

Local Church Men Return from Europe

Rt. Rev. Monsignor George Agius and Father Marcellus Agius Home After Stay in Europe.

Rt. Rev. Monsignor George Agius, pastor of the St. John's Catholic church of this city, with his brother, Father Marcellus Agius, returned to this city Saturday after an extended visit at their old home in Malta.

They had sailed on August 20th on the Comte DeSovic, one of the the beauty spots before going to Malta, the island home of the distinguished church man.

The ship carrying Monsignor Agius arrived at Valetta, the capital of the island and where he was met by his nephew, a physician, and taken to the family home where his sister and Father Marcellus awaited his coming.

Malta, small island as it is, is one of the most important naval bases of the British government and is heavily fortified and defended both by land and sea. The British battle fleet was there when Father Agius was visiting and among the great vessels was the super battle ship, the Hood, one of the largest in the world. The great harbor of Malta finest of the Italian liners and had a real delightful trip across the sea to their duties in the new world. Monsignor Agius states that the Comte DeSovic carries a crew of 900 persons and they are kept very busy in caring for the comfort of the passengers. With crew and passenger list there were 2,400 on the vessel, a real city in itself and with every attraction to entertain on the voyage. They docked at New York on August 31st. This was the thirteenth time that Monsignor Agius has made the crossing of the Atlantic.

Monsignor Agius has been in Europe since January and Father Marcellus Agius for the past year and eight months, going there on account of his health and which, while improving is still not so good.

The voyage across the seas was very pleasant and restful. Monsignor Agius states and on the way over and back he had opportunities of glimpsing part of the disaster that war had brought on poor unfortunate Spain. He stopped at Gibraltar, the great English port on the way to Malta and also spent a few days in Italy, at Naples and its beautiful surroundings and later in the charm of Sicily where a tour was enjoyed of is able to care for the fleet. While the resources of the island are limited the residents have enjoyed a great deal of prosperity, due to the fact that the fleet and the large British garrison are there practically all of the time and their payrolls have helped very much in the prosperity. Large dockyards for care of the fleet are also maintained at Malta.

One place of especial interest to Monsignor Agius was the city of Genoa, Italy, which he had the opportunity of visiting and in admiring the beauty of this seaport city. He visited the house where Christopher Columbus was born, this now being operated by the government and regarded as a national shrine.

In Italy there was evidenced the greatest enthusiasm for the regime of the present government and also is to be seen the evidences of the armed forces.

However after a very pleasant visit in the old world, Monsignor Agius states one of the most welcome sights of the trip was that of the statue of Liberty in New York harbor greeting the ship that was bringing him back to the old home and the members of his parish where he has served for the past years faithfully and well.

WRITES OF OLD TIMES

The program committee of the King Korn Carnival have received a very interesting letter from Hon. Francis E. White, of Los Angeles, a pioneer of Cass county, and a distinguished member of the Masonic order.

Mr. White regrets that he cannot be here for the fall festival and in his letter gives some very interesting history of the early days as his family settled here in 1857 and Mr. White remained here until in 1925 when he moved to the west coast. In his lifetime he was for many years

Sketch of Life of a Pioneer Nebraska Woman

Ella Porter Mutz, 82, Resident of Cass County a Number of Years, Goes to Last Rest.

Ella Porter Mutz, 82, resident of Nebraska for the past 70 years and of Lincoln since 1905, died Sunday evening after a fortnight's illness. She was the mother of Sterling Mutz, Lincoln lawyer; Eunice M. Heard and Mrs. Chris Stahl, also of Lincoln, and Miss Minnie R. Mutz, now of New York City, formerly a professor in the Peru State Teachers college, who was at her bedside at the time of her death.

Of her ten children, all are living except Dana R. Mutz, who died at Utica in 1918, and was editor of the Utica Sun at the time. She was an active member of Deborah Avery chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, the Ladies Legislative league, W. C. T. U., and was a member of the Elm Park Methodist church and the Lincoln-Plattsmouth club.

Mrs. Mutz came to Nebraska in a covered wagon, at 12 years of age, from Wisconsin and soon thereafter entered the Ladies Seminary at Rock Bluffs, in Cass county, the first female seminary established in the state. Later she taught school at Weeping Water and Eight Mile Grove, in Cass county, where she was married to Otto Mutz. Her father was Calvin Russell, county judge of Cass county for many years. Later the family moved to a ranch in Keya Paha county, where they established the town of Burton and spent 25 years. Her first contacts with Lincoln came when she accompanied her husband, in 1897, to the sessions of the legislature where he sat as a member of the Nebraska state senate.

In 1908 the family moved to Lincoln. Mr. Mutz died in 1926. Surviving are nine children: Miss Mamie R. Mutz, New York City; Mrs. George F. Piersall, Nampa, Ida.; Mrs. Chris Stahl, Lincoln; R. Dennis Mutz, Fowler, Colo.; Sterling F. Mutz, Lincoln; Otto Mutz, Jr., Laredo, Tex.; Eunice M. Heard, Lincoln; Dorothy Hope Young, La Porte, Colo., and Walter D. Mutz, Oakland, Calif. She also left four sisters: Miss Laura Russell, Alhambra, Calif.; Miss Kate Russell, Albuquerque, N. M.; Mrs. Anna R. Knotts, Sioux City; 20 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

COUNTY FAIR NEXT WEEK

Next week, September 13th to 16th inclusive will see Cass county's eighteenth annual fair in full swing. Playing a prominent part in the week's activities will be a large number of Cass county's 4-H club members. Enthusiastic over their winnings at state fair and with plenty of "reserve" exhibits at home for the county fair these boys and girls promise a large display of quality exhibits. Baby beef club members are grooming some of their choicest animals which they have reserved for county fair and Ak-Sar-Ben, for showing in the ring next week. Pig club members will show good quality swine, while their brothers in sheep club, dairy, farm shop and weed projects will not be outdone. In the home economics department entries in clothing, caked foods, canning, girls room, etc., promise an outstanding exhibit.
