Local CCCrs Lose Belongings in Dakota Fire

Camp Savoy in South Dakota Where CCC Boys Located, Suffers Loss From Fire.

Charles Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mason, and Gordon Robbins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robbins of Plattsmouth suffered the loss of all of their personal belongings in a fire which raged at Camp Savoy in South Dakota recently, completely destroying the barracks in which they resided.

The young men enlisted in the CCC training camps early in April and left for Weeping Water April 15. Upon arriving in Weeping Water the young men were assigned to the South Dakota area with Camp Savoy as their destination. The young men, at the time of the fire which broke at 5:20 p. m., were on duty in training to combat forest fires. At 6 p. m. when the group, accompanied by their captain, returned to the barracks they were astonished to find them burned to the ground. The origin of the fire is still unknown. The young men were then taken to Camp Robeaux, a nearby camp.

Mr. Mason, who had been in Plattsmouth visiting recently, returned to camp with all of his clothing, including a suit that he had just purchased as well as other valuables that he possessed. All of these were destroyed in the fire.

Mr. Robbins also suffered the loss of all of his clothing, he also having all that he owned with him. He had just purchased an expensive camera and all that he possessed was in a mass of ruins.

A large number of the young men were unfortunate in losing a considerable amount of cash that they possessed, some losing large amounts because of the recent pay that they had received.

NATIONAL PARKS TO OFFER MORE CAMPING SITES

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Americans are rapidly becoming camping conscious according to Julian H. Salomon, National Park Service camping specialist of Washington.

On a tour of the California camping sites, Salomon explained this phase of the National Park Service's work as follows:

"It is assumed," he said, "that there were numerous agencies in the country interested in camp operations if they could be assisted in obtaining suitable sites and facilities."

"It was also thought that smaller agencies operating camps would be able to pool their efforts if offered improved facilities to encourage better service."

"As a result, through consultation with local agencies, camp development was studied thoroughly from the viewpoint of committee's needs. Out of these consultations came organized camping for family boys, girls educational and other groups utilizing facilities carefully planned to provide the greatest use at a minimum cost."

Salomon said that in 1936 there were only nine camps in operation in the United States with a total of 37,310 camper days.

For 1938 these figures were increased to 49 camps with a total of 376,173 camper days.

The service expects to have at least 60 camps in operation with a probable total of 60,000 camper days for 1939.

Plattsmouth Wins One Sided Game Sunday

Defeats Co. D, 17th Infantry by Score of 17 to 6—Locals Score 11 in One Inning.

The Plattsmouth Merchants baseball team trounced the reputedly strong Fort Crook outfit Sunday by an overwhelming score of 17 to 6.

It was a shutout until the eighth inning when the Merchants eased up and allowed 5 runs to be scored on but one safe hit. The soldiers got only two hits all game off the fine pitching of Floyd Thierolf.

The Merchants while hanging up their seventh victory were on a hitting rampage again, getting 17 hits for 17 runs. The sixth inning was really a big one as 15 men batted in this frame. In this inning "Kid" O'Donnell got his homer with the bases loaded. Before Jack went to bat the umpire had called time out, but on the first ball pitched Jack hit a short fly to second which was caught, but as time was called in Jack was allowed to bat and this time homered. This brought much heated argument from the Fort Crook management as they claimed O'Donnell was out.

This outfit is to return later in the season and they promised Ray Shafer they would have a better team and swore they could beat the hustling Merchants.

The way "Terry" was pitching, he deserved a shutout for sure, but a few bonchard plays in the late innings gave the soldiers 5 unearned runs.

Next Sunday Manager Ray Shafer has engaged A. C. Nelsons aggregation again. This team played here three weeks ago, with the Merchants winning the thriller 2 to 1.
