Legion Junior Baseball Season Opens Monday

Louisville, Last Year District Champions, to be Here for Only Game on Home Grounds

PLATTSMOUTH PLAYS

Monday, June 28---Louisville here
Thursday, July 1---Elmwood there
Thursday, July 8---Gretna there
Monday, July 12---Papillon there

Although sponsoring a boys' baseball team the past two seasons, the Plattsmouth Legion post has never entered its squad in the official Legion Junior Baseball competition until this year.

The official schedule for League A, District 3, just received by Fred Herbster, chairman of the Legion Junior Baseball committee, shows five teams assigned to League A, as follows: Elmwood, Gretna, Louisville, Papillon and Plattsmouth.

Official league play will be started next Monday, June 28, when the fast Louisville team, district champions last year, will be here for the one and only home game in the series of four planned for each of the five teams. Games are scheduled for June 28, July 1, 5, 8 and 12, one team drawing a bye on each of the five dates. Plattsmouth draws its bye Monday, July 5.

The winner of League A competition will meet the winner of League B for championship of District 3---this district championship to be settled on or before July 20. District champions will meet later in statewide competition, with the state champions going on to a regional tournament and from there to the national.

Plattsmouth Has Good Team

Plattsmouth has a very good team this year. Of the fifteen boys certified, all are "natural" ball players, who like the game and have been willing to put in long hours of practice to perfect themselves, under the coaching of "Swoed" Lutman, who has been furnished by the Recreational program of the Federal government especially for this task.

Earl Wiles is No. 1 mound man, and a good pitcher. Stub Sedlak at short stop position regularly, is the team's No. 2 pitcher and John Jacobs has proven his ability to take the mound as relief pitcher when needed. Don Wall, center fielder, is the team's ace batter. Bob Hayes holds down catcher's place in most able manner. Gene Werstler, Joe Phillips and Harry Shiffer are the three regular basemen, while Ronald Rehal, Don Wall and Dale Jackson play in the outfield. Allen Persinger fills in at short stop or third base, and Allen White is the relief first baseman, with Jimmy Jones, Joe Noble and Glen Lutz substituting in the outfield.

To date the team has played three unofficial or practice games. In the first contest of the season at Louisville, Plattsmouth led, 4 to 3 until the seventh inning, and then "cracked," dropping the game to last year's district champions, 6 to 4. That is one reason why the regular league game here next Monday will be fast and furious. Undoubtedly Louisville will furnish the stiffest competition in League A, and to help our boys win, a large attendance should turn out for this home game Monday afternoon. It will be played on the old ball diamond east of the Burlington depot. No admission will be charged and business men and citizens of the town are invited to attend. The game will be called at 2:30. Seven, instead of the usual nine innings, are played in Junior Legion competition, that being deemed sufficiently long for any coming pitcher of immature years to extend himself.

In the other two unofficial inter-city contests, Plattsmouth defeated Nebraska City, 11 to 3 and Auburn, 3 to 2.

Following is the schedule for the five days of play:

Monday, June 28---Gretna at Papillon; Louisville at Plattsmouth; Elmwood, bye.
Thursday, July 1---Plattsmouth at Elmwood; Gretna, bye; Papillon at Louisville.
Monday, July 5---Louisville at Gretna; Papillon at Elmwood; Plattsmouth, bye.
Thursday, July 8---Papillon, bye; Elmwood at Louisville; Plattsmouth at Gretna.
Monday, July 12---Louisville, bye; Plattsmouth at Papillon; Gretna at Elmwood.

BUSY BUILDING FORMS FOR CONCRETE WORK ON DOCK

During the high water, when the men are unable to work at the site of Plattsmouth's new dock, the various forms for the concrete portions of the structure are being built up town. When the water goes down, the forms will be trucked to the site and set up (arrangements to hinge them together being provided) so the pouring of concrete can begin. All of the piling to support the dock and warehouse were driven before the June rise of the river, and the driver and other equipment removed to higher ground.

The dock site has remained above the present high water, although considerable overflow water stands on the lower ground between it and town. This section will be built up with a 12 to 20 foot grade, for the new all-weather road to the dock that is part of the WPA project. A number of long culverts or small bridges will allow future flood water to pass without endangering the roadway, even should the river rise several feet above its high stage of yesterday, which is very improbable after construction of the Fort Peck reservoir is completed.

Since the announcement was first made of Plattsmouth's success in getting the first dock above St. Joseph, Mo., WPA has been beset with applications from other towns up and down the river, including Nebraska City, that never thought much about it before.

Engineers say the Plattsmouth river front is the finest anywhere along the Big Muddy above Kansas City, and Plattsmouth seems assured not only of having the first dock and loading wharf, but one of the finest of the many that will be built, either through WPA assistance or financed in whole by local communities.

CARDINAL SEWERS

The Cardinal Sewers met at the library rather than at the home of their leader as we had planned because it was more conveniently located for the mothers, who were invited to attend.

Miss Jessie Baldwin, county home agent, was present. She gave a fine talk on good grooming and posture of the 4-H girl. Many different styles of slips were shown which were made by club girls. Good illustrations of color harmony were shown. Miss Baldwin showed us how to enlarge a pattern or make it smaller. We were also shown nellmarra towels and the steps in making them.

The club girls brought samples of our slip materials and pictures of patterns.

At the close of the meeting Miss Kishel furnished a treat which was enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, June 30, at the home of Margaret and Mirian Fricke.

DAUGHTER ARRIVES

Mr. and Mrs. James Gochenour are the parents of a girl which was born Thursday morning. She weighed 8 pounds, 6 ounces. The mother and baby were moved to the Bill Gochenour home in Plattsmouth this morning because of the rise in the river and the danger of the flooding of their home.

Basic Requirements for Safety Patrol Outlined

Chief R. F. Weller of Safety Patrol Fixes Age Limits Between 25 and 40 Years.

Requirements for those who expect to file approximately 35 positions in the proposed Nebraska highway patrol have been set out in a bulletin issued by R. F. Weller, chief of the safety patrol.

Weller said applicants will not be interviewed personally except upon written instructions of the department to applicants, pointing out the impossibility of interviewing personally the thousands who have filed applications.

"With 6,000 applications and about 35 positions to be filled, it is obvious, of course, that many good men will be among those who will be rejected.

"Applicants can rest assured, however, that the department will endeavor to select the best men as judged by a single standard—their ability to be successful highway patrolmen."

Many of those who have made applications show by the manner in which they filled out blanks they are ineligible on account of age or other basic requirements and these will not be furnished with new application blanks. Details as to applications: Applications must be in the hands of the division of highway safety and patrol prior to Sept. 1.

The new application form includes space for applicant's photo and a blank for medical examination by the applicant's local physician.

The patrol, as announced previously, will be recruited by competitive examinations on a merit basis, the first time that a federal merit system has been employed by the state.

The basic requirements fix a minimum age limit of 25 years and a maximum age limit of 40 years. Successful applicants must be able to pass a rigid physical examination. Those recruited to the patrol will be on probation or six months. Other basic requirements set up are:

Applicants must be citizens of the United States and residents of Nebraska, and of good moral character.

Preference will be given applicants having at least four years of high school education or its equivalent; with a height of 5 ft. 10 in., without shoes, and weight in proportion to height.

Highway patrolmen, under the terms of their recruitment, will be subject to 12 hours duty, 6 days a week, and will be subject to call at any time.

The department may station a patrolman at any place in the state which may be deemed advisable and he may be transferred in the department's discretion.
