

MANLEY NEWS

Messrs. Charles Jenkins, of Ogallala, and Clyde Jenkins, of Havelock, were guests at the home of their mother here one day last week.

Miss Leona Darveau, housekeeper at the Catholic parish house, enjoyed a visit from her brother and sister of Rulo during the past week.

Bobbie McDonald and family, of Avoca, were guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. McDonald for a short visit last Monday evening.

Frank H. Stander and two daughters, Miss Lillian Stander and Mrs. Mike Honor of Omaha were visiting and looking after business matters in Manley last Wednesday.

Gerald Sheehan was surprised on his 13th birthday last Monday, June 5, by a group of his young friends, who were guests at a birthday party given in his honor. A most enjoyable time was had by all.

Misses Margaret and Irene Dall, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dall, departed early last week for Peru, where they will attend summer school during June and July. They are completing their courses and when they graduate Miss Margaret will receive the degree of Bachelor of Science, while Miss Irene will receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Flaischman last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gade and Mrs. Albert Cochran and children, all of Ashland; Mrs. Lloyd Travo and son Donald of Falls City and Mrs. Alfred Martin and family of Louisville. Mr. Cochran, who is a traveling salesman, was not home and so did not accompany the others here from Ashland.

Departed for the West

Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Harms and their son, Teddy, Jr., departed last Thursday morning for Los Angeles, where they will visit with their son for about three weeks. They went via Wichita, where they picked up Mrs. Alice Alberding, a daughter, who is accompanying them on the trip.

Called to Talmage for Funeral

Herman Damme, a nephew of Mr. Theo. Harms, died at his home in the northwest and the remains were shipped to Talmage, where the funeral was held on Thursday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Harms and son, while on their way to Wichita and the west, stopped to attend the funeral, continuing their journey from there.

Holding Vacation Bible School

A vacation Bible study school is being started at St. Patrick's Catholic church this morning, with two instructors, Sisters from the Blessed Sacrament church who will have charge of the giving of instruction. The school will continue for two weeks and at the conclusion of same examinations will be given to students taking the course.

Will Visit at J. C. Rauth's

Jack Huse, of Jackson, Nebraska, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rauth, who some time since was to have spent thirty days at the Rauth farm but had his vacation cut short by a week, has ever harbored in his mind that he was shortchanged, as he did not get to spend the entire month with his uncle and aunt. Now he has written saying that he is coming to spend a full month and is sure that he can be valuable on the farm, helping with the chores and picking strawberries, and, as he put it, "eating them as well"—something at which he claims to be an expert.

Visitors Here from the North

Mr. and Mrs. William Keckler, Mrs. Herman Bradenfeld and Mrs. Will Baker, all of Gardner, North Dakota, arrived here last week for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bauers, parents of the ladies. Mr. and Mrs. Bauers were pleased to have the daughters home at this time, when Fred is recovering from a recent injury to his back, suffered when he fell from a load of fodder. He is getting along nicely now and is able to be up and around.

The visitors state that although it was rather dry there when they left, they have heard some good rains have fallen since. They say that during the past twenty-five years there has never been a crop failure in the vicinity where they reside. They left Friday for home, as Mr. Keckler had to return to his work, he being the driver of the car.

Serenade Newlyweds Monday

A group of friends of the newly wedded couple, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Roebber paid a visit to their farm home northeast of Manley and gave the young friends a real old fashioned charivari, with all the noise and hubbub possible to emphasize their friendship and good wishes for those who are now starting on their journey of married life. The newlyweds joined in the spirit and invited the merry-makers in for a most pleasant evening, climaxed with some good eats. In departing all expressed best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Roebber.

The bride, prior to her marriage a week ago, was Miss Dorothy Rieser.

Greenwood

Miss Nettie Clark of Lincoln spent last Sunday at the Chas. Dyer home here.

Greenwood has free movies every Wednesday night. The pictures are enjoyed by large crowds.

Mrs. Rosetta Axmaker is very poorly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ray McNurlin, at Lincoln.

Miss Marion Hartsook, who is at the Bryan Memorial hospital in Lincoln is not so well at this writing.

Mrs. E. L. McNurlin visited in Omaha at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Fosberg the past week.

Wabash News

Henry Crozier, Weeping Water real estate dealer, was transacting business in Wabash last Monday, calling on his friend, Sherman Hardaway.

Ralph Richards, who has been unable to work the past three weeks on account of an injured ankle, is considerably improved, but not yet entirely well.

Harold Richards, who is employed by a wholesale house in Lincoln, suffered a sprained ankle last week, but is reported getting along very nicely at the present time.

Miss Helen Grant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grant, of near Nehawka, spent several days the past week at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Hardaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schmidt and the children went to Lincoln on last Monday, where Mr. Schmidt secured some repairs for the tractor which he operates for the county in maintaining the highways of Elmwood precinct.

Fern Hobby, former resident of Wabash, who now resides in Alhambra, California, accompanied by a lady friend from that vicinity, were guests at the home of her uncle, William Murfin and family last week. While here she endeavored to find some of the older residents of Wabash who lived here when she did and when the town was flourishing. After a short visit, the ladies continued on their way east, with the New York world's fair as their object. They will return home via the southern route.

Dr. Condra, of Lincoln, who ran into the car of John Cardwell recently while returning home from a night meeting of farmers held at Manley, has made satisfactory settlement for the damages and Mr. Cardwell went to Lincoln where he traded the damaged car off for another one and now has a car in which he can drive to and from his work.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Stanley were in Lincoln last Wednesday, it being his regular day to go for goods for the store, and he was accompanied by his wife, they visiting their daughter who recently underwent an operation for acute appendicitis.

They found her getting along very nicely following the trying ordeal.

Stork Brings Baby Daughter

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knaupe was made happy last week when the stork presented the parents with a fine baby daughter, born at the Kunkel hospital in Weeping Water. The mother and little lady are doing nicely and the father—well, he is getting along as well as could be expected.

Visited Here Last Sunday

Alfred Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Walters, who has been stationed at the CCC camp at Weeping Water, was a visitor at the home of his parents in Wabash last Sunday and was joined here by his brother, Roy Walters, who is employed on the farm of Harrison J. Livingston. This completed the family circle and made a happy home party. The sons returned to their work Sunday evening.

Flowers Attract Attention

Mrs. Bert Barden, who is a lover of flowers and not afraid to work and care for them, has a very fine display of beautiful flowers about the yard and house, which attracts the attention of passersby. One of the especially attractive portions of the varied display is a bed of moss roses (or as some call it rose moss) in front of the house.

McCreory Family Holds Picnic

The McCreory family, many of whom grew up in this vicinity, held a family reunion and picnic at Richards park here—a place that in past years was the scene of many assemblages, including picnics, celebrations, political conventions, etc. The members brought along an abundance of good things to eat and a most enjoyable time was had, as they reviewed by-gone days and visited together.

Those present included Marion McCreory and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Nelson and their little son of Elmwood; Ralph Dorr and wife and Neil Dorr and wife of Wabash; I. C. McCreory and family and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Thimman of Murdock; Wm. McCreory and family, of Mound City, Mo., and M. McCreory and family of Greeley, Nebraska. A relative and representative of the family from New York state who chanced to be visiting for a time in Lincoln, also attended.
