

Your Garden Will Surely Have Color All Year Round If You Plant These

Does your garden have "off" months? That needn't happen if you follow the few simple rules and the plant list developed by the well-known horticulturist, F. F. Rockwell, and revealed by him in McCall's for February:

"If you like color to succeed color in your garden as the months march by here is an easy way to bring it to your beds and borders:

"Choose one group of sure-flowering plants for each blooming season; let these be real dependables, the ones that can be counted on to give bloom and color in spite of weather, bugs or blights. Then plant these in sufficient numbers to make a show, no matter what happens to the rest of the garden, and fill in with other plants as you like.

"Start the parade in spring with orange tulips; next come deep red peonies and then blue iris, Phlox in the lavender shades herald summer, followed by blue asters, and finally yellow chrysanthemums flaunt their banners until Autumn. You may choose other equally hardy flowers in other shades for your standard bearers, but you will want to draw on three types of plants—bulbs, perennials and annuals; perennials chiefly, with bulbs and annuals to fill out the color season.

"Your bulbs, planted last fall, are already in the ground, but put down in your notebook for next year, February Gold, a charming new hybrid daffodil that blooms in March, and sometimes, in sheltered spots, in February. And note, too, other new daffodils with flaming, orange-red cups. Overlapping the late daffodils, and setting your color for spring, come the tulips. The orange De Wet might be your choice for dependable color; or Grenadier, or the new species hybrid, Red Emperor.

"Three flowers to carry on after the tulips have furled their colors are peonies, irises and Oriental poppies. Of the peonies, I like Singles and Japs better than the big doubles, but all are impressive. Tall Bearded Iris, with an almost inexhaustible color range is, all things considered, our most satisfactory and dependable hardy border flower. Field-grown clumps from a local nursery, set out in spring will flower the first year. The Oriental poppies in red or flame—or in apricot, pink or white—might be substituted as your feature flower.

"As a color stand-by for mid-summer, the hardy phlox (Phlox decussata) stands unequalled. The color range is almost unlimited, and a dozen good sorts will give a long season of bloom. The early white Miss Lingard, repeats in the fall. Miss Verblom is a new rose-pink form of this old favorite. Consider also for your midsummer color the modern lupines and daylilies (Hemerocallis). The hardy lupines grow to 3 or 4 feet, with giant pointed spikes in blue, pink, rose and white. The daylilies are rock hardy. I consider Hyperion the finest I have grown.

"The new Dwarf Hardy Asters and the Hybrid Korean Chrysanthemums end the season in glory. The Korean 'mums, in bright, vivid tones and clean pastel shades, are the greatest contribution to the hardy border in a decade. The asters are mostly blues, lavenders and pinks. Aster frikartii is a new blue, flowering from mid-August to mid-October.

"The above are color leaders. Once you have made your choice from among them, fill in—in the spring with creeping Basket of Gold, the hardy Alyssum, in lemon yellow, and with Mountain Pink; later with California poppies, marigolds, larkspur, cosmos, verbenas and dwarf zinnias; with gallardia and coreopsis; and for season's end calendulas—the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow."

BOWLING NOTES

A meeting was held Thursday night and a business men's league was organized. The officers are Chas. Waters president and Rex York, secretary. There are four teams in the new league, Waters Barber shop, Gamble's store, Plattsmouth Laundry, Sharpnack's Liquor store. They will bowl starting next Thursday night.

A very nice league was organized and started their first night Friday night. There are four teams and it is a church league which is composed of four churches, the Presbyterian, Christian, Catholic and the Methodist. The Christians won all three games from the Methodists and the Catholics won all three games from the Presbyterian. No handicap was used to start, as an average had to be established. But look out next week, someone is going to give someone a real handicap, as averages on some teams went pretty high. There is a lot of interest in these two new leagues and we all look for a good time and some real bowling.

ARMS SALES DROP

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (UP)—American sales of arms, ammunition and implements of war dropped sharply during December from an average of approximately $6,000,000 a month to less than $2,000,000.

The figures for licenses granted by the arms control office of the state department for December made public today showed the total value of such licenses in all counties was $1,930,747.

Sales to China fell to $290,632, chiefly machine guns, hand grenades and explosives.

Japan purchased one military airplane at $250,000.

PREPARE TO DEFEND HANKOW

HANKOW, China, Jan. 8 (UP)—Chinese women soldiers entered the temporary capital today vowing to fight for their country against the Japanese to the end.

The girls, numbering 150 comprised half of a battalion of 300 student soldiers from Kwangsi, the only fighting unit composed entirely of university and middle school students to enter the war so far. The other 150 members are youths. The women were said to have been fully trained for fighting.

Alvo News

Mrs. S. C. Boyles is again on the sick list. Friends hope that she will soon be better.

Mrs. Frisbie of Elmwood is helping at the Boyles home while Mrs. Boyles is ill.

Miss Wallace, of Lincoln, sister of Rev. Ben Wallace, spent the week end at the Wallace home.

Russell Bornemeier of Lincoln was home over Sunday. Russell had charge of the Men's Sunday school class Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Banning, of Union, spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. John Banning. Mr. W. B. Banning was a speaker at the farmers' meeting held here that day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Copple and Lee enjoyed a delightful trip to Kansas City Thursday. They returned home Saturday. They reported having seen considerable mud on their trip.

Mrs. Ben Wallace and baby daughter returned home Saturday from the Bryan Memorial hospital in Lincoln. Mother and baby are getting along very well and friends are pleased to have Mrs. Wallace back home again.

School Re-Opens

After a week and a day holiday vacation, the faculty members and students of the Alvo schools resumed their duties again Monday.

Plan to Provide Kittenball Field

The Aid Society voted to donate $20 toward equipping a kittenball field to provide a place of recreation for the children and young people. The Brotherhood plans to sponsor the project.

Ladies Aid Meeting

The Ladies Aid society was entertained at the home of Mrs. A. B. Stroemer Wednesday afternoon, with Mesdames Arthur Skinner and Dick Elliott assisting.

Mrs. Ben Muenchau, the president, had charge of the business and devotional part of the meeting. A large crowd was present to enjoy a very pleasant afternoon.

The hostesses served a very delicious luncheon at the close of the afternoon.

Farmers Hold Meeting Here

Cass county farmers held a meeting at the park Wednesday for the purpose of discussing pending farm legislation. Before adjournment of the meeting they voted two to one against the incorporation of compulsory features in the farm program. The meeting was kept very orderly in spite of the long discussions and arguments.

This was one of three meetings held in Cass county, the first at Murray on Tuesday, the second here and the third at Weeping Water Thursday.

Hostess to Reading Club

Mrs. Banning was hostess to the Alvo Woman's Reading club, when they met at her home for a one o'clock luncheon Tuesday afternoon.

A large crowd was present. Mrs. Simon Rehmeier and Mrs. Edgar Edwards and Allen of Lincoln were guests.

Mrs. Carl D. Ganz held the interest of the club ladies with a cleverly given book review.

Mrs. A. D. Stroemer had charge of a picture study which was most interesting.

Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boyles celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home in Alvo on Wednesday, December 22. They were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Skiles, pioneer settlers of Cass county. Their honeymoon was spent with cousins in Glenwood, Iowa.

Mr. Boyles came to Nebraska from Iowa in 1878. He has been active in the Farmers and Merchants Bank in

ONLY ESKIMO UNDERSTOOD BY PRIZE RABBIT DOG

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass. (UP)—When Harry Bodfish wants a stroll in the woods with his Eskimo dog, the dog will dart into underbrush emerge a few moments later with a rabbit, and surrender the prize to Bodfish.

Bodfish speaks to the dog in Eskimo lingo—the only language it understands.

Mrs. Dale S. Boyles invited the guests into the dining room, where the table was beautifully decorated with a gold and white wedding cake and gold tapers. Pouring the first hour were Mrs. C. M. Skiles and Mrs. Clyde Boyles and during the second hour, Mrs. C. M. Keifer and Clara Skiles Prouty. Assisting in the serving were Mrs. Roy Cole, Mrs. Godfrey Samuelson and Miss Margaret Jo Prouty.

Miss Ruth Ann Ganz was in charge of the guest book. During the evening Dale Boyles sang groups of songs, accompanied by Ruth Ann Ganz.

Those who attended the wedding fifty years ago and were present at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Boyles, Clyde Boyles, Charles M. Skiles, Mrs. M. C. Keifer and Clara Skiles Prouty.

Friends attended the reception from Plattsmouth, Elmwood, Eagle, Murdock, Greenwood, Lincoln, Omaha and Glenwood, Iowa.

Miss Blanche Rueter Married

Relatives and friends have been informed of the marriage of Miss Blanche Rueter an Alvo girl to Mr. William Dewey Moore of Cedar Creek. The wedding took place at Plattsmouth on Wednesday. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. George Schmaier.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore will live on a farm south of Cedar Creek. This couple has the best wishes of their many friends.

COMPLAINT ABOUT WEATHER NOT OF MARK TWAIN ORIGIN

ST. LOUIS (UP)—But for one reason the remark, "Everybody complains about the weather, but nobody ever does anything about it," might be considered Mark Twain's most familiar quote—he never said it.

Cyril Clemens, nephew of the famous humorist and president of the International Mark Twain society, said he had done research on the quotation and found that Charles Dudley Warner was its author.

Warner, a neighbor of Twain's at Hartford, Conn., and who collaborated with the humorist in writing "The Gilded Age," was a staff member of the Hartford Press and Courier. The line about the weather appeared in an editorial written by Warner in 1890, according to Clemens.

TO AID LABORATORIES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (UP)—Senate and house conferees on the farm bill today adopted a provision authorizing expenditure of $4,000,000 for four new laboratories to develop new uses for agricultural products.

Senator James P. Pope, D. Idaho, said that suggestions of Henry Ford concerning development of new uses for farm products to consume surpluses were discussed.
