Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Palmer returned home late Wednesday afternoon from a motor trip to the south which has covered the past two weeks. They left here just in advance of the recent cold spell and were struck by the storm at Chicago. The storm followed them to the south and brought quite low temperatures in the deep south. At Miami Mr. Palmer states the residents were wearing overcoats for a few days. They visited at Palm Beach and Lake Worth and sought to call on Charles K. Bestor, but he had gone to Havana, Cuba for a pleasure trip, but they had a fine visit with Ad Kiser of Mynard who accompanied Mr. Bestor to the south and is located at Lake Worth. The greater part of the time was spent at the home of an uncle of Mr. Palmer living near Lake Okeechobee, one of the large fresh water lakes of the state. They had the opportunity of visiting many interesting places on the journey to and from the south but were well pleased to reach home and Nebraska.

Union Women's Club Holds its Annual Election

Mrs. R. E. Foster Selected as President, Ruth James, Secretary and Mrs. Ivan Balfour Treasurer

The commodious home of Mrs. Ivan Balfour was the scene of a lively gathering Tuesday afternoon, March 7 when the Union Women's club met, having as their guests several of the county and district officers. Unfortunately some of the officers who were invited had previous engagements with the flu or some social function which prevented their coming. However, Mrs. L. S. Devoe, district chairman of American homes. Mrs. Ray Norris, state chairman of rural clubs, and District Vice-president Mrs. Scott McGrew and Mrs. Ackles were present, each giving succinct and enlightening talks on their respective subjects. Mrs. Devoe talked on safety and the importance of religious training in the home. Mrs. Norris urged a close cooperation between urban-rural women, and that a special effort be made to secure rural members. Mrs. McGrew stressed the importance of federations and religious training.

The business meeting and election of officers for the ensuing year was conducted by the president, Mrs. Niels Madsen, who by the club rules, automatically became vice-president. The simplified manner of conducting the election prevented confusion, and within a brief period all members had voted, resulting in the election of Mrs. R. E. Foster as president, Mrs. Ruth James, secretary and Mrs. Ivan Balfour, treasurer.

All members joined in the flag salute, after which prayer was offered by Mrs. L. R. McLaughy at the president's invitation, Mrs. Farris, the devotional leader, being absent.

The club voted to send their quota for the "penny pines," and take up the "two tree" project. Mrs. Howard Snodgrass, chairman of music, led the group singing; the first song being an Irish melody in honor of St. Patrick, the patron saint of March, followed by "My Nebraska."

Mrs. Earl Upton and Mrs. L. Moughey sang an appropriate duet: "Nebraska My Native Land," as "Nebraska" was the subject for this meeting.

Mrs. Ruth James as leader, gave an interesting, concise and well-portrayed history of Nebraska, old and new, with supplemental readings by Mrs. Snodgrass and Mrs. L. R. Upton.

Appropos of the subject, "Nebraska" an unusual scrap book of a well known Nebraska artist, Mrs. Lenore Benalken, which had been loaned one of the members, was shown, containing photographs of twenty of her paintings, and an interesting account of her life, which all enjoyed.

As a pleasant conclusion to the program the high school quartet, consisting of Kathleen Balfour, Bettie Baker, Lucile Gruber and Edith Wolfe, with their school conductress, Miss Melzacher, gave two appropriate songs.

The luncheon table was cleverly arranged to carry out the concept of Nebraska's characteristic products, small paper boxes with a design of the state capitol were filled with edible grains of candy corn, puffed wheat, etc., which served as place-cards, while ice cream was designed to show "Nebraska" as the white spot of the nation.

The centerpiece, emblematic of pioneer days showed:

Two gentle oxen as with patience rare
They plot to reach a goal, they know not where,
Just to be free from their unwieldy load—
The covered wagon they propel along the road,
When food and shelter must to them avail,
For all their toil along the tiresome trail.

The hostesses assisting Mrs. Balfour were Mesdames P. F. Rihn, R. E. Foster, L. Moughey and J. C. Hansell.

Beside the visiting officers and members there were nine other guests, with whom it was a pleasure to be associated.

For thus we met new folk and make new friends
Which to our lives an added interest lends.

Find charm, companionship with those who higher rate,
Those whom we may not envy but may emulate.
