

Merchants Close Season with Victory

Local Baseball Team Makes Fine Showing in 2 to 1 Game—Street Whiffs Nineteen Batters.

From Monday's Daily— Yesterday the local Merchants finished up their league competition by subduing the Waverly team 2-1. The victory, the 12th league triumph, enabled the locals to finish in first place, and now the Merchants are "Kings of the Twin Valley League."

"Gabby" Street, local hurling sensation, was in rare form, and limited the opponents to but one harmless single by Loder, who was immediately thrown out trying to stretch it into a double.

In the initial frame Loder, lead-off man hit a high fly to Spangler. Then "Gabby" applied the pressure, and added 14 consecutive strikeouts to his previous 10 game total of 140. In addition to the 14 consecutive victims, he secured five more for a total of 19.

Schmadke, former University of Nebraska twirler pitched a nice game, allowing but four bingles, but "Gabby" outclassed him in every department, and "Gab" deserved to win the pitching duel.

The game was a scoreless struggle for three and two-thirds innings. Then with Hayes on third by virtue of his single, and Schmadke's wild pitch, "Kid" O'Donnell hit a slow roller to short, and Bob tallied. In the eighth "Gabby" singled and went to third on an error. O'Donnell hit a long fly to center, and "Gab" scored the winning tally.

A record crowd witnessed this thrilling tussle, which was one of the best games ever played on a Plattsmouth diamond.

There was but one error chalked up against the Platter outfit, and only three against Waverly despite the poor infield condition after Saturday's deluge.

Saturday the Merchants play their first tournament game at Greenwood, meeting the Veterans from Lincoln, and if victorious in this encounter, will indulge in a double-header next Sunday, so "Ray and the boys" are looking forward to another crown, and the tourney jackpot.

FINDS CORN CROP GOOD

The corn in eastern and northern Iowa looks as a record breaker this year, reports L. E. Egenberger, well known grower, who has just returned home from an auto trip in company with Mrs. Egenberger, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carter and daughter, Beverly Ann, through Iowa.

They made the trip on going by way of highway No. 34 to Mt. Pleasant and after a short distance from the Missouri river the corn commenced to look much stronger and very heavy. They traveled north from Mt. Pleasant to country that seemed to have a wonderful crop of corn and the farmers interviewed were expecting from seventy-five to eighty bushels per acre.

On the way back they came north and west through the country near the Missouri river and while the corn was not as heavy as farther east but a very good crop at that and reported as being much improved.

One of the places of interest that the party enjoyed was the ice cave at Strawberry Point, one of the natural wonders of this part of the west.

While at Iowa City they were guests of the Hotz family and other relatives.

In the past year the W. E. Mason family have lived in the residence with Mr. Geiser and looked after his care. In the past two weeks he has been bedfast and his condition was such that little hope was held for his recovery.

Mr. Geiser has made his home here for a great many years and was employed by the Burlington over a long period, but for the past fifteen years has been retired.

Mr. Geiser was twice married, both of the wives preceding him in death and since the death of the second wife he has been cared for by relatives and the Mason family.

There is surviving an adopted daughter, living in California as well as three step children, A. W. Bradley of St. Louis, Mrs. Irene Bradley Munsey of Tallahassee, Florida and Mrs. Lucille Edwards of Neola, Iowa.

FINED FOR DRUNKEN DRIVING

William Burke, giving Omaha as his home town, was arrested Monday afternoon on a charge of drunken driving. He was reported at several places and was starting out Webster boulevard when he met the car of Deputy Sheriff Cass Sylvester, who turned around and followed the car as the driver was having trouble in steering it. The car was overhauled near the Elliott farm and the driver placed under arrest.

The man was arraigned on the charge of operating a car while intoxicated and to which he made a guilty plea, charging domestic trouble as the cause of the drinking. Judge A. H. Duxbury decided that a rest of thirty days would aid recovery and also revoked the driver's license for the next year.

RETURNS FROM EUROPE

Peter Antos, a former Plattsmouth resident, has just returned to his home in Omaha after a trip back to his old home in Czechoslovakia, he being called there to look after the settlement of the estates of his father and mother, both of whom are now dead. He spent some two months there and found that the people are alert to the possibilities of the clash with other powers that may be threatening them. The nation, however, is well prepared and the citizens determined to preserve their independence as a nation which they regained in 1918 after 300 years of German domination.
