

County Board Accepts New Record Books

Numerical Index of Real Estate in Office of Register of Deeds is O. K'd. by Commissioners

The Cass county commissioners at their meetings in March transacted various matters of routine business.

At meeting of March 2, approval was voted of orders renewing the Mothers' Pension of Marcia M. Hise, Ida N. Cotner and Mrs. Anna Pittman, as well as an order revoking the Mother's Pension of Mrs. Ora Seil.

Appointment of Jason Streight as Constable for South Bend precinct and official bond of appointee were approved by the Board.

On March 3 the official bonds of Raymond J. Larson and Ben A. Olive as members of the Cass County Soldiers and Sailors Relief Commission were approved, also the official bond of W. B. Bradley, as Justice of the Peace of Greenwood precinct.

On March 4 an order was approved renewing Mother's Pension of Mrs. May Danera.

Appointment of R. M. Coatman as Constable for Greenwood precinct and his official bond were approved.

Resignation of Chas. E. Hart as Justice of Peace of Louisville precinct was accepted.

Seven assessors were appointed to fill vacancies, as follows: Harry Meisinger, Eight Mile Grove precinct; Louis Meyers, Salt Creek precinct; G. C. Hobeck, Nehawka precinct; Henry Rogoss, Mt. Pleasant precinct; Alfred Gansemer, First Rock Bluff precinct; W. A. Wheeler, Second Rock Bluff precinct and E. P. Betts, Tipton precinct. The bonds of the above appointees were also approved at the same time.

A resolution was passed accepting as correct the extensive new numerical index system of real estate recently completed by a group of WPA employees in the office of the Register of Deeds; and absolving the Register of Deeds and the surety on her bond of any possible errors or omissions of said records.

A resolution was also passed urging final approval of the dock project, which would put to work 100 of Cass county's allotted 205 men.

Not to exceed $150 was allowed for expense of clerical help in the office of the County Farm Bureau for preparing applications and other papers in connection with the Federal Emergency Crop and Feed Loan in Cass county.

Eighty names were selected by the Board from which to draw the jury for the April term of district court.

The balance of the time at March meetings was spent in consideration and allowance of claims on the respective funds, as follows:

DO YOU KNOW—

That even centuries ago, a safe water supply was considered essential to the welfare of an army. Cyrus the Great of Persia, carried with him on his military expeditions, boiled water from the Coaspis River transporting it in silver vessels on four-wheeled wagons.

Wabash News

Frank Marshall was delivering stock to the Omaha market for Fred Towle on last Monday. John Wood was in Lincoln last Monday, where he was delivering stock to market for Fred Weyers of near Wabash.

Buried in Ohio

The remains of the late Wm. F. Langhorst, who passed away at his late home in Wabash last Sunday, were shipped to the old home in Ohio, for interment. The funeral at Wabash was held Monday just before the body was shipped to the old home in the east.

Remembered Friend's Birthday

A group of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Henson, remembering the date of the passing of his birthday anniversary, which fell on last Sunday, gathered together and went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henson, where they enjoyed a very pleasant evening with social conversation and games. Delicious refreshments were served before the hour of departure, consisting of ice cream and cake.

Enjoyed a Merry Easter

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hammond of Davenport, Iowa, the latter a daughter of Mrs. Henrietta Lawton, arrived in Wabash last Saturday and enjoyed the week end which was Easter with her mother, Mrs. Lawton. A most pleasant visit was had by the mother and her daughter and husband. They were also joined by a son of Mrs. Lawton, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lawton, from Murdock, who came over to spend the Easter-tide with the mother. With the folks here to greet her and to spend the joyous Easter with her was a source of happiness for Mrs. Lawton.

Resting in Old Home

The remains of the late William F. Langhorst, who passed away at the home of Will Murfin and wife in Wabash on last Sunday was shipped on Monday evening to the old home in New Bremen, Ohio, where it was laid to rest beside that of the wife who preceded the husband in death some four years.

Attended Funeral Here

The funeral of the late William F. Langhorst, which was held in Wabash on last Monday, was attended by Louis F. Langhorst and wife, their daughter, J. R. Moore and family of Omaha and the family of Harry Williams, including daughters and family attending as well as many friends and other relatives making their home in Elmwood. Some six of the brothers, all making their home in Ohio, were not able to attend, but attended a service and the burial in New Bremen, Ohio, where he was laid to rest. His only daughter, Mrs. Anna Muth, of Brighton, Mass., also attended the last sad rites at the burial.

Resigns Position as Teacher

Miss Hilda Schlaphoff, teacher of the Wabash school, whose mother, Mrs. Dan Schlaphoff, passed away, and whose funeral occurred on last Tuesday, resigned as teacher, as with the mother gone she is taking the responsibility of housekeeper and a very noble act. This leaves the school without a teacher, the position being supplied by Mrs. Fred Wendt. Thus the school goes forward in the best manner.

FISHERMEN SPENT RECORD SUM

Fishermen in the United States spent $15,000,000 in 1936 for tackle alone and splurged the rest of their half billion dollar outlay on clothes, transportation, lodging, provisions, guides and incidentals. On the average last season cost each fisherman $50, representing an increase of approximately 25 per cent over 1935 which set an all-time record.—The Literary Digest.

OFFICIALS ARE INDICTED

Carthage, Mo.—A vice investigating county grand jury that opened each session with prayer rested from its labors after indicting the mayor of Joplin, the Jasper county prosecutor, and two police chiefs. Called at the instigation of young church workers, the grand jury returned a total of 108 indictments against 62 persons, mostly on charges of conducting gambling and immoral houses.

HERE IS sanitary protection

It is the opinion of this grand jury, its report said, "that the law enforcement officers of Jasper county are about the best bunch of buck passers we have any knowledge of." The officials had no comment. They were free on bonds of $1,000 each after pleading innocent before Circuit Judge Ray E. Watson. Their trial was set for the June term of court.

Making Sure of Fuel Supply

The Board of Education has purchased through the local lumber and coal dealer, H. M. Lum, some 65 tons of coal, which they have had Henry Maseman place in the bunkers for the coming year. They felt it was best to lay in next winter's supply now, as with the possibility of strikes tying up the mines they might not be able to get fuel when it will be needed next winter. The supply purchased is considered adequate to carry them through the coming winter.
