

Public Invited to Drive Willys on Economy Run

Motorists Given Chance to Prove the Claim Willys is Most Economical Full-Sized Auto

In an ad in today's Journal, John Bauer, local Willys dealer, calls the attention of the motoring public to the nation-wide Willys economy contest arranged to afford drivers first-hand knowledge of what is claimed in dealer advertisements now running regularly in the Journal columns to be America's most economical full-sized automobile.

Willys dealers have Willys cars equipped with one-tenth gallon test tanks and are inviting car owners and drivers to drive a Willys on a test run over set courses. Winners will be determined by the greatest mileage per gallon and the best 50-word essay on "Why the Willys Fills My Motoring Requirements."

Two Willys sedans, auto radios and bicycles are included in the big list of prizes to be awarded. A Willys de luxe sedan is the grand prize and a Willys standard sedan as second prize.

The contest will continue until the night of August 15 and essays must be in the mail before midnight August 16, one day after the contest closes. Details of the contest and the address to mail essays may be obtained of Mr. Bauer, local Willys dealer. Contestants must be of legal age for driving and have a Nebraska driver's license.

There is also a separate prize of a Willys sedan being offered to contestants taking a five mile demonstration ride in a new Willys and writing the best 50-word story. No purchase or other requirements to compete in these contests.

"One of the first questions a prospective purchaser asks the salesman today," says Mr. Bauer, "is 'How many miles to the gallon will the car give?' We are going to let the new Willys answer that question by inviting everyone to drive a Willys with the special test tank, visible to his or her own eyes.

"We are satisfied with the economy records made by the new Willys and so are thousands of Willys owners, many of whom have written letters to the factory testifying to mileage up to 35 to the gallon, while in some cases individual reports show mileage well in excess of that figure.

"However, we are staging this national economy contest with its big prizes to afford everyone the opportunity of making a personal check on Willys' economy before purchasing a new car."

VILLAGE MAYOR READS GAS METER AS VOCATION

Fairport, O. (UP)—Mayor John O. Rendrick, Fairport's versatile village head, not only administers the affairs of the village but also serves as branch manager of the gas company in Fairport.

In addition to attending to the village's affairs, the chief executive has charge of the servicing and installing of gas meters in homes of the village, maintenance of gas mains and the reading of gas meters.

The two jobs harmonize, Mayor Rendrick believes, as they provide for a more intimate contact with the villagers under his administration.

When the mayor comes to read gas meters, the residents register first-hand complaints, opinions on how the village should be run and feelings on administrative policy.

Fire Destroys Home in South Part of City

Frame Residence on Chicago Avenue Occupied by Wade Porter Family Is Burned Down.

This morning shortly before 6 o'clock the explosion of a kerosene stove at the residence occupied by Wade Porter and family on Chicago avenue, caused the destruction of the house.

Mr. Porter had gone to the small summer kitchen built at the east end of the house and had started the stove preparatory to the morning meal. He had gone on back into the main part of the house and shortly after Mrs. Porter had arisen and started to the kitchen when she discovered the fire raging from the explosion of the stove.

The fire spread rapidly and it was with the greatest of difficulty that the members of the family and neighbors who had hurriedly responded, were able to get a large part of the household goods out of the rapidly burning building.

The fire department was called but it was found that the house was several blocks from the nearest fire hydrant at Tenth and Gold streets and made necessary a second call for all of the reserve hose of the department to try and reach the flaming house.

The house was completely gutted by the flames and it was very fortunate that the frame house just a short distance south was saved. Had the wind been from the north it would have been impossible to save the second house from the fire.

One of the distressing features of the fire was the fact that Mrs. Porter has been ill for some time and while she has been up and around the greater part of the time, the fire and the sudden shock has greatly affected her.

SAYS EFFORTS DUPLICATED

WASHINGTON, July 23 (UP)—Roy Page of the Nebraska Power Co., Thursday discussed with rural electrification officials expansion of R. E. A. facilities into parts of Nebraska which he said already are adequately served by his company.

Page talked with John Carmody, R. E. A. administrator and other R. E. A. officials for two hours. He said they "went over the entire situation in a friendly way" and that no conclusion was reached.

Page said his company is not opposed to R. E. A. building lines in Nebraska, but does oppose "wasteful duplication" of power lines.
