

MURDOCK ITEMS

Albert Rikkl, of Enid, Oklahoma, visited his mother, Mrs. Margaret Rikkl, here, for a number of days last week.

Ray Gamlin was in Omaha last Monday for a load of siding for the John Bornemeier house which is being re-sided.

Miss Wilma Panska was a visitor in Omaha for a few days during the past week, being a guest of young lady friends there.

Frank W. Lorenz and wife, of Elmwood were attending the kittenball games here last Tuesday night and enjoyed meeting many of their friends while here.

L. Neitzel was in Weeping Water yesterday, where he delivered the morning discourse at the regular Sabbath day gathering of followers of the Mennonite faith.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Johansen of Weeping Water were in Murdock on last Tuesday evening, coming to see the ball games under the flood lights and also to visit friends.

Henry Heineman has been busy for a number of days making some changes in the interior of the home of L. Neitzel, which is adding much to the comfort of the home.

W. T. Weddell, manager of the T. W. Engles Lumber company was called to Weeping Water last Wednesday morning to look after some business matters for the company.

Due to the fact that many of the members and even the pastor himself were at Milford attending the annual Evangelical assembly, there will be no services at the Murdock church Sunday.

Marion Schewe, who has been making his home in Denver for some time, attending university there, was graduated last week. Marion will teach in the Denver public schools this coming year.

William Bourks had the rear fenders on his car badly damaged as it stood parked on the street, when a passing truck caught the fenders and crumpled them. The car was not damaged otherwise.

Fred Stock, who suffered a badly injured hand in a circular saw last spring, states that the hand has been healing very nicely, but has developed a stiffness which will require a slight operation to correct.

Morris Penterman, who is employed by the T. W. Engles Lumber company at Elmwood, was a visitor in Murdock last Wednesday, coming for a truck load of bridge plank, which were needed at that station.

A. J. Tool and Lacey McDonald were in Louisville last Wednesday, where they were doing some fishing, but just how many they were able to land we do not know. Mrs. Tool was looking after business at the store while A. J. was away.

W. H. Frost, a lumber dealer in Lincoln, but formerly located in the town of Manley in the same line of business, and known over the territory as "Jack" Frost, was looking after business matters in both Murdock and South Bend last Monday.

While driving his car behind another on the highway, Uncle Fred Deickman ran into the rear end of the other vehicle when the driver stopped suddenly at a railroad crossing. Mr. Deickman was bruised considerably, but neither of the cars was badly damaged, as the bumpers took care of the shock.

Mrs. Martha Shoeman, a sister of Mrs. H. R. Schmidt, came up from her home in Oklahoma, arriving in Murdock last Saturday and visited a number of days during the past week in this vicinity, also attending the Shoeman reunion which was celebrated at Weeping Water yesterday (Sunday, August 15).

An automobile bearing an Oklahoma license was driven through Murdock at one o'clock in the morning a few nights ago, and turned over and rolled into the ditch when the driver took a corner at too high a rate of speed. It was necessary to get a wrecker out and have it righted before the owner could proceed on his way.

Children at Home Last Sunday
Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Tool entertained the members of their family last Sunday. Those present were Mrs. O. E. Bradford (a daughter) and family, of Beatrice; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tool of Wahoo and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tool of LeMars, Iowa, this making all of the children at home for the day to join the other two daughters-in-law, a son-in-law and one grandchild. Needless to say, a very pleasant time was had.

Presented Play at Assembly
The Young People's Missionary Circle of Murdock presented a play at the assembly at Milford on last Saturday night, the title of which was "Pilgrim in the Way." The play was very pleasing and the young folks from here were loudly acclaimed for their acting ability. The cast of characters was composed of Roland Rikkl, Clarke Miller, Miss Martha Schweppe and Mrs. Alvin Oehlerking.

Distributing Hopper Dope
The Farm Bureau, which has had charge of the distribution of grasshopper poison over the county, had its delivery truck in Murdock last Tuesday, distributing a supply of the poison bran to farmers of this part of the county.

Sister Dies at Denver
Mrs. W. O. Schewe has been advised that her sister, Sadie, who made her home in Denver and was in poor health for some time, passed away last Monday. Mrs. Schewe hastened to Denver to be present at the funeral, which was held Wednesday, returning home the latter part of the week.

Quartette on the Program
The Young Men's quartette of the Evangelical church of Murdock presented a group of numbers at the Evangelical Assembly last Saturday between services, which drew much applause from those attending the assembly. The members of the quartette are Vernon Rikkl, Alfred Rikkl, Eldon Rosenow and Elmer Schlaphoff, and they were accompanied by Loretta Schlaphoff at the piano.

Played Excellent Games
The ball games which were played under the flood lights of the Murdock park last Sunday night, were witnessed by a large number of persons, more than four hundred men paying admission to the grounds. In the first game Lacey's Kids defeated the Pawnee Warriors by a score of 19 to 6. In the second contest, the Bible school team defeated the Tigers by a score of 15 to 10.

Making Improvements at Home
John Bornemeier and wife, residing southwest of Murdock, whose home was stuccoed years ago, had the cracked stucco removed and a new type of composition siding is being applied, giving the building a modernistic appearance. This is the first job using this type of siding to be done in this neighborhood and it is being observed with interest by many passersby. Frank A. Melvin is doing the work.

Attended Homecoming at Oteo
John Thoms and family drove their new car to Oteo to attend the homecoming picnic and carnival that was held there, and after spending some time at Oteo came home via Syracuse, where they attended a kittenball game between the Syracuse Bluebirds and a colored ladies' team from Omaha. It was a good contest, but the Bluebirds won by a score of 7 to 3.

Made Trip Outstate
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heineman, who have interests at Beaver City and Ord, made a trip last week that took them not only to these towns, but a number of others as well. They went to Beaver City first. Having property interests there and business to transact, they found considerable of their time taken up. From there they went to Callaway for a visit of a day at the home of Rev. Knosp and family, who were former residents of Murdock when Rev. Knosp was pastor of the church here. From Callaway they proceeded on to Ord, where they also had business matters to look after and then went to Fullerton for a visit at the home of Emil Kuehn and family, coming on home from Fullerton.

In giving their impressions of the country, both Mr. and Mrs. Heineman said that the wheat yield had been fair in most places, but somewhat light in places. The corn looks good generally, but there were also sections where the yield will be very light, due to drought and other uncontrollable factors.

Wabash News

Mesars and Mesdames Frank Reese and Bert Barden were called to Plattsmouth last Wednesday to look after business matters, driving over in the car of Mr. Barden.

Held Very Pleasant Meeting
The Ladies Aid of Wabash met on last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Oris McBride, where they enjoyed a very pleasant session and made provisions to carry out the work they have planned for the coming fall and winter months. A nice program was arranged to follow the business session, and at the conclusion of that part of the program, Mrs. McBride served a most delicious luncheon. The ladies voted their hostess a splendid entertainer and are looking forward to another meeting at her pleasant home some time in the future.

Dogs Kill Large Shout
Two large dogs, apparently belonging to no one, wandered about the countryside near Wabash, killing a good sized shout belonging to L. R. Stanley. When a man is careful in the manner of raising his stock it is most exasperating to have the same killed by dogs. A good farm dog is valuable anytime, but the droves of stray canines that congregate and go about the countryside pillaging their living, should be shot on sight, as they are a menace not only to live stock but to human beings as well. Let's get rid of the stray dogs, not only in the rural communities, but in the towns as well, for it is there that most of the droves congregate.

Threshing About Over
During the past six weeks, the farmers and elevator men have been extremely busy with the work of harvesting and threshing a very good small grain crop, particularly wheat. Now the work is about completed and a good portion of the grain has been marketed, although there are still many bushels in bins on the different farms being held for disposal at a later date or for seed. Some of the lower grades have been and will continue to be fed to livestock, as little or no corn can be procured for this purpose, and if it could, poor grade wheat is worth no more than the corn.

With the threshing completed, the farmers will have an opportunity to get their fall plowing done. Ralph Dorr has had his tractor at work plowing for P. H. Clarke, who wants to get his land in condition early for whatever crop he may decide to plant later.

Many Dangerous Places Now
With the rank growth of weeds and other foliage along the roadways, the danger of an increased number of auto wrecks is greater than at any time this summer. In many places, narrow roadways in the country allow only about room for one car and with the roadsides overgrown with weeds, visibility is greatly retarded. An even greater hazard exists at the corners, as drivers approaching the crossroads can not see over the weeds and does not know what may be approaching the intersection from either his right or left. At the rate of speed most cars are driven, there is little chance to escape an accident, and it would be well to approach every cross road with unusual care, even to bringing one's car to a full halt.

One of these cross road accidents occurred last week when the cars of Frank Marshall and Henry Ruhga came together east of Wabash. Beyond a good shaking up of the occupants, no one was injured, although it looked like it would be impossible for all to get out without injury. One of the cars was rolled over into a ditch and both vehicles were badly damaged.

Danger lurks in many places on our highways, and doubly so on the rural roads and at intersections where weeds obstruct the clear view of car drivers.

Wedding at Schlueter Home
On Thursday evening, August 12, a very pretty wedding took place at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schlueter near Wabash, when their daughter Elsie was united in marriage to Mr. William von Spreckelsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. von Spreckelsen of Clay Center, Nebr. The home was simply but beautifully decorated with pink and white streamers and wedding bells.

As the clock chimed eight, "O Promise Me" was sung by Miss Ruth Bornemeier, accompanied at the piano by Miss Mabel Stock, both consins of the bride. Miss Kathryn von Spreckelsen, sister of the groom, played Mendelssohn's Wedding March as the bridal procession entered the living room. The procession was led by the Rev. F. C. Weber of Murdock, followed by the groom and his brother, Carl, as best man. Miss Ruth Schlaphoff, cousin of the bride, entered wearing a delicate pink net formal, carrying a bouquet of pink rose buds. The party waited at the colliande for the bride, who entered at the first chords of Lohengrin's Bridal March. She was wearing a beautiful white satin floor length gown, fashioned with a deep lace yoke, high fan-like collar and long sleeves. She carried a bouquet of tiny white roses, tied with a large satin bow; a tiara of orange blossoms adorned her head.

The bride and the groom and the attendants took their places under the large wedding bell which hung from the chandelier. The double ring ceremony was used. After a few well chosen words, Rev. Weber presented a Bible to the happy pair.

While the couple were being congratulated, "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning" were played on the violin by Mr. Dan Ruge, accompanied at the piano by Miss Loretta Ruge, consins of the bride.

An elaborate luncheon was served to the seventy guests. Relatives from a distance who attended the wedding were the parents of the groom and their family, Carl, Kathryn and Margaret Ann; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Runge, and Mr. Henry Runge, all of Clay Center; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Runge and Helen Mae of Hastings. Among the other relatives were Grandmother Schlaphoff and Grandmother Schlueter of Murdock.

The loud sounds of autos, horns, tin cans and bells were heard when about fifty neighborhood friends came to congratulate the new couple and departed again after receiving the treats.

Later, as the wedding guests departed wishing Elsie and William many years of happiness together, they each received a piece of the wedding cake.

CLOSING ROAD GAP
LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 11 (UP)—Only a 16-mile gap between Atlanta and Oxford will remain unclosed when construction crews complete bituminous mat surfacing on U. S. highway 6 late this fall, State Engineer A. C. Tilley said today.

He said his statement was conditioned on weather that will permit work until November. The strip between Atlanta and Oxford cannot be hard surfaced until next year because of a possibility that the Burlington railroad may re-route trackage there to eliminate sharp curves for its streamliners.

LOVE OF SPEED HELD TYPICAL OF AMERICANS

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (UP)—The American motorist's love of speed is the greatest factor in the cause of automobile accidents and their resulting fatalities, according to Prof. Amos E. Neyhart of the Pennsylvania State College extension service.

But Prof. Neyhart, who has charge of the driver training program for the American Automobile Association does not attribute these accidents to excessive speed. Rather he believes they originate in operating cars too fast for driving conditions—which may even be leisurely gaits of 15 or 20 miles an hour.

These are some of the things 30 high school teachers are learning at Penn State. When the school year begins in the fall, these teachers will have a complete set of material with which to teach safe operation of motor cars to be found in the United States.

Persistency is what gets results in advertising.
