Practically No Reason for It

By IRVIN S. COBB

THERE once was a clerk of the hotel in a small Maine town who had a unique way of keeping a diary. Each evening he wrote on the bottom lines of the page of the register for the current date a brief account of the principal doings in the community, usually coupled with a summary of his own personal reactions to them. Sometimes his phraseology was unusual but always it was amply descriptive. A friend of mine was stopping at the hotel, having gone up to Maine on a fishing trip. He fell into the habit of glancing through the back pages of the register, more from the enjoyment he got from the quaint language of the entries than because he was interested in bygone neighborhood history. On succeeding pages of the book for a week of the early spring of the year previous, he found these progressive records of a local tragedist:

Tuesday: "While fishing through the ice yesterday, Henry Whippet fell in the Saco River up to his neck. He was drawn out and took home."
Wednesday: "Henry Whippet is in bed with a powerful bad cold. His folks are thinking some about calling in a doctor."
Thursday: "Henry Whippet is rapidly continuing to get no better. It now looks like he is fixing to break out with the pneumonia."
Friday: "Henry Whippet is sinking rapidly."
Saturday: "At nine o'clock this morning our esteemed fellow-citizen, Henry J. Whippet, Esq., went to his maker entirely uncalled for."

Very Successful Supper

The supper given by the ladies of St. Patrick's parish last Sunday was a very great success. The food was delicious, well cooked and quickly served and was greatly enjoyed by all who were present.

The Tango table also attracted a good crowd and a substantial sum was added to the treasury.

A New Form of Sport

According to the recent state laws it is now possible to conduct rabbit races as they are called. It seems a quantity of jack rabbits are turned loose in an enclosure at a given time and allowed to be chased by the grayhounds. Blinds of corn fodder are provided at the far side of the folds, affording the rabbits opportunity of getting away.

One of these exhibitions has been held at Talmage the past week and Wm. Sheehan and two sons, Joe and William, Jr., together with O. E. McDonald went over to the neighboring town last Friday to witness the races, which they say proved very interesting.

SHRIMP POACHERS SPOTTED

PHOTOGRAPHED FROM PLANE

PORT LAVACA, Tex. (UP)—The commercial fishermen have been shrimping in the closed waters of Espiritu Bay and getting away with it.

That is, they did until Capt. W. H. Bauer, deputy state game, fish and oyster commissioner, thought of a way to catch them in the act. Fishermen previously had been able to observe patrol boats at a distance and escape by sailing away.

Captain Bauer enlisted a coast guard plane which flew over the law violators, took aerial photographs as evidence and obtained three convictions.
