

Local People Hear Adult Soc- iety Convicted

Debate Held at the First Congregational Church at Omaha Proves Very Interesting.

There were 1,200 persons present at the First Congregational church in Omaha when the Nebraska Christian Youth staged a trial of adult society charged with "Ignorance, Selfishness and Indifference to the Needs of Youth."

Three members of the Nebraska supreme court presided over the trial, Chief Justice Goss, Justices L. B. Day and Bayard H. Payne, returning a conviction on three of five counts. Governor Cochran was the foreman of the jury.

The jury found society guilty of failure to provide opportunity of employment, failure to provide for constructive use of leisure time and failure to provide preparation for marriage and home life thru prevention of youth's realization of sex adjustment.

It recommended clemency on failure to provide opportunity for employment, pointing out "that society is making an honest attempt but because of unprecedented conditions finds the problem impossible of solution at this time."

Society was found innocent of frustration of opportunity by imposition on youth of militaristic nationalism, and denial of spiritual and religious heritages thru secularizing of life.

"Got Off Pretty Well."

"I feel that adult society has gotten off pretty well in this proceeding," commented Chief Justice Goss. "Since this hearing Sunday is before a court of first instance, there is nothing to do but pronounce judgment on the verdict ordering that society make every effort to amend its failures and weakness. If there be any appeal taken, I hope the full record made here will be available and that the verdict of this court shall be affirmed."

Those from Plattsmouth to attend the trial were Judge and Mrs. A. H. Duxbury, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Devroe, Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Davis, L. M. Gerner and Miss Sylvia Korbel.

Cass County Prisoner Would be Deported

Omaha Attorney in Plea for Joe Altschaffl Says Man Would Return to Native Land.

LINCOLN, Jan. 12 (UP)—Jackson B. Chase, Omaha attorney, informed the state pardon board today that Joe Altschaffl, 36, will be deported to Germany if he is released from the state penitentiary where he is serving a 59-year sentence for shooting with intent to kill.

Altschaffl was only 21 when, without apparent reason he shot his employer's wife, Mrs. Fritz Siemonelt on a Cass county farm near Plattsmouth. Altschaffl, an immigrant German farm hand entered the bedroom where Mr. and Mrs. Siemonelt and their 11-year-old daughter were sleeping and started firing. One bullet struck Mrs. Siemonelt in the arm.

"I am sorry I committed the crime but if you gentlemen will give me a start I will do my part," he told the board.

Sheriff Homer Sylvester and County Attorney J. A. Capwell wrote letters opposing clemency but did not appear at the hearing.

State Probation Officer Mike Krascher said that if he is deported he will be put in a Nazi work camp for two years.

Another prisoner to plead clemency before the board was Corry Maybough, 29, of Shubert, who admitted for the first time that he put eight sticks of dynamite and 75 detonator caps in a car which he stole at Falls City two years ago and drove into Kansas. He wrecked it near Troy, Kansas. A few minutes after he abandoned it the car exploded shattering windows within a radius of a quarter mile. He said he had been using the dynamite for stump blasting. Maybough has served 13 months of a 1 to 5 year term. County Attorney J. H. Falloon opposed his release.

DISTRICT PRESIDENT COMING

A number of Nehawka unit members will accompany her.

Mrs. Nutzman was chairman of the Auxiliary's department legislative committee last year and is familiar with the legislative aims of the Legion and Auxiliary, especially the Universal Service law now before congress. At the meeting she has consented to speak on this bill and will bring the members and invited representatives from civic and patriotic women's organizations of the city a full and complete understanding of just what this measure proposes to do to insure continued peace, and how, should war inevitably come, its provisions will do much to increase the nation's ability to combat the enemy. It is sometimes referred to as the universal conscription bill, inasmuch as it provides, among other things, for the conscription of material resources as well as manpower in case of war.

This month is devoted to Legislation on the Legion Auxiliary's calendar, and besides her discussion of the Universal Service bill, Mrs. Nutzman will touch briefly on other phases of the legislative program supported by these two organizations—the Legion and the Auxiliary.

'Nature Trail' Meeting is Held Here Tuesday

Large Number Attend Interesting Meeting; Excellent Talks Heard on Natural Resources.

From Wednesday's Daily—

Yesterday afternoon a meeting was held at the Plattsmouth Recreation Center for the purpose of promoting interest in the "Nature Trail," a project of the recreation service. A large group of people interested in flowers, birds and trees attended the meeting.

M. B. Jenkins, director of forest research at the University of Nebraska Conservation and Survey division, gave a fine talk on the conservation of the financial resources in connection with the nature trail. Mr. Jenkins states that he is very interested in the nature trail because it will give an opportunity for people to study woody plants, such as trees, and shrubs, and their relationship to wild flowers, birds and erosion.

"In that connection," he said, "I would like to make the statement that we are rapidly losing our native trees and shrubs and wild flowers due to overhauling. Those plants will not exist under the intense methods of agriculture. But I feel the proposed trail, passing through a zone where a large number of our trees and shrubs can be studied and the wild flowers growing beneath them, will cause people to become conscious of our resources."

Mr. Jenkins said that in the near vicinity of Plattsmouth there is a much larger variety of species of woody shrubs and trees and wild flowers than can be found in any other like area of the United States. This gives the opportunity of birds and wild life.

The Nature Trail, Mr. Jenkins explained, is a proposed foot trail along which the various trees and shrubs will be worked, giving both the botanical and common names so that people will become familiar with the names of their native trees.

At this meeting Mr. Jenkins proposed that Plattsmouth join up with other river towns in encouraging a river drive extending from Sioux City through to Rulo to follow the edge of the bluffs all along the river the entire distance for a pleasure drive.

Mrs. Ruth Fleming, nature specialist of the state recreation division gave a talk on the cultivation of the natural resources of flowers and birds. She will be here for a few days at the service of any individual or organization who is interested in the nature trail. She hopes to get schools and organizations interested in the trail so that they will sponsor it. She will go from here to Omaha to get ideas from the trail being laid by the NYA in the bird sanctuary of Fontenelle forest.

Dr. G. H. Gilmore of Murray, president of the Cass County Historical society, talked on the things of historical interest that are now covered and which could be uncovered to the education and interest of the people on the nature trail.

A great deal of interest was shown at the meeting and it is hoped the nature trail project can be perfected in the near future.
