WPA Projects are Beneficial to the Merchants

Nebraska Offices Show Large Percent of All Wages Go to Coeffers of Home Town Merchants.

Workers employed on Nebraska Public Works Administration projects will have spent wages totaling about $30,528,913 with local merchants for the benefit of business in their communities when the current program is completed, a summary issued by PWA disclosed today.

The estimate was made by Acting PWA Regional Director Joseph D. Evans on the basis of findings of the bureau of labor statistics of the department of labor as to the expenditures for goods and services by men employed on PWA project sites from the pay they received from private contractors.

The bureau's study also afforded information, for the first time, on the "economic distribution" of these wage expenditures among the local merchants, the grocer, the clothier, the landlord and others, and how these expenditures benefit the general community.

The plaintiffs charged that work done by army engineers in straightening the river for navigation caused it to overflow. The case is expected to set a precedent as being the first of its kind to be decided in the country. The government is expected to contend heavy snows and rains in the mountains were responsible for the flood and that the situation would have been worse had it not been for the channel work by the army engineers.

The Nebraska distribution percentages were the same as those for some of its neighboring states, but differed from those of other geographic regions. For the country as a whole, the study afforded the first tangible showing of the effect of such wage expenditures in communities undertaking PWA projects, Mr. Evans said.

"NERVOUS"—KILLS FAMILY

SOLVAY, N. Y., June 17 (UP)—A strapping 200-pound steel worker walked into Police Chief Thomas Brock's office last night and announced that he had killed his wife and two of his sons by strangling them with clothesline because he "was nervous."

Officers dispatched to the home of Bolestaw Waszkiewicz, 45, immediately confirmed the triple slaying.

CHOLERA IS ENEMY NO. 1 OF MODERN SWINE PRODUCER

There are two words which the American swine producer dreads more than all others—the words Hog Cholera. For, in spite of all modern practices and scientific methods of control, cholera still ranks as America's Number 1 swine destroyer. It strikes with-

Eventually the whole herd is down, and then it is probably too late to save them.

There is no cure for cholera. The only safeguard lies in vaccination. The best protection is the so-called "double treatment" administered by a veterinarian. This is best given about weaning time, while the pigs are young and well.

The importance of having the immunizing done by a veterinarian is due

The first signs of cholera which a farmer sees may be one or two hogs in a herd showing unwillingness to leave their pens. When driven out, they may have their backs humped, may shiver a bit, or show slight weakness in their back legs. Next day a few more hogs show sluggishness, to the fact that the veterinarian can best tell if the pigs are in proper condition to be vaccinated, and through his knowledge can do an immunizing job which can be relied on.

According to statistics, there will be nearly $30,000,000 worth of hogs lost this year through cholera. The wise farmer will take no chances with this disease, but will have his pigs immunized at the start of the season.

Local Church to Hold Corpus Christi Service

Holy Rosary Church in West Part of City Will Have Services at Homes of Parishioners.

From Saturday's Daily—The feast of Corpus Christi, which fell on June 8 this year, will be observed in a fitting manner tomorrow at the Holy Rosary church at 1610 Pearl street. Special services will be held in the morning and afternoon in commemoration of this great and impressive feast.

Due to the clergymen's retreat at Lincoln last week the Corpus Christi observance was postponed until tomorrow, the pastor, Rev. Joseph R. Sinkula being present at the retreat. The day will commence with two masses at 7 a. m. and 9 a. m. with special services held at the earlier mass. The young men's C. Y. O. will take part in this service by receiving corporal communion in a body as a part of the Father's day observance and Corpus Christi celebration.

The special religious ceremonies of this feast will be held at 4 p. m. Sunday at the church where the sermons will be preached in both the Czech and English languages. The Rev. John Kopecky of Bruno, Nebraska will deliver the Czech sermon, while the Rev. Adam Smydz, chaplain of St. Mary's hospital at Nebraska City, will address the congregation in the English language. Following the services at the church, the solemn procession of the Blessed Sacrament to the various private homes in the vicinity of the church will take place. The benediction will take place on the altars which are erected at these four homes. The procession will cover a distance of three blocks, the congregation and all present following the Blessed Sacrament, which will be at the following homes of the parishioners, the newly-blessed James Holy, Sr. home, the Charles Vitousek residence, the John Svoboda residence at 1410 Main street, and the Joseph Kvapil home.

A large number of clergymen from a dozen or more towns will be here for the occasion, including the priests from the Plattsmouth deanery and the Omaha diocese.

"The Body of Christ" is the translations of the Latin terms of Corpus Christi and the special observance of this feast is a custom that was originated in European countries where the people in their respective countries made it a special privilege to honor the Lord through the Blessed Sacrament. Many of the parishioners of the various churches in these countries offered their homes, where altars were erected and beautified, as places of worship in which to honor the Lord. The latter part of the nineteenth century was the time when the United States also took part in observing the feast in this manner. The custom was inaugurated in Plattsmouth in early '19, when Father Bartik, pastor of the Holy Rosary church during that time conducted the services. At that time services were conducted in the John Janda home, now occupied by the members of the Zitka family; Frank Bila home, now occupied by Vincent Pilny, Jr.; Anton Kanka home, now occupied by the Frank Robbins family; Charles Vitousek home; and the old Stastka homestead, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kanka.

Services of this kind were conducted in various long intervals but no annual practice was made to celebrate the event in this manner. Father Sinkula, present pastor, announced that the observance of the feast of Corpus Christi in this manner would become an annual religious affair in Plattsmouth.

Following the services a supper will be served on the church lawn by the ladies of the Altar society, and a social hour will be held during the evening.

The Plattsmouth citizens are all invited to join and participate in the church services which will commence at 4 p. m., as well as to attend the supper and social features of the evening.

From Saturday's Daily—Robert Rummel, one of the enthusiastic fishermen of this locality, was out this morning to try his luck along the Platte river and was very successful as he landed a fine three pound bass. CASS COUNTY CANNERS

The "Cass County Cannery," near Nehawka, studied "Economic Buying" when they met at the home of Irene and Eda Tyson Friday afternoon, June 16.

The club received four dozen Hazel Atlas jars, and as we have 12 members, each girl has four new jars which we shall enjoy using.

Each girl answered roll call by telling "What I Like Best to Can, and why." Irene Tyson demonstrated chicken canning.

Those who were not fortunate enough to attend club week at Lincoln enjoyed the reports of Margie Ruth Pollard, Marie and Doris Anderson and Dorothy and Irene Tyson. From their reports we know they had a very pleasant and profitable week. Margie Ruth Pollard and Marie Anderson gave piano selections.

Virginia Pollard, our assistant leader, told of the leader training meeting at Weeping Water.

Guests were Mrs. John Tyson, Mrs. John Kettelhut, Mrs. Dan Anderson, Mary House and Alice Wolpa.

Everyone enjoyed refreshments of ice cream, cookies, cake and feed tea.

The next meeting will be with Marie and Doris Anderson June 29 when we will judge menus.

Plattsmouth Legion Team is Again Winner

Edward Smith Hurls Great Game and Hits Well—Parriott, Phillips, Smith Lead Hitting.

The junior American Legion baseball team advanced another game in the 19th district tourney Friday afternoon when they turned back the Elmwood Juniors by the score of 7 to 2, a game which featured a fine game of ball by Ed Smith and his supporting cast, Smith striking out eight of his opponents, hitting 1.000 and scoring three times. Joe Phillips, local shortstop was also a handy man with the willow as both of his hits were for extra bases, a double and a home run. Parriott had a triple and a single to his credit in the game. Joe York at first and Jimmy Jones behind the bat handed their chances without a bobble to help out the winning of their team. Allbee showed class in the fifth with a double.

The Plattsmouth team opened the fireworks in the first when Smith was walked by Ward and scored on Joe Phillips' sharp double.

In the third the Platter heavy artillery again unloaded when Smith hit to short left and was sacrificed by Allbee to the keystone sack and from where he came home on the triple of Parriott, Parriott scoring when the play was being made on York, beating the out.

The fifth stanza of the game was the bargain day for both teams and closed the scoring for the game. In this inning McDonald hit one of the three lonely bingles that Smith gave down, and was safe when a bobble allowed him safe at third, scoring on the fielder's choice of Rohlfosz. Rohlfosz scored when Buck hit safely.

In the Platter half of the fifth, the head of the local batting list grew hot, and ere the final man was out four runs came across the plate. Smith again picked himself a nice hot single and scored when Allbee doubled over short. Allbee scored on the hit of Parriott. Joe Phillips then cleaned house with a circuit drive that brought Parriott home also.
