Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

The Test That Could Not Fail

By IRVIN S. COBB

THIS yarn has a Southern setting. In Kentucky, in the pre-Volstead days, lived a gentleman who prided himself on being a judge of fine Bourbon. His colored butler, who had grown old in his service, was equally fond of prime bottled-in-bond spirits.

"Watkins," said the white man one evening, "here's some very choice whiskey that Colonel Thompson, of the Thompson distillery, sent me today with his compliments. It's out of his private stock and he tells me that it's been aging in wood for fourteen years. You've got an appreciative palate, I want your judgment on it." So saying, he poured out enough of the precious fluid to half fill a toddy glass and placed it in the eager hands of the old man. Watkins bowed low, put the glass to his smiling lips and then having emptied it delivered himself of this statement: "Cap'n John, when I'm daid and laid out, sub, do me a favor? I's always had a fear in ma mind that dey might bury me alive, so I wants you to tek a lil' smidgin of dat licker and jes' waffe it back and fo'hd under my nose. And ef I don't set up in de coffin, tell 'em to go ahaid with de funeral."

YOU CAN THROW CARDS IN HIS FACE ONCE TOO OFTEN

WHEN you have those awful W cramps, when your nerves are all on edge—don't take it out on the man you love. Your husband can't possibly know how you feel for the simple reason that he is a man. A three-quarter wife may be no wife at all if she nags her husband seven days out of every month. For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three decades of life. 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age." Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "Smiling Through."

ALVO NEWS

(Too Late for Monday)

Miss Joan Cook, who is attending school at the Kearney State Teachers' college, visited her parents and friends over the week end. Joan likes her school work at Kearney very much.

Miss Elva Bradley recently returned from a several weeks' trip to California, where she visited at the home of her brother and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Bird left the first of the week with their son Gayle and family for Montana, where they will spend the winter with their children. Mrs. Bird is now able to get about some with crutches.

Lee Cozman and family have moved into the property of Mrs. Edith Kitzel, which was vacated a couple of weeks ago by the Ted McCarty family.

Mothers'-Daughters' Council. Mrs. Harvey Gerhard was hostess to the Mothers' and Daughters' council Friday afternoon, October 8.

Eighteen members were present to enjoy a most pleasant afternoon. The Book committee were prepared to put the two new books in circulation for the club members to read. Both books were checked out. Mrs. Mart Nickel and Mrs. Rouse are the librarians.

Mrs. Mart Nickel had charge of a very interesting lesson on the care of our deaf and blind.

Mrs. Gerhard's mother was a guest at the meeting. The hostess served a very delicious lunch of chicken sandwiches, jello, cake and coffee.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Emil Reicke, Friday, October 22.

Ladies Aid Society Meets. The regular monthly meeting of the Aid Society was held at the church basement with Mesdames Frank Taylor, Stella Weichel, Earl Fairfield and Earl Keller as hostesses.

The president, Mrs. Ben Muenchau had charge of the business meeting and Mrs. Mart Nickel had charge of the devotionals.

The hostess group served delicious pumpkin pie and coffee.

Sponsor Scout Movement. The Brotherhood held a meeting in the church basement Thursday evening, at which time it was voted to assist in sponsoring the local Boy Scout troop. Last year the Brotherhood and P. T. A. jointly sponsored this movement, by furnishing the necessary funds. Efforts are now being made to secure a Scoutmaster.

Father and Daughter Banquet. Members of the Aid Society have voted to serve the Father and Daughter banquet, which will be held Friday evening, October 29. The Sunday school class of Archie Miller will plan the program.

Recovering from Injuries. Marion Kellogg is recovering from injuries he received a couple of weeks ago when he drove his tractor over an embankment while cutting corn fodder for Elmer Bennett. Marion was turning at the end of the field and got close to a deep cut. He turned around to see if no one was working and in just that second of time he discovered he was directing his tractor over the embankment. Marion jumped, trying to clear himself of the machine, but was caught and held securely fast by the divide board of the binder. He was forced to remain for half an hour in this terrible position, with the guide board constantly cutting deeper into his side, before he was finally extricated.

Choir Furnished with Bobs. The choir were gowned in their new robes, Rally Day, October 3. The ladies of the church made the new gowns, the material for which was purchased from funds provided by the various departments of the church together with a donation from Rev. Wallace.

The Music committee recently secured Miss Georgia Stitzer, vocal music teacher of the school to direct the church choirs.

All Church Night. The first all-church night will be held October 14 at 7 o'clock, with a basket supper. The evening program will feature Ralph Copenhaver, who is Recreation Director of the Extension department of the Agricultural College of Nebraska.

Mr. Copenhaver is known as "Nebraska's Fun Boy." This feature promises to be a real treat. Everybody in the community is invited to bring their supper and join in a most pleasant evening. Remember the date, October 14, at 7:00 o'clock p. m.

Entertained Sorority Sisters. Mrs. Carl D. Ganz pleasantly entertained Kappa Kappa chapter of Alpha Chi Omega at her home in Alvo Monday, October 4, at a one o'clock luncheon. Guests enjoyed the delightful hospitality of their Sorority sister.

Former Alvo Pupil in Hospital. Friends were indeed sorry to learn of little Rosemary Winters, a former Alvo pupil being in the hospital at Colorado Springs.

Rosemary was suffering from diabetes but had improved considerably after having special care and treatment when she was attending an Omaha school. Last year Rosemary attended school in Colorado.

First Issue of 'Oriole' Out. Friday of last week, patrons of the Alvo schools received the first issue of the school paper, "The Oriole," for the school year. The paper staff includes: Ruth Ann Ganz, editor in chief; Dorothy Jordan, associate editor; Ruth Ayres, exchange editor; Dean Taylor, sports editor; James Ganz, features; Kenneth Keller, art; Joseph Stewart, cartoonist; Dorothy Skinner, alumni news; Margaret Jean Stroefer and Grace Muenchauer, typists.

Mr. Huestis is the faculty sponsor. The paper contained ads of numerous local business men.

Important School Dates. October 15—Baseball game with Murdock at Alvo. October 27-30—State Teachers' convention. November 5—Junior play.

Unique Feature. A unique feature in the Alvo school is the organization of a boys' cooking class in the Home Economics department under the direction of Miss Melba Shoemaker.

School Well Organized. The Alvo schools are well organized for the year's work despite the fact that six of the seven faculty members are teaching their first year in the local schools. Miss Melba Shoemaker is the only old faculty member to return.

The entire list of teachers is as follows: Miss Isabelle Ross, of Louisville, first and second grades; Miss Leola Kroll, of Elmwood, third and fourth; Miss Georgia Stitzer, of Albion, fifth and sixth; Harold Huestis, of Lincoln, Latin, English, directs orchestra and sponsors school paper; Miss Olive Liddell, of LeMars, Iowa, social and physical sciences and library sponsor; Supt. Orville A. Buehler, manual training, athletics and correspondence study; Miss Melba Shoemaker, home economics and typing. The seventh and eighth grade subjects are divided among the four high school teachers.

First year pupils include Jackie Miller, Ruby Louise Kellogg and Junior Puettenbach. In the third grade, Roy Dringman is a new student. In the high school, Paul Kellington, Arlene Collins and Donald Whiting in the ninth grade; Delores Williams in the tenth and John Horsh in the eleventh grade.

There are ten tuition students this year. They are Donald Whiting, Arlene Collins, Paul Kellington, Lloyd Althouse, Laurene Harriet, Ruby Taylor, Howard Collins, Ralph Winn, Charles Clark and Iona Weichel.

Marilyn Collins is a post-graduate in the school. The Board of Education voted a considerable sum for the purchase of new tools and equipment for the manual training shop. The students and Supt. Buehler feel that with the good tools much more will be accomplished in this department than heretofore.

Due to so many last minute replacements in faculty group this year, the Alvo schools have dropped to third place in the percentage of membership in the Nebraska State Teachers' association. Two preceding years Alvo held first place for achieving 100 per cent membership.
