Elmwood News

Oscar Domingo of near Weeping Water was called to Elmwood last Tuesday on business.

The Methodist Ladies Aid met at the parsonage last Tuesday, with Mrs. Homer Fintell, wife of the pastor, as hostess.

Mitchell Shelley, of Omaha, was a guest of his wife, who is assistant postmistress here, over Sunday, returning to his work in the metropolis Monday morning.

The Nehawka high school basketball team defeated the Elmwood team during the last week by the close and interesting score of 26 to 22. The game was played on the local floor.

Enjoying Visit in West

Mrs. George Hall, who is spending the winter at the home of her son, Stanley Hall at Los Angeles, writes that she is enjoying life in the west very much, and that the climate is very mild there (something we can also brag of in this vicinity so far). She will not return to Nebraska until spring.

Business Good at Brunswick

A letter from George Hall, who is spending the winter at the home of his son, Summer Hall at Brunswick, Nebraska, tells of a very fair crop being raised in that part of the state last summer and states that business is very good there. Brunswick is located just west of Plainview on U. S. highway No. 20, which has been hard surfaced as far west as O'Neill and at points beyond there in the last few years.

Observes 95th Birthday

Sunday, January 15, marked the 95th birthday of Mrs. Mathilda Turner, mother of James and Oscar Turner, who resides at the home of her son James and family near Elmwood, and the occasion was celebrated by a family gathering of the children and grandchildren of this pioneer woman. Mrs. Turner was the recipient of numerous presents and best wishes from members of the family and friends, bespeaking the high esteem in which she is held in this community, where she has resided for many years.

Those present besides the family of her son James, with whom she resides, were Oscar Turner, her other son, and the grandchildren and families, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Turner and daughter of Plattsmouth, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Bothwell and daughter, Jean Adair, V. G. Clement and wife, Cloyd Turner and family of Marquette, and Orest Cook and family of near Alvo.

A beautiful birthday cake, baked by the Smith Baking company of Lincoln graced the center of the dinner table.

The Journal joins with the many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes to this venerable woman.

Brightening Up Hall's Store

Orville Julian, who is employed at the Hall store, while not busy waiting on trade, has been painting the interior of the store room, greatly improving its appearance.

Entertained Bridge Players

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Schlichtemeier entertained members of the Elmwood Bridge club at their home last Monday evening. A delicious luncheon was served at the conclusion of the card games and everyone reports a most enjoyable time.

Reported as Some Better

Ernest Hollenbeck, who suffered a nervous breakdown following the tragic death of his son, Robert, ten days ago, was taken to a Lincoln hospital for treatment. After remaining there for a week, his condition is reported greatly improved, and it is hoped that he may be able

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hardnock spent Wednesday evening at the Orval Gerbeling home near Murdock. They went down to see their little granddaughter, who has been ill.

Honored at Farewell Party

Mrs. Carl Sutton was honored by Mrs. Albert Swanson with a handkerchief shower held at the Sutton home Thursday afternoon as a farewell party to the honor guest.

A number of close friends were present to enjoy a pleasant afternoon and pay a farewell tribute to Mrs. Sutton, who received several beautiful handkerchiefs.

Very delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

P. T. A. Features Art Program

Wednesday evening, January 18, the P. T. A. featured an art program.

Mrs. Vance of Lincoln showed pictures and gave a very interesting art program. She spent the entire afternoon with the school children and gave them some splendid talks on "Art."

Mrs. Arthur Skinner, the president, presided over the business meeting.

Entertained at Ganz Home

Mrs. Vance, of Lincoln, who was guest entertainer for the P. T. A. meeting Wednesday evening, was entertained at the Ganz home during the evening. She was also an overnight guest at their home.

Clearing Site of New Road

The work of clearing the roadsides of trees, etc. for the new highway south of town has been under way now for a couple of weeks.

The widening of the road will mean that much work is necessary before the grading will commence.

Killed in Auto Crash

Leland Holka, of near Alvo, was killed in an auto crash on highway number six east of Greenwood Sunday evening. He was riding with a young man residing near Greenwood at the time of the accident.

The body was taken to Ashland, where funeral services were held on Tuesday.

Six other persons involved in the collision escaped injuries.

Leaving for Yakima, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sutton, who have been residing on the Sutton farm northwest of town, have disposed of their farm equipment and are leaving this week end for Yakima, Washington. They will leave Thursday evening for Fremont, at which place they will visit with Mr. Sutton's sisters before continuing on westward. If they carry out present plans, Mrs. Sutton will leave there Friday evening by train for Montana, where she will visit her two daughters, who are attending school, and her two brothers, Lee and Paul. Carl plans to leave Saturday morning by auto. It will be necessary for them to travel separately because the northern route is closed to vehicle transportation.

Carl has an uncle living at Yakima, and he is of the opinion that he can secure work there.

Hostess to Lodge Members

Mrs. S. C. Hardnock and Mrs. Ruth Taylor served the Royal Neighbor Lodge chapter to a luncheon at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hardnock.

After a bounteous dinner, the ladies had their regular order of business and participated in the installation of officers for the coming year.

The officers are as follows: Mrs. Hardnock, orator; Mrs. Ben Muench, vice orator; Mrs. Edith Williams, past orator; Mrs. Garcia, recorder; Mrs. Mullen, receiver; Mrs. Cook, Mrs. August Johnson and Mrs. Hardnock, managers, and Mrs. Taylor, chancellor.

The ladies enjoyed a most pleasant day.

Murray

Cyrus Livingston, well known farmer near Weeping Water, transacted business in visited friends in Murray last Monday.

While William Sporer is in the south for the rest of the winter, his business affairs will be looked after by his son, Martin Sporer.

Mrs. E. M. Smith and son Sidney Smith and daughter, Mrs. Edward Stava of near Union were visitors in Murray last Monday. Mrs. Stava bringing her little daughter to see the doctor, and Mrs. Smith and Sidney looking after business matters.

Entertained at Supper Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sporer had as guests at a supper party at their country home last Sunday evening, Gust Hollenberg and sister, Miss Emma, as well as William Sporer, father of Charles, who is leaving soon for Florida to spend the winter. Mr. Hollenberg and sister are close neighbors of the Spores and all enjoyed the occasion.

Will Spend Winter in South

William Sporer is planning on leaving soon for the south, where he will spend the next couple of months. He expects to go via St. Louis and from there to New Orleans, where he will remain a short time before proceeding to Miami, Florida, at which place he will spend most of his time in the southland. He expects to return via Chicago, and will stop there for a few days.

Axe Goes Wide of Mark

While Edward Hope, residing south of town, was cutting kindling with an axe, the sharp blade veered from its course and cut a deep gash in his thumb. Dr. Tyson dressed the injured member and he is getting along very well, although it will be some time before it has healed.

Birth of Son

A young son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wood, who reside six miles west and a mile north of Murray on Monday morning. The little son and his mother are doing very nicely. Charles E. Wood of Elmwood is the young man's grandfather and is also very happy over the arrival.

AVOCA NEWS

Elmer Hallstrom made a business trip to Nebraska City last Tuesday.

Elmer Hennings and family were at Adams Sunday for a visit at the home of his brother, N. K. Hennings.

John Marquardt and Dr. J. W. Brendel were called to Omaha on Friday of last week to look after business matters.

Little Robert Rubge, who is only two years old, has been suffering from the mumps. We are glad to report he is improving.

Monte Lum, the lumberman, was called to Omaha last Tuesday on business. He was accompanied by Leo McCann, who acted as chauffeur.

Fred Marquardt met with a number of the farmers of this community during the past week to discuss the farm situation and prospects for the coming crop season.

Mrs. Edwin Terrell, who is 78 years of age, while going to town had the misfortune to fall on the slippery walk and break her glasses as well as cut her face. She got up and continued on her way as though nothing had happened.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Ballweaver, of scenic, South Dakota, arrived in Avoca last Saturday for an over-the-week end visit at the home of her father, Edward Shackley, who has been in poor health for some time. Mrs. Ballweaver was formerly Miss Mueller Shackley.

Dr. Deeder to be Guest Speaker

Dr. Deeder of Otoe is scheduled to be guest speaker at the meeting of the Community Brotherhood to be held this Monday night at the Congregational church. Dr. Deeder has recently returned from Europe, following several years spent in study of advanced medicine and surgery. He was there last fall when the Czech crisis became so acute and has a fund of knowledge of European pictures and many pictures taken during the time spent there, which he will show in conjunction with his talk. He operates a hospital at Otoe. Many will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing his interesting talk.

Avoca versus Nehawka

The town team, first and second high school teams and grammar grades team came from Nehawka to play against like teams here last Tuesday evening, giving the followers of this sport plenty of action and excitement. The scores were as follows:

Entertained Trinity Altar Society

Mrs. Carl O. Zaiser was hostess to a gathering of the members of the Trinity Catholic church Guild last Tuesday. After the business portion of the meeting was concluded, bingo was played and a general good time had by all.

Fred McGrady Still Poorly

Fred McGrady, the blacksmith has been confined to his home on account of sickness.

Enjoyed Family Dinner Sunday

A number of the people of Avoca were over to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Anderson last Sunday to attend the family dinner, when nearly all the members of the Anderson family were present. Those from Avoca included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marquardt and little daughter, Anna, while from Nehawka came Albert Anderson and family, also Mrs. R. R. Stander, of Wisley, Kansas, and Mrs. Bedella Stander of Louisville.

Business Changes

Lloyd Behrens, who conducted a grocery store in the Morley building, closed out the stock and quit business recently. George Shackley made arrangements for the room and has it papered and redecorated for the conduct of a similar business, which he opened there last Saturday. He has an all new stock and a very neat and attractive place of business.

Town teams' game: Nehawka, 40, Avoca, 28.

First High School teams' game: Avoca, 39, Nehawka, 26.

Second High School teams' game: Nehawka, 22, Avoca, 14.

Grammar Grades' Avoca, 16, Nehawka, 6.

Thus each town won two of the four games, and the matter of town supremacy in this realm of sport remains unsolved for the time being.

L. A. Diller Adopts a Dog

L. A. Diller, a former Avoca resident who now lives in the vicinity of Carter Lake in Omaha made the news columns last week when he adopted a dog after the animal had made a heroic effort to save itself from drowning in the icy waters of the lake. The dog had broken thru the ice and was completely exhausted when men reached it with a boat and rescued it, and Mr. Diller, who told news men that any animal that makes such a noble effort to save its life as this dog did, deserves a good home, took the dog to his place of abode and will provide it with a home in the future.

Plans to Farm Again

John Marquardt, who disposed of his farming equipment some time ago, has secured another outfit and will again enter the agricultural line. This time he plans to use power equipment rather than horses in carrying on his farm work.

Entertained the Garden Club

Miss Bertha Neumeister was hostess to the Avoca Garden club on last Tuesday afternoon, when the members came to enjoy a pleasant time and to discuss the growing of garden vegetables and the cultivation of flowers. Following their business session and informal discussion, Miss Bertha served a very delicious lunch.
