Dr. L. D. Dieter Tells of Condition of Europe Today

These had all been swept out with the coming of the Hitler domination. The speaker related that in the strong feeling after Nazi occupation many Jews had been compelled to scrub the pavements at Vienna with hand scrub brushes.

The opposition of the government to religious education was strong and the youth movements were along anti-church lines, while church schools were permitted with limited restrictions, children were cleverly induced by sport programs and other attractions to forego the Sunday school and gradually be weaned away from the church or Christian teachings.

Of the two dictators, Hitler and Mussolini, the speaker stated that Hitler had strange complexes, that of a great military conqueror.

In addition to the talk that was closely followed by the audience, Dr. Dieter answered a number of questions relative to the country and its people.

The lecture was followed by showing of motion pictures, many very fine scenes being shown of Austria and Germany, the views taken from the trains and through Vienna prior to its occupation. The entrance of the Nazi troops was shown in the pictures, the trucks rolling in with the soldiers, tanks and machine guns stationed over the city. The streets of Vienna were widely decorated with the red swastika flags and large troops on Nazi youth groups shown marching through the streets, the celebration lasting some four days.

In the pictures shown was one that had escaped the searching eye of the censor and police, a section showing looting of Jewish shops and the loading of goods into the army trucks.

The visit of Dr. Dieter was an occasion that all felt well repaid for attending and which afforded opportunity for hearing a story that is not often given by an eye witness of one of the great events of history of the modern day.

EVERGREEN POULTRY FARM

White Leghorn Chicks

Custom Hatching 1 1/4c Per Egg

The past year of extremely low poultry prices once more brings home the fact that egg production is the money-making part of the poultry business. About 80% of the income from Leghorn flocks comes from eggs.

Therefore, fall and early winter production, plus high flock averages are of greatest importance.

In order to test our Leghorns for livability and egg production, we have had entries the past two years in the Nebraska Flock Testing Project at the North Platte Experiment Station where seven of our pullets completed on Oct. 1, 1938, an average yearly production of 237 eggs each.

Our Leghorns are of large size, good quality and bred for high egg production, of large white eggs.

Chicks are hatched from carefully selected eggs and produced on our own farm.

Our prices are in keeping with conditions in Nebraska.
