

Funeral of Old Resident of Near Nehawka Held

C. A. Murdoch Laid to the Last Rest Near Where His Lifetime Has Been Spent.

George Albert Murdoch, son of John and Sarah H. Murdoch was born February 9, 1870, three miles north of the present town of Nehawka, on which place he spent all of his boyhood days and practically all his life. An interesting fact is that his father's homestead was his birthplace, the birthplace of all his children and one son still remains and farms the old homestead. On August 30, 1893 he was united in holy wedlock to Clara Emma Colvin. To this union were born eight children: Geo. Lester, now deceased, Esther Rachel Stokes, Pearl Sarah Kruger, Earl Colvin, Guy Searl, Beattie Fern and Troy Anderson, all residing in this community, and Albert Roy who is a minister of the United Brethren church in Crab Orchard.

In early life he became a follower of the Lord Jesus Christ and united with the United Brethren church at Otterbein. In the spring of 1929 he and his wife moved into Nehawka where he has since resided. He passed to his reward on the morning of the 22nd of April, aged 67 years, 2 months and 13 days.

He leaves to mourn for and miss him, his faithful wife, the seven children, all of whom are now married except Bessie who remained at home with her parents, twelve grandchildren, three step-children, three sisters: Mary C. Norris of Nehawka, Rena Warden of Union, Ruth Thomas of Lincoln and one brother, J. W. of Nehawka, other relatives and the many friends accumulated through the years of friendliness.

He gave his life to the Master in a revival held over 50 years ago in the little country school house and has been a faithful helper of his Lord and a promoter of the Kingdom all these years, leaving to us the Christian teaching in a Godly home. An active worker in the church and the community, he was vice-president of the Ministerial and Layman's League of Cass county for five years doing a good work for the churches of the county and in his personal work for the Master. So passes another pioneer and beloved citizen to his reward of a finished work.

Rev. A. B. Small, pastor of the United Brethren in Christ church of Nehawka officiated at the funeral. W. L. Hobson and Son were in charge of the service. Interment was in the family plot of the Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

The service at the home at 2:15 Saturday used the 23rd Psalm followed by prayer.

The church service at 2:30 was held in the United Brethren church in Nehawka. Processional "Nearer My God to Thee." A quartette sang "Sweet By and By." Rev. Small read Christ's words on the resurrection from the gospel of John, followed by a prayer and song "In the Garden."

Rev. Small delivered the sermon, using as the text Amos 5:8: "Seek Him who... turneth the shadows of death into morning."

Another song, "Saved by Grace and Praise." "God Will Take Care of You," were given. The quartette was composed of Mrs. Harold Dodson, Mrs. Herbert Kuntz, Albert Anderson, and Verner Lundberg. Mrs. E. A. Nitzman accompanied the quartette.

The pall bearers, all nephews of the departed were: John Davis, Ora Davis, Murray, Troy Davis, Weeping Water; John Chappell, Plattsmouth; Lester Shrader, Eugene Fitch, Nehawka.

Among the out-of-town attendants were: Mrs. D. O. Murdoch, Arapahoe; Oscar Murdoch, Elwood; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pike, Elwood; Mrs. Catherine M. McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Guy R. Davis and son, Thomas, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Thomas, Miss Helen Warden, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Knabe, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Johns and son, Robert, all of Lincoln; Troy L. Davis, Weeping Water; John A. Davis, Ora A. Davis, Murray; John Chappell, Plattsmouth.

NEBRASKANS PREFER STATE-MADE BEER; STORZ LEADS SALES

Nebraska people prefer Nebraska-made beer. This fact was plainly disclosed by official gallonage tax figures released through the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission in Lincoln recently.

Storz beer led all other beers in state sales by a wide margin during 1936, the figures showed. Storz Brewing company, makers of Storz beer, has been continuously operated in Nebraska by Gottlieb Storz of Omaha since 1876.

Last year $282,955 were paid by breweries to the state for beer stamps. Officials say beer taxes add much to Nebraska's revenue and thereby relieve the state from collecting additional property taxes, which might be necessary otherwise to meet increasing budget needs. The commission's report, containing the only official figures from which the sale of beer in Nebraska by various breweries can be taken, shows that Storz Brewing company paid more taxes than any Nebraska or outside brewery.

"I'm happy to know that Nebraska folks like Nebraska beer best," smiled Gottlieb Storz when told about the tax figures. "We keep the money in the state by paying premium prices to Nebraska's farmers for the choice grain used in making our beer. Then too, our big weekly payroll means more money for buying other products made in the state."

In addition, considerable money is spent by the state's breweries through distributing organizations, truckers and railroad men. Storz leadership in the brewing industry aptly reflects the attitude of Nebraska's people in supporting home-owned institutions.

DON'T MIND TAX SO MUCH

Omaha.—Lord Marley, deputy speaker of the English house of lords, an Omaha guest, said the English people don't mind taxes as much as Americans, chiefly because the Englishmen never gets the money. The Englishman's tax is deducted from his salary by the employer, whereas the American gets it and then has to pay it into the government.

He said England's half billion dollar defense loan, announced Tuesday, is two years too late, and should have been more. Of former King Edward, who abdicated, and Mrs. Wallis Simpson, he said, "I hope they will be married and will be very happy."

PLANTING RED BUD TREES

The members of the Rotary club are planting Red Bud trees along highway No. 75 in the south part of the city. These trees are to be planted as a memorial to the departed members of the club. The American Legion is also to plant a group of the flowering dogwood along the highway north of Masonic Home as a memorial to the departed service men.

Rural Phone Line Calls are Explained

Lincoln Telephone Company to Acquaint Subscribers of Company on the Rural Lines.

Rural subscribers of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company's exchange in Plattsmouth are becoming rapidly acquainted with the new "emergency line ring" established recently for the purpose of giving information of an emergency nature. The new code, which consists of a series of short, long, short rings will be used only in cases of real emergency—such as the report of a fire or other catastrophe. The "general line ring," with which all rural subscribers are familiar, will be retained and used exclusively as a signal preliminary to the transmission of matters of general interest, but not of an emergency nature.

Many years ago, the telephone company realized that a ringing code should be adopted which would indicate to rural subscribers that important information would be given over the rural line immediately following the special ringing code. This ring was designated the "general line ring."

As it became known that practically all rural subscribers could be reached by this means, there developed requests for the service to announce school programs, community celebrations, sales, etc. Because of the number and variety of these uses, it became apparent to telephone company officials that a new ringing code was necessary for emergency use, and the new "emergency line ring" fills this need.

THREE DAY INSTITUTE OPENS AT CENTER

From Wednesday's Daily—Twenty members of the recreation council were present this morning for the opening of the three-day institute at the recreation center in Plattsmouth. Will Thomas, of Lincoln, a field worker, opened the session with a few remarks as to the general purpose of the institute.

Another morning speaker was George Gats of Omaha. Mr. Gats outlined the five phases of a recreational program, dramatics, music, physical education, handicraft, and social education. Mrs. Flemming of Omaha, instructor in nature lore, gave a brief introduction to her work. Other speakers were Mrs. Maude Hurd, in charge of girl's craft work and puppetry and Joe Ovington, who has charge of handicraft and archery. Both are from Omaha. D. T. Bartlett of Nebraska City, Cass and Otoe county supervisor, was also present.

The course of instruction is open to anyone who is interested in recreational work or the program which is being sponsored by the center. Morning sessions are from 9 to 12 o'clock and afternoon, from 1:30 to 4. Those who are not active on the council are especially invited to see the exhibits which will be shown of work from centers over the state.

Institutes are being held over the entire state under the direction of the state training staff. Mr. Gats, Mrs. Flemming, Mrs. Hurd, and Mr. Ovington, in order to better organize the activities of the local recreation centers and to further interest of communities in the activity.
