Long Time Welfare Worker Leaves Post

Mrs. Lottie Rosencrans Who Has Been Active in Welfare Work Since 1916 Resigns.

With the passing of August Mrs. Lottie Rosencrans terminated a service that has been devoted to welfare and relief work in this community since 1916, tasks that have been filled with responsibility and care.

Only those who are familiar with the workings of this line of activity can appreciate just how arduous has been the tasks that have faced the director and especially in the last few years.

Mrs. Rosencrans first entered the American Red Cross in 1916 when the shadows of war were commencing to menace the country and she was made secretary, serving in the days when the organization was one of the most active in the country. She has continued in the Red Cross work to this time.

With the depression years the work of the Associated Charities also devolved on Mrs. Rosencrans and which was effectively handled until absorbed in other relief work.

In September 1929 she was appointed as probation officer for the county and which included school and other delinquency cases and welfare work with the children whether in school or not and in which she was in touch with the county superintendent of schools as well as the district court in the juvenile section of the court. This work also included work as attendance officer for the sheriff which involved cases affecting women and children. A large number of girls and boys have been paroled to Mrs. Rosencrans in her years of service.

She was appointed federal relief director in July 1934 by the board of county commissioners, this included among the tasks that of helping the county board create projects in every town in the county for men and women and handling the peak relief load of 350 persons in the county, which continued until June 1935 when new setups were arranged.

The federal work was continued with Mrs. Rosencrans active in the organizing of the projects and one of which has proven one of the most successful activities in the county, that of the Cass county sewing center. Mrs. Rosencrans in 1935 gave up her office rooms in the basement of the court house for the use of this project and which is now in active operation and is the largest of its kind in the state outside of Omaha and Lincoln.

In January 1937 in order to receive the benefits of state and federal funds Mrs. Rosencrans was appointed to take charge of re-registration and the budgeting of the county order system.

Under her handling the relief work has been placed on a real budget system and handled in a business like and efficient manner.

Rt. Rev. Monsignor Agolph M. Mosler, pastor of the Holy Rosary Catholic church in this city, has received notification that he has been assigned by Bishop L. B. Kucera to the St. Patrick's church at Havelock.

The news of the transfer of Monsignor Mosler will cause a great regret in this community where he has been a loved and honored figure in the time that he has labored in the local parish.

The fine personality, unflinching kindness and a deep consideration of all has won him a high regard among all that have had the pleasure of knowing him, and the friends will be very sorry to learn of his departure.

The church at Havelock was occupied for many years by Father D. B. O'Connor, but has recently been in charge of Father Kenney. The parish will be larger than that of this city and in addition to his parish work, Monsignor Mosler will serve as the dean of the Lincoln diocese, the largest in the diocese.

The change will be effective on Sunday, September 12 when Monsignor Mosler will preach his first sermon in the new church.

On Sunday the annual reunion of the Stander family was held at Louisville, near which place the first comers had located in the early days of Cass county and where they played a leading part in the development of the county.

There were one hundred and fifty-five of the members in attendance and the large number made necessary holding the dinner and the meeting at the Louisville city hall.

There were representatives from many places in Nebraska as well as Kansas and gathering around the dinner table and participating in the business session. The officers named were as follows:

President—Mrs. Fred Marquardt, Avoca.

Treasurer—Isabelle Stander, Ashland.

Secretary—Mrs. Frank Stander, Louisville.

Mrs. Rachel Stander Lowe, of Stanton gave the family history that was very interesting and traced the family from the old world where they had originally sprung from strong German stock in the provinces of Hessen and Nassau.

Frank Stander, the first to come to the United States, arrived in Wisconsin in 1854 and in 1858 came westward to the frontier town of Plattsmouth and later moved to the vicinity where Louisville now stands. In 1859 he was married to Eliza Ann Regula in Wisconsin. Fourteen children were born to this family, ten sons and four daughters.

Peter Stander came to America in 1857, joining his brother Frank in Wisconsin. Two years later with his wife and year old baby, Frank, he came to Cass county and settled on what is now known as the Kraft farm. They raised a family of six children of whom four reached maturity and have a long life record.

The third member of the family, Carl Stander, arrived in the United States from Germany in 1890, also establishing his home in Cass county. He had been a lieutenant in the army but had resigned to move to the land of liberty. He engaged in farming in Cass county and to him and his wife was born eleven children.

RETURN FROM WESTERN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Ore, Mrs. Henrietta Ore and Mrs. Anna Hummel, returned home Sunday from a trip of several weeks duration in the Pacific northwest and which will long be pleasantly remembered.

They found ideal weather and a cool and pleasant climate that made their stay exceptionally enjoyed.

In Idaho they visited with relatives at Nampa and Ed had some very interesting experiences in hunting and mountain climbing. In hunting grouse in northern Idaho it was necessary to wear heavy leather boots and woolen socks as protection against the rattlesnakes that infest that section, there being thousands of them through the hills and mountains.

The party made their longest stay at Seattle and Tacoma where they had many old friends, these including the Sharp family, former neighbors of the Ore and the Joe Lake family who moved from here some thirty years ago to the west coast.

While the local people were in Washington a picnic was staged at Meridan park near Seattle and which was attended by some forty of the former Plattsmouth residents to enjoy the day in visiting.

Bind Local Man to Trial in District Court

Claude Lahoda Bound Over on Breaking and Entering Charge; Guilty of Petit Larceny.

The hearing of the case of the State of Nebraska vs. Claude Lahoda, occupied practically all Monday in the county court and resulted in the defendant being bound over to the district court on the charge of breaking and entering and of guilty on the count of petty larceny.

The breaking and entering count charged that the defendant had broken into the residence of Charles McCauley and taken articles of value.

The petty larceny count charged that of taking articles of value, the property of Charles McCauley.

There was a great deal of testimony taken in the case both for the state and the defense.

At the conclusion of the evidence and the statements of the attorney in the case Judge A. H. Duxbury held that the state had proven the necessary contention that a crime had been committed and that there was probable cause that the defendant may have committed the crime, binding him over to the district court for trial. The jury in the district court will pass on the question of the guilt or innocence of the defendant. The bond in this case was fixed at $1,500 and in failure to supply this the defendant was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

On the petty larceny charge Judge A. H. Duxbury found the defendant guilty and assessed a fine of $100 and costs, in failure to settle which will be required to serve the sentence in jail.

CHILDREN HAVE CLOSE CALL

From Tuesday's Daily—This morning Gerald Woods and Clifford Kendall, two small boys who reside on Wintersteen hill had a close call from death in an auto smashup near their home.

The children were playing in a car that belonged to Roy Woods, father of Gerald, the car being parked near the house and close to an incline that led to Livingston road.

The children had been cautioned about attempting to start the car at different times, but this morning they were able to release the brakes and the car started to roll down the incline carrying the two little boys confined in the car. Gathering speed the car was overturned and when it had ceased rolling it was lying top down and badly crushed with the force of the impact.

The relatives and neighbors were terrified and expected to find the two lads crushed in the wreckage but they came crawling forth from the ruined car little the worse for the experience beyond being shaken up.

They were taken to the office of Dr. O. C. Hudson where it was found that Gerald had sustained a broken finger and a bruise on the head and Clifford a cut and bruises but none thought serious.
