BIRD HOUSE CONTEST

The bird house building contest is meeting with great success at the present time even though it got off to a rather slow start.

This project, under the supervision of John Chancellor and held at the Recreation Center, is doing fine work in providing homes for birds for years to come, and at this time we wish to announce that the closing date of the contest has been extended from April 9th until April 16th.

It is not too late yet to enter this contest and be eligible for one of the 53 fine prizes offered for the best bird house so hurry and get to work before it is too late.

Predicts Power Revolution—Thomas H. Beck, president of the Crowell Publishing Company, who states that newly developed "package power," which comes in units large enough for a train, a ship, a farm, or a group of city blocks, will completely decentralize power manufacture in the United States in the next 30 years. The "package power" plant generates electricity by means of a Diesel engine at very low cost per kilowatt hour.

Scintillating — La Jana, famous European dancer, creates a dazzling effect in her novel star dance.

Canine Stars Do Clever Take Off — The photograph shows a canine high jump with Dumpeise going over the bar while his pal Waffles stands by.

Kindergarten Play-offs — Young Earl Roche, 3-year-old son of Earl Roche of the Cleveland Barons, plies his double runners and swings a stick much too big for him as he follows in papa's skate-steps.

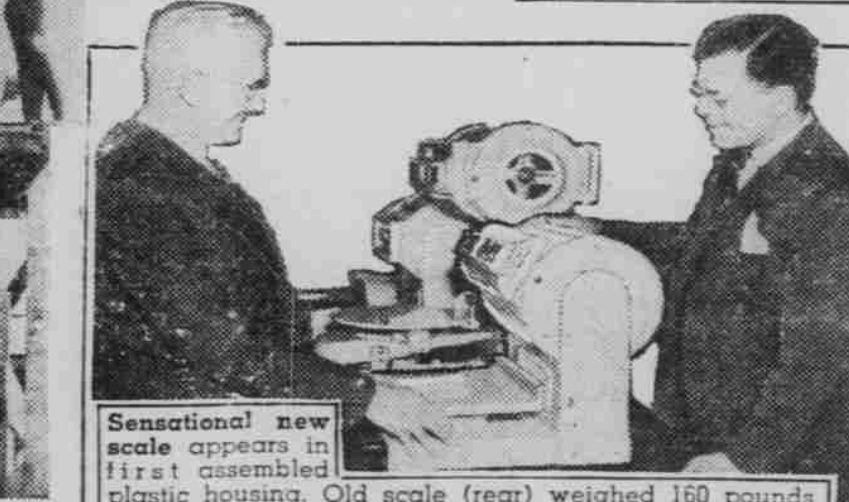

PAUL REVERE, famous for his midnight ride, was the first American to roll sheet copper in the New World. One of his alloys, Victory Bronze, has recently become very popular with the elite for evening gowns, and piano with radio and screen stars.

New Process to Kill Bacteria—New York City—Dr. Harvey C. Kentschler (left) and Dr. Robert F. James, bacteriologists, demonstrate their new method of killing bacteria with ultra-violet radiation. By means of light emitted from a special type of lamp, objects can be made germ-proof in a few seconds.

Returns to "Big Top" — Mabel Stark, famous wild animal trainer, retired two years ago with serious injuries she received when two of her tigers attacked her. The lure of the "Big Top," however, brings her back again this season.

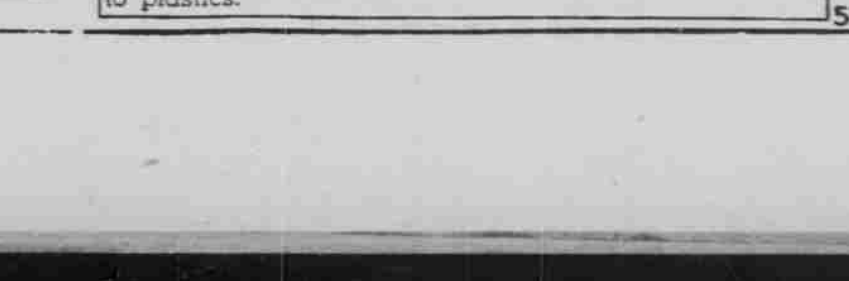

Slide "Augy." Slide—Los Angeles, Calif.—August Galan, Chicago Cubs' outfielder, "hits the dirt" and scores when catcher Todd misses the ball, in an exhibition game with the Pittsburgh Pirates.
