Easter Day is Observed in Local Churches

Almost Every House of Worship in City Filled to Capacity for the Impressive Services. The Easter day of 1939 was one ideal as far as weather was concerned and brought hundreds out to fill the churches of the city to capacity with worshippers to receive the message of the day. The first services of the day were the sunrise observances of the young people's societies of the Presbyterian church and in which the C. E. of the Mynard U. B. church joined, and the Epworth League service at the Methodist church. Presbyterian Church The First Presbyterian church had a large congregation at the morning services. The church was very elaborately arranged with floral decorations on the platform to add their beauty to the impressive scene. The day was marked by the reception of members into the church by baptism, letter and confession of faith, with the celebration of the communion by Dr. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the church. The choir of the church gave a very fine musical setting to the services that added to their beauty. Dr. H. G. McClusky brought as his message, "Our Resurrection Assured," a talk of inspiration and hope. St. John's Church The St. John's church was filled to capacity at the opening mass of the day at 8 o'clock with the celebration of the high mass of A. Werber sung by the senior choir of the church and with the violin obligato by George Jaeger. The church was very beautiful with the candles and the floral settings arranged for the day. The second mass was at 10:30 and at which the junior choir of the church assisted in the mass and the benediction of the most blessed sacrament celebrated. Rt. Rev. Monsignor George Agius, pastor of the church, was assisted in the services of the day by Father Mee of the Columbian mission at Bellevue and Father Marcelles Agius. Rt. Rev. Monsignor George Agius gave the apostolic blessing to the congregation, this blessing by Pope Pius XII being sent by cable to the local priest and by him transmitted to the members of the church in this community. Methodist Church Easter at the First Methodist church brought a record breaking number out for the services and at each of the services a very large number were present. A fine floral decoration featured the platform of the church and the choir loft where the choir of the church gave a very fine musical setting to the services. The members of Mt. Zion commandery, Knights Templar, were present in a body at the services and their uniformed ranks added to the beauty and impressiveness of the services. Rev. J. C. Lowson had as his message at the morning service, "The Gospel of Easter," a forceful and able presentation of the story of the resurrection. In the evening the young people of the church gave a very fine service in "The Challenge of the Cross," most impressively given by the group. First Christian Church The First Christian church had an unusually large number out for the opening Easter morning and here, as in the other churches, flowers added a pleasing touch to the settings. Rev. J. W. Taenzler, the pastor, brought a fine message to the congregation on "His Crown," a fitting Easter day theme and ably presented. In the evening there was a candle-lighting and song service by the choir of the church. The subject of the evening service was "The Fountain of Youth."

St. Luke's Episcopal Church The St. Luke's Episcopal church service at 8:45 Sunday, brought out a large congregation for the Easter service and the celebration of the Eucharist, the services being conducted by Father Robert Reddenbaugh of the St. Martin's church of Omaha. The altar and chancel was very attractively arranged with the Easter lilies and other flowers. A number from out of the city were here for the day. St. Paul's Church The Easter Sunday services at the St. Paul's church was held at 2:30 in the afternoon by the Rev. Walter Kieker of the Evangelical and Reformed church of Omaha. Rev. Kieker gave a very fine sermon on the lesson of the Easter and the triumph of Christ over death. In the evening a cantata was given by the choir of the church of Rev. Kieker from Omaha, a very beautiful and impressive message of the Easter season. A very large number were present at each of the services during the day. Holy Rosary Church The masses for Easter were held at 7 and 9 o'clock at the Holy Rosary church with capacity congregations and beautiful and impressive celebration of the masses. Preceding the first mass a processional of the blessed sacrament was participated in by the congregation around the church. This was followed by the mass and benediction. The church and altar were very attractively decorated for the service. A large number of visitors were at the services and to participate in the mass.

CYO Young People Observe Founder's Day

Large Group of Young People Are Present to Enjoy Very Fine Program at Club Rooms. From Tuesday's Daily—The young men's C. Y. O. of the Holy Rosary church observed its postponed Founder's Day program last evening at the parish club rooms where a large group of the young people gathered in honor of the observance. Due to the many activities in the city last evening forty-two were present. A short business meeting and a well-arranged program was held during the evening. The Rev. A. N. Antochowski opened the meeting with the recitation of prayer. The business session was presided over by the president, Henry Krejci and presented the secretary-treasurer, Joseph F. Kvapil who read the minutes of the previous meeting. Committees for the dance to be sponsored in the near future were announced. At the conclusion of the business meeting, the program chairman, Joseph Kvapil presented the various numbers of the evening. Matthew Sedlak had charge of the devotionals and gave a beautiful poem appropriate for the occasion. The welcome of the evening was expressed by Miss Joan Gradoville, Edward Kubicka, Edward Gradoville, and Dovel Anthony Kubicka. Misses Shirley Walling and Wilma Swatek rendered a duet, "Little Sir Echo," Miss Verona Toman being the accompanist. Miss Shirley Walling, who was a local winner in the humorous division of the declamatory contest held at Plattsmouth high school recently, gave the reading, "Robert, Makes Love." Bernard Knoficek was heard in a vocal solo entitled "An Old English Air," Miss Dorothy Svoboda being the accompanist. "Jeepers Creepers," and "Like to Dance" were two songs rendered by Misses Helen and Theresa Slatinsky, the latter song being sung in the Czech language. The guest speaker of the evening was Father A. N. Antochowski of Orchard Lake, Michigan, acting pastor of the Holy Rosary church, who spoke on the "Meaning and Worth of a C. Y. O. Group." He stated that such an organization is the backbone of the church, not only in economic, physical, moral, religious but in social as well. The address was very much enjoyed by the group present, and were deeply grateful for the opportunity of hearing one of his addresses. Group singing, led by Father Antochowski, was also held during the evening. Miss Dorothy Svoboda serving as the accompanist. Following the program refreshments were served by the hosts: Matthew Sedlak, Bernard Kubicka, Frank Kalasek, Bernard Knoficek, and Joseph Kvapil. During the luncheon hour Father Antochowski rendered a number of selections on the program. The B. V. M. Sodality were among the special guests of the young men. Bouquets of red roses formed the decorative scheme of the dining table.

Hold Easter Services.

The churches of Nehawka while it was first expected that at the Methodist church all members would go to Union to enjoy their Easter services, so few did go that services for Easter were held at the Methodist church here. There were also Easter services at the United Brethren church here, with a large attendance at both places of worship.

Getting Much Better.

Mrs. Frank P. Sheldon who was taken very ill about a month ago and has been kept to her home and bed since, is showing good improvement and expects to be able to be up in a short time.

Making Change in Business.

The Sheldon store which was first organized in 1888 and has been conducted down through the years, has been changed in its character and will be conducted in the future on a cash and carry basis. The store room has been recently changed and decorated with a pay station to receive payment for purchases. The country truck will again be placed on the road.

Spend Easter Here.

Mr. and Mrs. John O. Yeiser and family came down last Saturday night and visited over the week end at the home of Grandfather A. F. Sturm and with the intention of the boys going to Union with Grandfather Sturm on Sunday but the cistern pump was not working just as it should and Mr. Sturm had to do some work on it and did not get to awaken the grandchildren. At 9 o'clock the boys came down and started to inquire about the trip to Union, but as it was then 9 o'clock with no breakfast, it was then too late and so the trip had to go for some other time.

WOODMAN CIRCLE MEETS

The members of the Woodman circle had an outstanding meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Marie Kaufmann. The meeting was very well attended, only a few members being unable to be present. The organization had the pleasure of having with them two prominent guests, Mrs. Florence Jensen, state manager of the Woodman Circle of Nebraska and Colorado, of Omaha; and Mrs. Ruth Marhenke, the district manager, from Lincoln. The meeting was presided over by the secretary, Miss Kaufmann, who presented the visitors, Mrs. Jensen being the guest speaker. During the course of the meeting Mrs. Jensen presented the members that have been in the Woodman circle 25 years or more with 25-year membership pins. The organization is fortunate in having thirty-two active members who have served their club with twenty-five years of service. Mrs. Marhenke also assisted Mrs. Jensen in the presentation and also was called upon to speak a few words to the group. Following the business meeting refreshments were served by the hosts, Miss Kaufmann, assisted by Mrs. Max Fitzmayer, Mrs. C. C. Cotner and Mrs. William Hartwick.

SUFFERS ILLNESS

Mrs. Henrietta Ofe, a long time resident of the city, was taken quite ill Saturday with what seems a slight stroke and has since been confined to her bed. It is hoped that the patient may soon rally and be able to throw off the effect of the attack. She was taken to the hospital Sunday for treatment.

RETURN FROM MISSOURI

Mr. and Mrs. George Trotter have returned from King City, Missouri where they spent the Easter holidays visiting at the home of Mr. Trotter's parents, as well as a number of other relatives and friends. They also spent several hours in St. Joseph, Missouri.

DIES AT OMAHA HOSPITAL

From Wednesday's Daily—James H. Jones, 70, a resident for a number of years of the Louisville community, died this morning at the Methodist hospital at Omaha where he has been receiving treatment for an illness of some duration. Mr. Jones was born in New York May 15, 1868, but has lived the greater part of his life in the central west. He claimed to have been engaged in railroad work in and near Pacific Junction in the middle eighties and later located in Louisville where he was engaged in fishing and odd jobs while able. So far as records here show he has no relatives and had been living alone until sent to the hospital at Omaha.
