City Council Holds Its Regular Meet Last Night

Routine Reports of the City Officers Received and Many Matters of Interest Discussed.

From Tuesday's Daily—
The city council, present in full force gathered last evening in the semi-arctic like atmosphere of the city hall to hold their first session of the month and one filled with a great deal of the regular routine matters that comes at this time.

A communication of appreciation was received from Fontenelle chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, thanking the city for placing the markers for historic spots.

An application from Everett Pickens to operate a duckpin alley was received by the council and by unanimous vote the license was granted.

City Treasurer M. D. Brown reported that the city had on hand $15,828.56, deposited in the Plattsmouth State bank, while City Clerk Albert Olson reported that he had collected $91 for the past month.

Chief of Police W. M. Barclay reported for the week of October 27th that $2 had been collected and that for the week of November 3rd there had been two arrests and fines and costs of $18.25 collected.

On the report of the treasurer Mayor Lushinsky urged that the collection of the business tax fund be pushed as this was used to pay for a part of the merchants police and street cleaning.

Mayor Lushinsky also reported for the board of health on the condition of the building on Main street which had been complained of by several of the residents in that section. The board had visited the building and found the condition of the interior very bad from a fire hazard standpoint and the occupant in bad shape physically and in all a very undesirable condition.

The owner of the building had been notified to correct the fire hazards and steps were being taken to try and get the aged man residing there, in some proper place for care.

Chairman Webb of the tax and property committee, reported that the Recreation Center had given up the use of the upper floor of the Petersen building, located on the main floor. He suggested that the city have the nine rooms on the upper floor arranged into apartments for which there was a very urgent demand at this time. They would have Elmer Sundstrom, recreational office, in charge.

Chairman Tippens of the streets, alleys and bridges committee, reported that the street work was being well cleared up and getting ready for the winter season.

Mayor Lushinsky stated that the documents and plans for the Chicago avenue sewer had been completed, signed up and sent on into Lincoln for approval.

The council and mayor discussed the matter of the rock crusher for the preparation of rock for the city streets. It was desired to have a smaller size rock and as soon as the crusher was available the rock would be prepared and stored for use on the streets where it had been asked by property owners.

There was a short discussion of the surroundings of taverns over the city and two places in which the state had made requests for changes, one where a larger window would have to be built that view might be had into the place from the street. Another was that the lighting effects were not sufficient and city authorities had been ordered to check up on this.

Chairman Comstock of the lighting committee, reported that there had been no further communication received as to the sale of the Iowa-Nebraska Light & Power Co., to the hydro interests.

Chairman Tiekotter of the parks and improvement committee, stated that the work on the city hall was coming along very nicely, that there had been new window frames placed on the first floor of the building. The repairs on the heating plant had been made.

The following claims were ordered paid by the council:

What Shall We Do for the Red Cross?

Membership Enrollment Makes Possible Many Great Services Organization Gives World.

The year 1938 is a hard year for many people in Cass county, Nebraska. The worst of it is that we have had five consecutive lean years.

We may feel poor and discouraged but when we compare with the Chinese who, thru no fault of their own, have been killed and crippled and lost their homes and farms, we have much for which to be thankful.

In the State Journal of August 28th is an article, by Dr. Francis F. Tucker who is on assignment by the International Red Cross for central China in the Methodist hospital in Hankow, often called "The Chicago of China."

He says that in Hankow there were 50,000 refugees filling every available space, sleeping in market places and on the streets. Most of these refugees are women and children who have left their charred homes, and have nothing to take with them and so move to the crowded camps of the city.

He says "China is profoundly grateful for the Red Cross and other help rendered by her American friends. No matter how much this has been there is a great need for much, much further partnership in this direction."

Many of us feel like aiding those unfortunate people and we have been doing it through the Red Cross.

On Sept. 21st, the hurricane on the Atlantic coast was the worst in history. You have all read of the death and destruction that it caused. Nearly five hundred people were killed and thousands left homeless.

The chief agency that could come to the immediate rescue of these stricken people was the Red Cross, and so the Red Cross immediately rushed 50 trained and experienced workers to the scene. The national chairman, Norman H. Davis, ordered all the resources of the organization into relief work.

It is for such emergencies as this that we need the Red Cross. Hence I appeal to every one who possibly can do so, to take a membership in the Red Cross.

Do your bit and we will continue an organization which has done more than any other to relieve suffering humanity.

Rotarians Hear Fine Talk on U. S. Constitution

Attorney C. A. Rawls, Dean of Cass County Bar Is the Speaker at Weekly Luncheon.

Members of the Rotary club had a very pleasant treat at their weekly luncheon on Tuesday when C. A. Rawls, dean of the Cass county bar, was present to talk to them on the declaration of independence and the constitution of the United States.

Mr. Rawls, who is now in his eighty-second year, many years ago when a young man of twenty-seven years, committed the declaration and the constitution to memory and spoke fluently Tuesday of these two great historical documents from memory and without the need of reference as is generally the case. His reciting the different sections and his interpretations were very inspiring to the club members and truly impressive given.

Dr. P. T. Heineman was the leader of the meeting and presented Mr. Rawls for the talk.

The club had a number of visitors present to enjoy the meeting and among these County Commissioner Elmer Hallstrom, of Avoca and Commissioner-elect Ray Norris, of Weeping Water.

William Baird, past prexy, had as guests a number of well known figures in the Burlington railroad in Nebraska in the past thirty years, Thomas Roope, retired superintendent of motive power; Charles Melker, superintendent of motive power; Julius Deitrich, retired master mechanic of the Lincoln division; Harry Kean, retired general foreman of the Havelock shops.

Robber of Murdock Bank Seeks Freedom

Ross Walker, Serving 20 Years for Participation in Robbery When a Youth of Seventeen.

LINCOLN, Nov. 14 (UP)—Ross Walker, serving 20 years in the penitentiary for participating in a bank robbery as a youth of 17 will ask the state pardon board for his freedom in the December 14 meeting.

He is one of the 20 penitentiary and reformatory inmates who will plead for clemency on that day. Walker has served seven years and three months of his term for aiding his older brother Glenn, and Ray Monhollon, an ex-convict on parole at the time from the Kansas state prison at Lansing. In the robbery of the former Bank of Murdock on June 17, 1931.

Cass county authorities said Monhollon planned the holdup at a time when only a woman bookkeeper was on duty. The three escaped with $1,246 which they divided equally. Ross was arrested at the Kansas national guard camp. Glenn Walker received a 25 year sentence and Monhollon was given 30 years. In his application for a hearing Ross Walker, now 24, wrote:

"I was a victim of circumstance brought on by my association with a man (Monhollon) many years my senior who had had previous crime experience and being a youth with little or no worldly experience, these long years of incarceration have convinced me that I was an easy victim when the temptation was presented."

HERE FROM THE SOUTH

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hager, of Shreveport, Louisiana, are here as guests at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Henry Herold. Mr. Hager is now engaged as engineer in the conservation department of the state of Louisiana, assigned to the oil district of that state. His work is that of assisting in the regulation of the oil output, spacing wells as well as other work in connection with the great oil industry of that state. He also has a great deal of research work to take up his time in this important department.

D. A. R. HOLDS MEETING

Fontenelle Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. E. H. Wescott, past state regent of the society. In the business session the ladies voted to continue the marking of historical spots and the dedication of the boulders that are used as the markers. One of the features of the coming program of the winter will be a series of public forum meetings and at which there will be outside speakers to talk on public questions along economic and industrial lines. The first will be December 6th when L. O. Minor will discuss "Corporations." Others to be taken up later will be "Co-operation," "Labor Unions," and "Isms." At the conclusion of the evening the hostesses served much appreciated refreshments.

Music Department of H. S. to Give Program

Will Be Held on Friday Evening at the Auditorium of the High School Building.

The music department of the Plattsmouth high school has announced Friday, November 18, 1938, as the date for its annual fall program. This year's program has several unique features which the department feels will interest patrons of the school.

The program will feature the high school a cappella choir of approximately eighty voices singing entirely without accompaniment. Assisting from seats in the balcony will be the Junior High school chorus of seventy students. The members of these organizations are selected not on outstanding vocal ability but upon the basis of their interest in music and their cooperation in their respective organizations. Several small groups together with a trumpet sextette and a brass ensemble furnish the remaining portions of the program.

The opening procession will be sung by the Junior High school chorus accompanied by the brass ensemble. Another unusual effect is obtained in the chorus work by an echo group located at a distance from the choir.

David Fowler, director of the choir is very enthusiastic about the progress made by this organization since the first of the year. With two added rehearsals this week it is hoped that a high standard of musical excellence will be reached.

Ward High for Power Director

Cass County Man Tops List—Wheeler Second and Bischof Third for Regular Terms.

The Eastern Nebraska Public Power district furnished six candidates for directors for the regular term, two for each of three vacancies and one for the fourth vacancy.

A warm battle was waged by opposing factions, and the result will be of interest, now that it is definitely established.

Charles Ward, of Cass county, was high man for the regular term, with 17,036 votes; T. E. Wheeler of Nemaha second with 16,232, and Wm. Bischof, Jr., of Nebraska City, third, with 15,041.

Boettcher, Grundman and Parmenter, who failed of election, trailed the three winners in the order named.

For short term vacancies, those elected were George W. Armbrust, Guy Jones (of Eagle) and Frank H. Johnson, as well as Brodd, who was unopposed.

ENJOY FOOTBALL GAME

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Molak of Weston, Nebraska were visiting here Friday with Dr. and Mrs. Frank Molak, Jr., and attended the Creighton Prep football game in Omaha. A brother of Mrs. Molak, Jr., is a member of the Creighton Prep team.
