas Tool who was elected as superintendent of the Atlanta, Neb., public schools last year, this being his first school, has made such a success of the work that the Board of Education has asked him to remain for the coming year.

Home from a Long Visit Mrs. Hannah McDonald, who went to Hampton for a visit at the home of her son, Gale McDonald, and after having visited there for a couple of weeks, was taken by him to North Loup, where she visited at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Gillespie, for an equal length of time, was brought home last Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. Bryan McDonald and family were at North Loup for a visit, and on their return to Murdock brought the mother home. She says she enjoyed a most pleasant month visiting with the children and their families, but was glad to get back home before Easter.

Home from the South Andrew Zoz and son Robert, who spent about a month at Hot Springs, Arkansas, arrived home last week and found a very cool reception—for the climate here was much different than the warm, sunshiny weather of the south. They state gardens were growing nicely there and orchards were in full bloom—with young fruit already set on the branches of some trees.

Held Quilting Bee A number of ladies gathered at the home of Grandma Rikli Thursday, March 18, to assist her in quilting a piece of quilt, the first one she ever pieced in her life, being now 82 years of age, and did a very fine piece of work on it.

"The Teaching of the Years" By L. Neitzel This is February 19, 1937—it would be the 59th anniversary of the day when I led the best, most lovable and truest girl in the world to the altar to become "mine." Here I sit in my study, her sweet picture before me, as she was then. I open my Bible, as we did that first day, to begin our new venture, and there is the text for this review in Job 32:7: "I said days should speak and

COUNTY CLUB NEWS

DO YOU KNOW—

That the candle fish, found in the river mouths off the northern Pacific coast of North America, is so named because of its extreme oilness of flesh. The Indians convert them into candles by merely inserting a wick through the length of the body.
