C. Y. O. WINS 4-3 CONTEST

The C. Y. O. baseball team of Plattsburgh won their second victory of the season over the Holy Name C. Y. O. team of Omaha last evening. The game, a twilight one played at 6 p. m., was staged at the Riverview Park in Omaha and was one that was attended by a large number, only to see the Plattsburgh team win by a score of 4-3.

Henry Venduska served as pitcher for the local team while Gillin tolled on the mound for Holy Name. Both teams scored in the first inning. V. Chovanec scoring for the local team and Charley McCoy bringing in the point for Holy Name. In the batting Plattsburgh was well represented, and Joe Phillips, who made a home run in the second inning brought the score to 2 to 1 in Plattsburgh's favor. Holy Name showed excellent batting only to have their efforts blotted out by the great work of Plattsburgh in the field. In the third inning Stuart Sedlak caught two long drives.

In the fifth inning, due to the costly errors of their opponents, Plattsburgh was able to bring in two scores made by Chovanec and Hayes, thus bringing the total score to 4 to 1.

The Holy Name C. Y. O. team began to awaken in the sixth inning and were able to score two more runs, making the score 4 to 3, still in the locals' favor. Due to errors made by the locals, Frieworth was able to make a three bagger, and before the inning came to a close Chapman and Frieworth scored for their team.

From then on both teams were unable to score. During the game many hard driven flies were hit. Stuart Sedlak secured two hits, Chuck Ault one and Jack O'Donnell one.

Following the very close game, the local team, accompanied by the committeemen, Matthew Sedlak and Frank Aschenbrenner, were entertained at a luncheon in one of the leading restaurants in Omaha by the organization's moderator Rev. Joseph R. Sinkula. The gang returned at a very late hour after a profitable and enjoyable evening.

The local team will again motor to Omaha next Thursday evening, July 20 and will play for the second time the Holy Name C. Y. O. team at the same park and at the same time this being complied with upon the request of the opponents' manager Chapman.

HURRAY! SUPPER OUTDOORS

—and stop Mamma popping up by placing the whole meal on the table at once

says Dorothy Greig

OUTDOOR meals always have something of a gala air whether eaten on a bench miles from anywhere or at home on our own porch or in the garden. The trick is to keep them simple. Simple food, simple service that demands little of Mamma and permits her to enjoy the gayety and relaxation, too. One hot dish there should be, of course, to help keep digestions happy. But that, too, can be simple... perhaps a good hot soup or an easy-to-prepare casserole. Here are suggestions for two summer porch meals:

Hearty Soup
Green Salad with French Dressing
Stuffed Eggs
Cottage Cheese Bread and Butter
Rice Pudding with Butterscotch Cookies
Iced Tea

The Hearty Soup is the hot dish—made this way:

Hearty Soup
2 frankfurters (sliced)
1 teaspoon butter or bacon fat
1 can condensed bean with bacon soup
1 can condensed pea soup
1 can milk
1 can water

Cut the frankfurters in 1/4 inch slices and cook them in the butter

Outdoor meals are part of the fun of summer.

or bacon fat. Then add the bean with bacon and pea soups, the milk and the water. Heat and serve immediately. Serves 5-7.

Now for our second suggestion:

Cream of Crabmeat Soup, Supreme Salad Plate—
Jellied Tomato Ring Filled with Cottage Cheese, Sliced Tongue, Stuffed Egg, Spiced Apricots and Assorted Sandwiches
Deep Dish Blackberry Pie with Hard Sauce
Iced Tea

Cream of Crabmeat Soup, Supreme sounds grand but is really easy:

Cream of Crabmeat Soup, Supreme
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 can condensed asparagus soup
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup cream
1 cup fresh crabmeat or 1 small can
3 tablespoons sherry

Empty the can of cream of mushroom soup into a saucepan. Stir until smooth, then add the asparagus soup. Blend in the milk and cream, then add the crabmeat, which has been shredded and all pieces of shell picked out. Heat the mixture and add the sherry just before serving. Serves 4-6.

GREYNA GRABS CONTEST

Friday afternoon the second place Greytna team of the American Legion 14th district scored an 8 to 1 victory over the Plattsburgh team in a game replete with errors and hard hitting on the part of the visitors.

Greytna scored in the opening stanza of the game and in the fifth added three more runs to their growing lead. They scored also in the seventh.

Joe Phillips was the author of the local score with one of his well known circuit drives that smashed down the east stairway leading from the field and then rolled down into Claude Ruse's mart of smart and used cars.

Greytna took full advantage of the local bobbles and showed excellent base running.

Some excellent fielding was shown by Phillips, York and Parriott, and Warren Albee made a catch in left field in the seventh that ended the threat of the Greytna team.

Noble pitched a good game but showed the effect of having to hurl two games in the same week after his brilliant performance at Syracuse on Tuesday.

Syracuse leads in the district with Greytna second, Plattsburgh third and Elmwood as the fourth team.

Peace Gardens of Cleveland Nearly Ready

Pageantry at Dedication July 30 Will Be International—Half Million May Attend.

By CAPEL McNASH

CLEVELAND, O. (UP)—Soil from all the nations of the world will be mixed—as a symbol of peace—at the Cultural Gardens of Cleveland July 30. The event: an international pageant at which the gardens are to be dedicated to international peace. The 35 acres of gardens, 23 years in the making, represent all the major nationalities in the world.

The great celebration will take place during the World Poultry Congress—when 500,000 representatives of many nations will be in the city. President Roosevelt has been asked to make the dedication to world peace.

Planes, dirigibles, diplomats and groups in native costume also will take part in the festivities. There will be 10,000 voices in a chorus to sing the "Star-Spangled Banner," officials of the event said.

Half Million May Attend

The dedication is expected to attract more than a half million persons—Clevelanders, delegates from every state and from 60 foreign countries. The gardens were started humbly in 1916.

Leo Weidenthal, a newspaperman covering the city hall, persuaded Fred Alber, then parks commissioner and John Boddy, then city forester, to establish a Shakespeare Garden in Rockefeller Park, which had been given the city by John D. Rockefeller.

Ten years later, construction of the Hebrew Garden was the start of the nationality group. Since then, the many nationality groups in this city—which has an estimated 75 per cent foreign or foreign-extraction population—have sponsored gardens of their own, and construction came into full swing with the aid of the WPA.

The Italian, Irish and Ukrainian gardens are under construction now, according to A. H. Alexander, landscape architect for the parks department.

"The American Legion Garden of the Nations has been sent to WPA," he said. "The main feature of this garden is the Monument of Peace—and this will be the site of the central ceremonies July 30."

Groups Not Isolated

Symbolic also of peace is the unification plan of paths and vistas—to join the entire group into one system.

Most of the gardens center about statues of great men of the countries represented. The German garden, for example, is centered about statues of Goethe and Schiller.

The Greek Garden has been designed to recall the gifts of ancient Greece to architectural design. According to one observer, the Shakes-

Easy for the Trained German Mind

By IRVIN S. COBB

YEARS ago when I was a reporter on the New York Evening World, the body of a young woman, expensively dressed, was found in a thicket in a lonely and remote part of Long Island. She had been murdered—shot through the head. Harry Stowe of our staff, since deceased, was the first reporter to reach the place. The body had not been moved; and in searching about it Stowe happened upon something the local coroner had overlooked—a scrap of discolored paper, bearing printed and written words in German upon it.

Stowe quietly slipped the paper into his pocket and caught the first train for town. He couldn't read German himself, so he took his find to the office of the German consul. There he met an elderly, spectacled, exceedingly serious-looking under-secretary, who translated the printed and written inscriptions for him.

Then the secretary wanted to know what it was all about. Stowe told him, explaining that the identity of the murdered woman was still a profound mystery—that nobody could guess who or what she was. He described her clothing in some detail.

"Pooh!" snorted the German. "Stupid fools that these American policemen are! To the trained mind the whole thing is simplicity itself. By a process of elimination and deduction it is possible to ascertain beyond question exactly what manner of woman this was."

"Could you do it?" asked Stowe hopefully.

"In one little minute!" said the under secretary impressively. "Go ahead then, please, and do it," begged Stowe.

"Very well," said the German. "My young friend, please follow me closely. This paper shows that some woman bought at a store in Leipzig certain small articles, kitchen utensils—a breadknife, a potato-masher, a coffee-grinder. No woman in Germany, unless she was a housewife, would buy such things, so!

"On the other hand, this woman, you tell me wore forty dollar corsets. No woman in Germany, unless she was an actress, would wear forty dollar corsets.

"No actress would buy common household utensils. That would make her a housewife! No housewife would wear forty dollar corsets. That would make her an actress! And there you are!"

peare Garden "looks like a bit of old England transplanted to the shore of Lake Erie."

In the Italian Gardens will be a bust of Virgil, supported by a granite column taken from the Roman Forum and donated by the Italian government.

The Polish Cultural Garden was dedicated in honor of the great composer, Frederick Chopin, and the Hungarian Garden in honor of Franz Liszt.

Of the 25 monuments erected only two are in honor of soldiers.

The other 23 are memorials to poets, writers, philosophers, musicians, composers, priests, statesmen and teachers.

VACUUM CLEANER USED AS DANDELION ERADICATOR

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. (UP)—Agent F. M. Webber of the Central Vermont Railway has found a means of ridding the station lawn of unwelcome dandelions.

His dandelion eradicator is nothing more than a vacuum cleaner rigged up with an extra long cord. With this device he collects the fuzzy seeds which in another year would have sprung to life in renewed yellow blossoms.

The seeds then are dumped from the vacuum cleaner bag and burned.
