Ruhge, who was born 57 years ago last Tuesday on a farm four miles from Avo, and who at the age of seven years moved to town with his parents, has lived here continuously for 50 years, residing in but two places, the one he now occupies and one just across the street. Mr. Ruhge has traveled over a good portion of the country but says he has found no place he likes as well as Cass county, and especially the territory within a few miles radius of Avo.

Henry Ludwig is another well known Cass county citizen with a long period of residence here. He was born December 26, 1873—sixty-four years ago—four miles west of the present site of Avo, for there was no town here then, all being raw prairie land. He was here when the railroad came and the townsite was laid out. He, too, says he is well satisfied to reside here the rest of his life and feels, as does Mr. Ruhge, that there is no finer place than Avo, with its friendly people as neighbors.

Uncle Henry Hayes, who is one of the pioneer citizens of this part of the county, having resided here for almost half a century, has been very sick at his home here, and while everything possible has been done for this grand old man, he still remains in a very serious condition. It is the hope of his many friends that he may rally from his illness and be restored to health.

Honored Charter Member
Louis Ubley, who thinks much of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, in which he has held membership almost 50 years—49 to be exact—is the only charter member of the local lodge, organized in 1888, who is alive today. Last Saturday evening a number of his friends and fellow members of the order went to his home to help provide a most merry evening for their aged friend, who has remained such a loyal member throughout the years.

Rev. Ernest E. Baker and wife, accompanied by Mrs. Verna Olsen and daughter, Beatrice, departed early last week for Burchard, where they went to visit for a few days at the home of Supt. Spencer L. Charles West, the barber, with his son, "Shorty," have been building a fence along the street in front of the residence portion of their property. A Wonderful Woman
Grandmother Mrs. Ellen Oltus was born in Illinois and came to Nebraska many years ago, in fact at such an early date that she distinctly remembers when the Indians roamed this country and there was no stopping place between their home three miles west of Elmwood and vicinity. She recalls distinctly the different farms being settled by hardy pioneers and the homes that began appearing on the raw prairie as different people came to this country from the east to reside. She remembers the family going to Ashland to trade when there were but a half dozen houses at most between their place and Ashland. She has resided on the farm where she now lives for 59 years and in the county for a considerably longer period. Although she has done trading at Ashland and Lincoln numerous times in this long period, she has never been to Plattsmouth, the county seat.

The state liquor commission announced it would conduct a hearing May 24 to determine whether its new order restricting the size of beer containers should become operative.

The regulation was to have become effective May 15 but the commission suspended operation of the order after a delegation from three breweries and distributing companies entered a protest.

The order limits beer containers to 12, 24 and 64 ounce bottles or cans. Chairman Gass said 16 and 32 ounce containers are now on the market. Gass asked the distributors to prevent shipments of odd sizes from entering Nebraska until the issue is decided.

Cass County May be One Air-Mapped

Work Sponsored by AAA Officials at Washington to Secure Air Maps of 25 Nebraska Counties.

Fred Wallace, chairman of the state agricultural conservation committee, said at Lincoln Friday 25 eastern Nebraska counties probably would be mapped by aerial photography this summer to provide permanent, accurate records of farm-lands.

Ground maps of the proposed area already have been sent to Washington, Wallace said, and are being used in seeking bids on the aerial mapping.

He explained pictures are taken from an altitude of about 12,000 feet on days when no clouds or dust are present.

Experimental aerial work in other states has been successful, Wallace said, but he pointed out days on which atmospheric conditions are suitable are relatively few.

Counties in which aerial mapping is proposed are:

Lawrence, Douglas, Madison, Burr, Payne, Richardson, Otoe, Nemaha, Gage, Johnson, Cass, Sarpy, Saunders, Washington, Colfax, Platte, Cuming, Stanton, DeWitt, Cedar, Dixon, Dodge, Fillmore, Wayne and Thurston.

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out. Frequent scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval.
