Legislative Council Debates Recommendation's

Question of Just Submitting Report or Making Recommendation as to the New Legislature.

LINCOLN, Nov. 26 (UP)—The issue of whether or not the Nebraska legislative council should submit recommendation concerning its work to the new legislature convening in January today forced the council members to return for an afternoon session.

Sentiment of some members had been that only a formal report of its studies should be presented without recommendation to the legislature, when Senator Frank Brady of Atkinson spoke up.

"You might as well get all this material together and throw it in a waste basket as to pile it on the clerk's desk in the legislature," he asserted. "I think we will be neglecting our duty if we don't see to it that our report goes to the proper legislative committee or committees, pointing out what we think should be given further study and outlining what is important as a basis for legislation."

Brady, however, did not propose that any specific recommendations be made by the council which was designed to be a fact finding agency rather than a policy forming group.

Senator Harry Gaults of Alliance concurred with Brady, saying that if the council offered no suggestions, reports on public assistance, expenditures and revenue would be filed away.

The value of this country's foreign trade increased in October. Exports were 13 per cent larger than in September and imports were up 6 per cent. Total foreign trade for the first ten months was considerably below the same period last year. The favorable trade balance this year, however was almost nine times greater than in the same period last year.

Nazi Press Says Father Coughlin Being 'Muzzled'

Berlin Papers State Jewry Controls Radio and Checks the Broadcast of Noted Priest.

BERLIN, Nov. 26 (UP)—The Nazi press, commenting on the refusal of radio station WMCA in New York to broadcast the regular speech of Father Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit tomorrow, charged today that Jewish organizations had "muzzled Father Coughlin."

"America is not allowed to hear the truth," the Zwofuhrblatt said in a featured article on its front page this afternoon.

"The action against Father Coughlin is a sample of the mendacity of the so-much lauded freedom of speech in the United States," the newspaper said. It charged that "Jewish organizations camouflaged as American organizations have conducted such a campaign that the radio-casting company has proceeded to muzzle the well beloved Father Coughlin, subjecting his speeches to censorship."

"This attempt at veiling the truth shows not only the enslavement and submission to Jewry, but also is indicative of boundless cowardice. The dreary, slimy motivation of this step demands attention."

Germany's military might was displayed today to Oswald Pirow, defense minister of the Union of South Africa, who came here to confer on Germany's colonial demands. A sham battle was held at Doberitz by motorized infantrymen using heavy machine guns and shooting real ammunition. There followed a counter-attack by tanks. Communication units also took part. Later, Pirow was shown the infantry school in Olympic Village.

The women had been employed by Cudahy for more than a year.

At the same time, Arthol Shelton, Negro president of the Swift unit of the union, gained his freedom after being in jail since shortly after the strike began Sept. 29.

He had been held on a charge of violating an injunction limiting picketing but the information was found faulty. Subsequently he was arrested on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Baby Survives Asphyxiation of Rest of Family

Mother Found Dead With Babe in Arms and Two Other Children Dead in Same Room.

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 26 (UP)—A year-old baby survived while her mother, brother and sister died of asphyxiation in the same room.

Mary Edna was tightly clutched in the lifeless arms of her mother, Mrs. Lena Pearl Dorsey, 35. Her brother, Calvin Dorsey, 9, and her sister, Kathryn Ann, 3, also were dead when the father, J. M. Dorsey, returned home last night.

Dorsey grabbed the baby and ran to a neighbor, Mrs. N. H. Elliott, and said:

"Please keep my baby for me. I think my whole family is dead."

He was trying to revive them when police arrived.

They found a gas heater burning. All but one window was tightly closed. That one was slightly raised.

Tom Mayes, justice of the peace, ordered a post mortem and withheld a verdict.

Police could not explain the baby's survival. She showed no ill effects, doctors said. They said that she might have been in a draft of air carrying enough oxygen to sustain her. A baby needs comparatively less oxygen than an adult.

Dorsey, a telephone lineman, had left his family yesterday morning. They were in good health and spirits when he last saw them.

DEATH OF MRS DISNEY

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 26 (UP)—Mrs. Flora Disney, 71, mother of Walt Disney was fatally overcome by gas from a furnace today and her husband Elias Disney, 59, was in critical condition.

Disney, attendants said, probably will recover. The maid told police that when she entered the kitchen she became faint and opened the doors and windows. Then fearing for her employers she ran to the bedroom and found them unconscious in bed.

Police attributed the tragedy to a faulty connection in the furnace which had been left burning all night.

The couple had been looking forward to celebration of their 51st wedding anniversary next New Year's day. The North Hollywood house in which they lived was a gift to the couple by their sons when they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last January 1.

Thanksgiving Services at the C. S. Church

Many Attend Services Held at the Church at Sixth and Granite Street Thursday at 11.

A Thanksgiving day service was held by the Christian Science Society of this city in the church at Sixth and Granite at 11 o'clock on the morning of Thanksgiving day.

The service opened with the congregation singing the hymn No. 146 in the Christian Science Hymnal.

The Thanksgiving Proclamation was then read by Mr. J. R. Tremble, the First Reader.

The Scriptural selection was from Philippians 4:1-20, and was also read by the First Reader. After the Scriptural selection the congregation united in silent prayer which was followed by the audible repetition of the Lord's Prayer with its spiritual interpretation from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.

Hymn No. 342 from the Hymnal was then sung by the congregation.

The lesson-sermon for Thanksgiving day given in the Christian Science Quarterly and read in all Christian Science churches in the United States and many other parts of the world followed the second hymn. The subject of this lesson-sermon was "Thanksgiving" and had for the Golden Text: "Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High." (Psalms 50:14).

Offer the responsive reading of Bible passages, Mrs. Olga Wiles, the Second Reader, read the citations chosen from the Bible, while Mr. J. R. Tremble, the First Reader, read the correlative passages from Science and Health.

Among the Scriptural verses was included: "What shall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits toward me? I will pay my vows unto the Lord now in the presence of all his people. I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the Lord." (Psalms 116:12, 14, 17).

And among the citations from Science and Health was: "Christians rejoice in secret beauty and bounty, hidden from the world, but known to God. Self-forgetfulness, purity and affection are constant prayers. Practice not profession, understanding not belief, gain the ear and right hand of omnipotence and they assuredly call down infinite blessings. Trustworthiness is the foundation of enlightened faith. Without a fitness for holiness we cannot receive holiness. A great sacrifice of material things must precede this advanced spiritual understanding." (pages 15, 16).

A solo entitled "Praise the Lord" was sung by Mr. Richard Cole, the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Wiley Sigler, the organist, after the lesson-sermon had been concluded.

Testimonies appropriate to the occasion were then given by the Christian Scientists in the congregation. This period was completely filled by expressions of gratitude for healings and other help received during the past year.

The closing hymn was No. 374 from the Hymnal and was followed by the Scientific Statement of Being from the Christian Science textbook and the correlative passage from I John 3:1-3 read by the First Reader. The meeting was concluded with the benediction.

SALAD REVIVAL
Remember way back when a bowl of wilted lettuce was practically the only salad that ever found its way to your table? Oh, sometimes we did have a few salad greens plucked from the backdoor garden and dressed with vinegar and oil from the sparkling glass cruets in the old silver castor. And occasionally in the springtime mother would cook up a mess of curly greens—peppery young blades of horseradish, jagged dandelion leaves, mild-mannered narrow dock, milkweed and the like—seasoned with sharp vinegar and spices, then put up in glass jars to be used as a relish on meat and beans. But that's about as far as it ever went.

Destroyed were the American club, the Ben Hur club, the Midnight Follies and the three-story Colonial hotel. They were located in a cabaret block to which the fire was confined.
