Suffers Severe Injury
Mrs. A. I. Bird was the victim of a most unusual accident last Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carl Bornemeier. She was in the yard at the time the wind was blowing so strongly and the gate was swung open with great force when caught by a burst of wind, striking her in such manner that she sustained a fractured pelvic bone. The injury was so severe that the aged woman was taken to the Bryan Memorial hospital in Lincoln for treatment. The injured member has been placed in a cast and everything possible is being done to relieve her suffering, but she still remains in a very critical condition.

Staged Clean-Up Campaign
Taking opportunity of time when there was no business to interfere with their work, J. W. Kruger and wife and Eddie Craig cleaned up the barber shop and decorated and varnished the same, which has very materially changed the appearance of the interior of the place.

He expects to remain about three weeks. During his absence the Rock Island business is being cared for by L. M. Scott, an extra agent for the company. Mr. Scott was formerly located at Alvo.

Many Beautifying Properties
A good number of our Murdock citizens have been engaged in recent days in beautifying their properties around their homes. After the severe drouth last summer many beautiful trees and many lawns died. Some of the dead trees have been removed and replaced by many young trees and shrubbery. This speaks well in giving the growing generation beauty and comfort from the broiling sun in years to come. It is a sad sight for nature lovers to witness large trees, once beautiful and once filling a large place, but now gone. When they are replaced by young, hardy trees, it keeps our village beautiful and comfortable.

Shrubbery and many flowers make a fine improvement to any property. They don't cost much, yet are worth a load of satisfaction and joy. A number of lawns have been reseeded lately and are showing early results of improvement and care.

We are happy when our citizens take pride in their village to make it beautiful and clean. The growing weeds—so soon to become unsightly and which destroy our beauty, will be each one's challenge to control.

Co-operation in making and keeping our properties in order this season will give satisfaction and beauty to all nature lovers.

Sudden Death of Young Man
Robert Schleuter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schleuter, died late Wednesday night, after being struck earlier in the day, by a falling brick. He and his father were dismantling a church in Wabash, which they had recently purchased, when the accident occurred. A falling brick struck Robert in the back of the head while he was on the ground and caused a large scalp wound. He was rushed to the doctor for treatment and examination and then was returned home, suffering considerable pain. Shortly after 6:00 p. m. he fell into a deep, restful sleep which gave him some relief from the severe pain. Later the family noticed that complications had set in. Before help could arrive, the young man had passed away.

The community is deeply shocked by his sudden passing. He was in the flower of youth, and possessed a robust physique. Robert was a crusader for Christ and the church

Meeting Daily Needs

EVERYONE has daily needs, and in many cases they are numerous. Thus, everywhere people are engaged in devising ways and means of meeting these needs.

Food, clothing, and shelter are generally considered to be the most important daily necessities. Throughout the ages, humanity has worked to cultivate the soil for crops, to weave material for clothing, to build homes for shelter and repose and ships for transportation. These and other methods of supplying the needs of mankind are constantly being increased in scope. In their turn the world's busy workers receive payment with which to buy these necessities, so that the so-called law of demand and supply may be carried out.

But sometimes this so-called law does not seem to be working properly. On the one hand there appears to be unemployment, stagnation of trade, poverty; and on the other, such a surplus of food that there is no longer any demand and little return for it. Then, too, a sudden decrease in value of stocks and shares, or rents from houses or lands, may bring sense of insecurity and even, at times, lack to the one who has relied on a settled income for the supply with which to meet his needs. In this maelstrom of material living everyone needs to find a reliable source of supply, one which cannot possibly fail, because its basis is neither material nor limited.

In that most wonderful of all sermons, the Sermon on the Mount, our Way-shower, Christ Jesus, said (Matthew 6:24): "No man can serve two masters," clearly showing that we cannot put our reliance on matter and material methods and still avail ourselves of the true and enduring substance which does not fail. Illustrating the need for simple trust in God, he said (Matthew 6:26): "Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them." Evidently the Master discerned humanity's fear of limitation and the consequent anxious hoarding of material things. He continued, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and had a future of hopes and vision before him. He found great delight in serving his Christ, and in being faithful in small things. One of his last contributions for the Kingdom resulted in singing in two beautiful male quartette selections at the district Evangelical Youth Rally in Lincoln last Sunday, with his pals in the Junior Callahan quartette. He was greatly beloved by the community for his high ideals, noble character, and his sincere and unselfish service in the cause of youth and the Kingdom of God.

The funeral services were held in the Callahan Evangelical church Sunday afternoon and interment took place in the cemetery near by.

Close Successful Year

The Murdock Extension club closed a successful year's work with a dinner and program at the high school gymnasium Tuesday evening, April 29. Spring decorations were in evidence on the tables and throughout the program. The gathering proved a happy close for the year as the 32 members and their husbands enjoyed that annual occasion.

Mrs. Henry Amgwert, retiring president, spoke briefly and then announced the newly elected officers for next year, as follows: Mrs. Harvey A. Schwab, president; Mrs. Wm. Zabel, vice president, and Miss Wilma Panska, secretary-treasurer. Many members attended and participated in the annual Achievement Day program April 23.

and all these things shall be added unto you."

The kingdom of heaven, the reign of harmony for each one, is ever at hand, because our Father-Mother, God, the only source of real supply, is omnipotent and omnipresent. No longer then, need anxiety or fear assail us regarding the necessity of meeting today's or tomorrow's needs. When we turn wholeheartedly to God, and realize man's inseparable oneness with Him, with all good, we can be certain that our need will be supplied. We shall begin to see that our real need is to know and demonstrate more and more of our God-given freedom, health, and happiness. Encouraging us along this pathway of right thinking, Mary Baker Eddy says in "The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellaneous" (p. 186): "Rest assured that He in whom dwelleth all life, health, and holiness, will supply all your needs according to His riches in glory."

What unspeakable comfort, what a loosening of heavy burdens, for all those whose family, business, or career needs daily care! When one seeks first the constant supply of spiritual ideas, of wisdom, intelligence, loving-kindness, co-operation, and purity, through quiet, unselfed contemplation of the spiritual nature of man as the child of God, every right endeavor will be abundantly blessed for the benefit of all. To such a one there is no insurmountable barrier of lack, unemployment, or stagnation; for he is proving the truth that each idea of divine Mind is ever engaged in true activity, where the enduring qualities of Mind are being joyously expressed.

Then let us array our whole thought on the side of good, of abundance, and not waste time thinking or talking of evil, since it has neither place nor opportunity for expression in God's harmonious plan for each of His children. No one is left out of the Father's loving care. With joy and gratitude we can prove the truth of Mrs. Eddy's tender words on page 307 of "Miscellaneous Writings": "God gives you His spiritual ideas, and in turn, they give you daily supplies. Never ask for to-morrow. It is enough that divine Love is an ever-present help; and if you wait, never doubting, you will have all you need every moment."—The Christian Science Monitor.

and nine pastors met in the annual Spring Rally of the southeast district of the Evangelical Youth Union last Sunday afternoon and evening, April 25th, in the beautiful new First Evangelical church in Lincoln, Nebraska.
