Early Congress Adjournment is Being Favored

Session to Continue Until at Least June 1st is Foreshadowed by the Members.

LINCOLN, May 20 (UP)—Several legislators said today they saw little possibility of final adjournment before June 1.

They pointed out that the general appropriations bill likely will consume most of next week. Debate is expected to center on the amount to be appropriated for state assistance and for the University of Nebraska and the state teacher's colleges. Previously members had hoped to wind up the session by next week-end.

Two factors that will have much to do with determining the adjournment date are the weather and how much farther the legislature goes into the sifting file, representing a selection by each member of a bill for preferred consideration. If the weather is hot there will be a tendency to cut short.

Twenty-seven of the forty-three preferred bills have yet to be considered. Among these are Senator Sorrell's agrol bill exempting farm machinery from the gasoline tax, and the state civil service bill.

"If the members are going to insist on considering their pet bills," Senator Edwin Schultz remarked, "we won't be going home until Labor Day."

Schultz is chairman of a committee authorized to arrange an adjournment date. He said he saw no advantage in calling his committee together until the budget is past the controversial stage.

HOLDUP NEAR GLENWOOD

GLENWOOD, Ia., May 19 (UP)—Police in adjoining states today were on the lookout for four men who last night, reportedly held up and robbed Joe H. Jacobson, New York jewelry salesman of 30,000 in diamonds and other gems.

Jacobson told the sheriff's office here that the men blocked his car at the junction of highways 275 and 34 near here. He said while one man stayed behind the wheel, the others leveled guns at him and his Negro driver and demanded two grips in which Jacobson carried his jewels. The men were not molested.

Jacobson said the trio jumped out of their car calling, "stop in the name of the law!"

ORDER ANTI-SUB BOATS

LONDON, May 20 (UP)—Great Britain has ordered high speed construction of twenty anti-submarine ships of an entirely new and secret design, the Daily Express asserted today.

It was said that one of the most important features of the ships would be submarine detection gear of a type which is also being fitted to thirty-six destroyers now under construction. No other navy possesses this device, the newspaper said.

EXPLOSION AT PRAGUE

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, May 20 (UP)—A tremendous explosion rocked half of the city today, wrecking a house in the Rosengasse in the center of Prague, which is headquarters of four Masonic lodges.

The force of the explosion blew doors into the street. Smoke clouds rolled out of the building, part of which collapsed.

An investigation so far had not revealed whether there were any casualties.

WHEAT PAYMENTS CERTIFIED

LINCOLN, May 19 (UP)—Fred S. Wallace, Nebraska agricultural conservation committee chairman, said today payments totaling $797,000 were certified for payment to Nebraska wheat producers under the 1939 price adjustment program.

Payments were approved for growers in fifty-two counties. Total amount for price adjustment payments available is about $4,300,000, Wallace said.

DR. CHARLES MAYO RESTING

CHICAGO, May 20 (UP)—Dr. Charles H. Mayo, 73, famed physician and surgeon of the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., stricken with pneumonia while visiting in Chicago, was reported "resting" today in Mercy hospital.

He became ill yesterday while stopping in a "Loop" hotel.

His wife and Dr. Thomas Dry of the clinic staff flew to his bedside.

CHINCH BUGS MENACE

LINCOLN, May 19 (UP)—Heavy flights of migrating chinch bugs early this month warned Nebraska farmers the insects may cause considerable damage to crops this year, Professor M. H. Swenk, chairman of the Nebraska college of agriculture entomology department, said today.

Small grain fields in southeastern Nebraska were found harboring heavy chinch bug populations, Swenk said. Serious damage to barley, rye, and wheat fields was reported in the area as far north and west as Saline and Lancaster counties.

Professor Swenk said "the flights continue and indicate the presence and survival of a larger area of a larger number of chinch bugs than had been realized last fall and early spring."
