A girl's best friend is a GREAT BIG SALAD

By Dorothy Greig

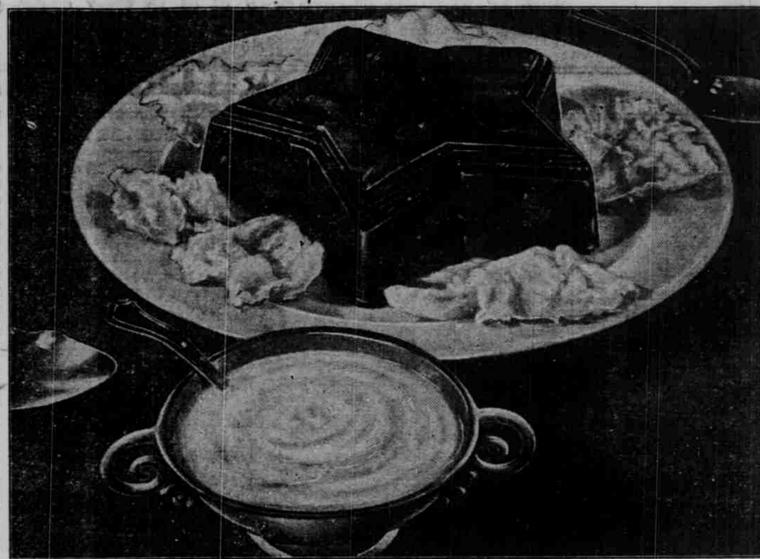

TO put a gloss on a woman's hair, to come-hither gleam in her eye, to keep her trim and full of the old Nick, nothing surpasses plenty of fruits and vegetables in the daily diet. Eaten raw, cooked or canned, they supply health giving vitamins and minerals.

Salads, for instance, are a delicious way to get our daily quota of these beautifying foods. Salads . . . of crisp, raw carrot strips and cauliflower flowerets, on a bed of lettuce; juicy orange and pineapple slices sprinkled with coconut; velvety avocados cradling a tart dressing . . . the grocer's shelves and counters present an endless array of makins' for delectable salads.

The other day I evolved a jellied salad of canned black cherries and pineapple chunks that was not only delicious to eat but lovely to look at. It came out a deep grape-wine in color, the luscious shade you see so much in frocks this season, really most unusual in a salad. With it I served a cream cheese dressing:

Jellied Cherry and Pineapple Salad
1 1/2 cups canned black cherries
1 1/2 cups pineapple chunks
1 1/2 cups fruit juice (pineapple and cherry)
2 1/2 teaspoons gelatine, sprinkled on two tablespoons of water
3 tablespoons lemon juice
Remove pits from black cherries. Sprinkle the gelatine on water and let stand about five minutes. Heat the pineapple juice and pour on gelatine, stirring until dissolved. Then add cherry and lemon juice. Chill until gelatine begins to set. Add fruits, pour into mold and place in refrigerator until firm. Serve with Cream Cheese Tomato Dressing.

Cream Cheese-Tomato Dressing
1 package of cream cheese
2 teaspoons of lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon of salt
1/2 cup salad dressing or mayonnaise
1/2 cup condensed tomato soup
Cream the cheese and to it add

A star shaped Jellied Cherry and Pineapple Salad is served with a delicious Cream Cheese-Tomato Dressing.

the lemon juice and salt. Blend in the salad dressing or mayonnaise and the condensed tomato soup.

Another of my pet salads for this time of the year is Chef's Salad. It has cheese in it, not cream cheese, but Swiss cheese, and hard cooked eggs, which makes it a really substantial dish.

Chef's Salad
1 head lettuce
2 tablespoons onions sliced
3 hard-cooked eggs

1/2 cup Swiss Cheese
6-8 tablespoons Tomato French Dressing

Shred or cut the lettuce in pieces. Then add finely sliced onion, hard cooked egg (coarsely chopped) and Swiss Cheese, cut in shreds. Add dressing and toss in salad bowl until thoroughly mixed.

Tomato-French Dressing (non-separating)
1 tablespoon yellow mustard
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar

1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 cup oil (olive or salad)
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 can condensed tomato soup

Combine the dry ingredients and mix in the grated onion. Blend in the oil and let stand for 10-15 minutes. Add vinegar and tomato soup. Beat well until the dressing mixture is thick and well blended. Store in a covered jar in the refrigerator. Makes approximately 2 1/2 cups of dressing.

HAD AN ENJOYABLE TRIP

From Friday's Daily—

L. A. Mortimeyer and wife and his father L. E. Mortimeyer returned last night from a pleasant month's vacation trip that took them to Brunswick, Missouri, St. Francis, Kansas, and Wray, Colorado, at each of which places they were guests of relatives. The younger Mr. Mortimeyer is a mate on the McGregor, now tied up in winter dock here, and his father has been spending the winter with his son and wife, accompanying them on this trip.

They arrived home shortly before the snow and report good roads and pleasant traveling conditions during all the time they were away, something unusual in this territory, where fogs are usually quite prevalent at this season of the year.

The trip was made without mishap, but today as Mr. Mortimeyer was en route to the McGregor, his car skidded on the wet pavement near the Burlington underpass and turned partially over, damaging the fenders and breaking some of the glass. Luckily no one was injured.
