

High School Music Department Gives Concert

One of the Largest Musical Offerings by the School and Features a Cappella Choir.

Wednesday evening the music department of the Plattsmouth high school presented a concert that gave a fine showing of the group and individual work of the students. The concert was a practical demonstration of the excellent work of David Fowler as the director, as well as the talent and ability of the large group of the young people that participated in the event.

The school has established the a cappella choir under the regime of Mr. Fowler and it has become one of the most impressive groups that the music department of the school has maintained. Heard in a group of numbers last evening, the choir showed their very fine advancement in the recent months. There are 120 of the young men and women of the school enrolled in this choir and who gave in fine harmony and beauty a group of selections. The school can well feel proud of the fine choir that will compare with any of the schools of this size in the state. The members comprise the following:

Maxine Alexen, Malden Allen, Warren Allbee, Betty Ault, Norman Baker, Rita Berlett, Helen Blotzer, Kathryn Brink, Rose Brink, Renee Brown, Norma Bryant, Blossom Burcham, Kenneth Campbell, Bill Cloldt, Gertrude Cloldt, Harley Cottingham, Ella Mae Denson, Stephen Devoe, Mary Helen Dill, Don Dooley, George Downs, Corrine Drucker, Dorothea Duxbury, Sylvia Ellingson, John Elliott, Margaret Fricke, Betty Gayer, Eleanor Giles, Anna Marie Glaubtitz, Delores Gradoville, June Griffin, Maxine Graves, Ruth Ann Hatt, Helen Heigl, Gerald Hennings, Helen Hiatt, Dale Henton, Richard Hitt, Bernice Holmes, John Jacobs, Shirley Jacobs, Gloria Johnson, Jimmy Jones, Phyllis Kaffenberger, Edgar Kief, Beulah Kiser, Bill Knorr, Thelma Kruger, Lawrence Lamberon, Shirley Leesley, Whipple Leonard, Shirley Leonard, Donald Leonard, Maria Lentz, Eileen Lester, Ted Libershal, Betty Jo Libershal, Edith Lushinsky, Ruth Lowson, Rosalyn Mark, Shirley Mason, Donald Martin, Clarence Mayabb, Mae McCarroll, Mary McCarroll, Charles McClain, Eugene McPherson, Donald McPherson, Helen Minniear, Dale Nearhood, Russell Nielsen, Maxine Nielsen, Kathleen Nolte, Wilma Nolte, Gene-

The concert also served to eliminate the individual students in the competition for the right to represent the school at the district tournament, a very large number of the young people of the school competing in the events. The numbers were well given and showed a fine advancement in musical work by those taking part, making the task of Hugh T. Rangler, of Lincoln, contest judge, a very difficult one indeed. The judging was based on five parts, tone qualities, diction, intonation, interpretation, and stage presence.

The competition was very keen and all of the young people showed splendidly in their offerings and which covered a wide range of voice selection from both the young men and women of the school.

In the girl's medium voice there was very keen competition and in this group comprising Betty Ault, Ruth Ann Hatt, Maxine Nielsen, Juanita Sigler and Shirley Walling, the first honors went to Miss Walling and the second to Miss Sigler.

Allan White was the only one to play in the trumpet section, giving a very beautiful and difficult selection, "Castles in the Air." He will represent the first place for the school.

In the girl's high voice section there were entered Betty Shiffer, Rose Mary Steppat, Verona Toman and Peggy Wiles, and in the judging first place was given Miss Steppat and second to Miss Wiles.

The boy's high voice group included only two, the first place going to Ralph Stava and the second to Bill Cloldt.

The boy's medium voice section included Stephen Devoe, Edgar Kief and John Jacobs with the award of first to Mr. Jacobs and the second to Mr. Devoe.

In the boy's low voice section there was but one contestant, Joe York, who will represent the school in the district contest.

During the course of the program there were selections given by the girl's glee club, boy's glee club and the orchestra of the high school.

The glee club membership is taken from the boys and girls of the choir and make two very effective musical groups.

Owing to many other features of entertainment the audience was not
